Gravel Company Gets Injunction

An injunction order signed by Justice W. P. Hall of the Mass. Superior Court was served on Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Chester Ricker on City Treasurer Newhall. The order was addressed to officers, employees and agents of the City of Newton and read as follows:

"Whereas, it has been represented unto us in our Superior Court, by George S. Wilbur of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, Herman C. Estey and James P. Estey all of said Newton, and Highland Sand & Gravel Company, Inc., a Massachusetts Corporation having an usual place of business in said Boston, plaintiffs,

"That they, said plaintiffs have filed a bill of complaint in our said Court against you, the said City of Newton wherein said plaintiffs, among other things, pray for a Writ of Injunction against you, the said defendant, City of Newton to restrain you and the persons before named from doing certain acts and things in said bill set forth, and hereinafter particularly specified and mentioned.

"We, therefore, in consideration of the premises, do strictly enjoin and command you, the said defendant, City of Newton and all and every the persons before named, to desist and refrain from excluding motor trucks or other motor vehicles from Dedham street between Wiswall road and Parker street in said Newton; or from posting in or adjacent to said Dedham street notices excluding motor trucks or motor vehicles from use in said Dedham street between said Wiswall road and said Parker street in said Newton.

"Until the further order of said court, or some Justice thereof."

Final arguments by Wilbur's attorney and City Solicitor Bartlett were presented on Tuesday before Bennett Sanderson, master appointed to hear evidence on the gravel pit litigation. Wilbur's attorneys asked that Sanderson change his report before submitting it to the Superior Court.

Luitwieler Favors Restraint of Dogs

A hearing was held at the State House last Thursday before the Committee on Cities on a bill which would compel owners of dogs to keep such animals in restraint at all times. Representative Clarence Luitwieler of Newton Highlands filed the bill.

At the hearing Mr. Luitwieler spoke in favor of the bill. He said the present law does not give municipal authorities sufficient control over dogs. The proposed law would authorize any policeman, constable or dog officer to seize any dog found outside the yard of its owner unless the dog were muzzled, on a leash or otherwise in immediate control of the owner or keeper. The dog would be taken to a pound and restrained until called for. A fee would be imposed on the owner. Charles W. Bond of Newton Centre argued against the proposed law. Mr. Bond was one of several Newton Centre dog owners whose pets were recently ordered restrained.

Annual Show To Aid Scouts Of Newtonville

Billed as an "Old Fashioned Vaudeville Show", the Third Annual Entertainment of the Sixth Norumbega Group, Boy Scouts of America, of Newtonville, which is being produced on Friday, Apr. 2, at the F. A. Day Junior High School, shows promise of being an even greater financial success than its sponsors had hoped, according to General Daniel Needham, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Group.

Latest reports from the Chairman of the Finance Committee, Frederick B. Eastman, show gross receipts well over the goal which was set at the beginning of the ticket campaign. Much of this success is due to the efforts of the Patron's Ticket Committee, headed by Mrs. Howard Thomas, and to the efforts of John B. DuPont and his Program Advertising Committee.

The show will consist of a number of feature vaudeville acts promising variety sufficient to amuse an audience of all ages and tastes. There will be acrobatic tumblers, dancers and musicians, according to Edward Gough, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee. "Mora", who made such a hit last year with his feats of magic and slight of hand, will appear again in response to popular demand.

The proceeds of the show will be divided, part to complete the outfitting of the Scout Building in Newtonville, where some two hundred and fifty Boy and Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies meet each week for enthusiastic participation in their programs, and part toward a new cabin for the Boy Scouts of Troop Six, to be built this spring at Nobscot, the week-end camp reservation of the Norumbega Council.

Plans for the cabin, as submitted by J. Hartley Stackhouse, Chairman of the Cabin Committee, call for a one story building twenty-eight feet by sixteen feet, divided into a comfortable bunk and living room with a large field-stone fireplace, and well arranged kitchen. There will be sleeping accommodations for ten boys and leaders. The cabin will be built of log cabin siding and is patterned after the old-time backwoods cabins of northern Maine, with low sloping roof lines, batten doors and rustic trim. The hardware will be cast iron. Christopher Crowell of Newtonville is the architect.

Three Drawn For Jury Duty

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night to draw three names, owners of which must serve as jurors at sessions of the Superior Court in Cambridge this month. The names drawn were those of Andrew Darcy, 25 Green st., Newton; Carleton Parker, 45 Warren st., Newton Centre; Freeman Howes, 60 Waban park, Newton.

Cars Collide, Driver Arrested

Carl Gerlach, 44, of 1095 South st., Needham, was arrested on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor shortly after midnight Saturday night following a collision between his car and a car driven by David Pokross of 120 Garland rd., Newton Centre. The crash occurred at the intersection of Needham and Winchester sts., Newton Highlands. After the collision Gerlach's car travelled about 70 feet and knocked down a gasoline pump in the nearby Texaco filling station. Gerlach was arrested by Patrolmen Charlton and McKenna. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until April 5. Pokross' wife and daughter, and James Leavitt, also riding with him, claimed to have received injuries.

Study Rezoning Of Upper Falls

The proposed rezoning of Newton Upper Falls progressed another step last Saturday afternoon when members of the Board of Aldermen and Newton Planning Board, in company with City Engineer Harvey, made a tour of the district. The group included Aldermen Rawson and Walker of the Claims and Rules Committee, Aldermen Temperley and McKay of Ward 5, James Kingman and Herbert Kellaway of the Planning Board, and Lewis P. Everett.

The matter of rezoning Newton Upper Falls received impetus recently when a petition was presented to the Board of Aldermen asking that a parcel of land on Elliot st. be changed from residence to business zone. It was shown at the hearing on this petition that an unusually large area of land at Upper Falls is zoned for business; much more proportionately than in other villages of Newton. A large percentage of the areas zoned for business at Upper Falls are entirely (or almost entirely) occupied by residences. Last year a large part of the Nonantum district, which had previously been zoned for manufacturing, was rezoned to general and private residence. It has since been the opinion of persons interested in Upper Falls, that this district should also have protection against undesirable business intrusions in residential neighborhoods.

The Upper Falls Improvement Association will hold a meeting on April 22nd at which the rezoning matter will be discussed. It is probable that on the following week there will be a hearing at City Hall before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen, and the Planning Board.

More Traffic Signals Planned

A number of additional traffic signals have been recommended by Street Commissioner Mahoney with the approval of Mayor Childs and Police Chief Hughes. It is understood that the Finance Committee of the Aldermen will recommend the approval for the signals. Signals to be installed at Washington and Jewett sts., Newton, and Watertown and Adams sts., Nonantum. A number of fatal accidents have occurred at both these spots. The cost of the signal at Jewett st. is estimated at $1235; that at Watertown and Adams st. at $990. The other traffic signals are to be located at Walnut and Concord sts., cost $2754; Washington and Concord sts., cost $1379; Beacon and Walnut sts., cost $3007; Washington and Elm sts., cost $2600.

Stole Three Cars, Wrecked Two, Put On Probation

Malcolm Reardon, 16, of 18 Lakeville rd., Jamaica Plain was tried in the juvenile session of the Newton court last Friday for stealing an automobile. He was sentenced to Shirley Industrial School, but the sentence was suspended and Reardon was placed on probation until September 11. Reardon was one of four youths who on the night of March 11th stole an automobile in Boston. This car was wrecked against a pole on Brookline st. in this city. Reardon and his companions then stole a car owned by John Janse, which was parked on Greenwood st., nearby. John A. Janse, Jr. pursued the stealers of his father's car to Wellesley, where the fugitives wrecked the Janse car when they crashed into another automobile. Young Janse grabbed two of the car thieves, but they broke away from him. Some of the quartet ceased their operations in Wellesley, but another car was stolen in that town in which Reardon was captured the following morning by police of Darien, Connecticut.

Young Vandals Break Monuments In Old Cemetery

Fourteen head stones and monuments at the old South Burial Ground on Winchester st., Newton Highlands, near the junction with Needham st., have been destroyed or tipped over since last November by a gang of eleven boys who reside on Winchester and Needham sts. in the neighborhood of the old cemetery. In addition, some of the boys have admitted breaking into the old tombs in this cemetery. The boys ages range from 8 to 13 years. The vandalism was discovered on Palm Sunday by Patrolman Harold Hoyt. Since then Hoyt and Patrolman K. Taffe have been conducting an investigation and have obtained admissions from some of the boys involved. Two stones in the cemetery show distinct marks where an iron bar was used to push them over. One of these stones was broken. The other, a monument of considerable size, evidently required considerable work on the part of the young vandals who pulled the iron bar, before he succeeded in tipping the stone over. A 10 year old boy has admitted using the bar on the head stones.

The South Burying Place, as it was known to Newton residents of a century ago, was laid out in the summer of 1802. A meeting of inhabitants of that part of Newton was held on June 21, 1802 and a committee consisting of Edward Mitchell, Jeremiah Wiswall, Jr., and Ebenezer Cheney selected to buy a piece of land. A lot of land containing about three-quarters of an acre was purchased near the corner of Dedham (Winchester st.) and Sherburne (Needham st.) rds. from Capt. David Richardson. It was divided into 29 equal plots for the family burial places of the original owners. The proprietors sold out to the town in 1833, reserving the right to bury in their respective family lots. In 1833 Amasa Winchester presented to the town about 3/4 of an acre of adjoining land to enlarge the cemetery.

For 134 years several generations of Newton boys have shown respect for the dead buried there. It remained for the gang of boys now residing near the old burial place to violate this hallowed spot in which were interred some of those who resided in the South Side of this city in Colonial days.

Newton Dogs Bite More Persons

Robert Rottenberg, 13, of 85 Woodchester drive, Chestnut Hill was severely bitten last Friday by a dog owned by Dr. Philip E. Meltzer of 40 Woodchester drive. The boy was riding his bicycle near his home when attacked by the dog, a Doberman Pinscher. The boy alighted from the bicycle and fled toward his home, the dog pursuing him. Young Rottenberg received bites on both legs. He was treated by Dr. G. R. Baxter of Beacon st. The boy was attacked a couple of months ago by the same dog. The animal was ordered restrained. Last Friday a dog owned by Salvatore Giordano of 29 Auburndale ave., West Newton, bit Walter Burke of 57 Henshaw st. Giordano was ordered to keep the dog restrained.

In the Newton court last Saturday fines of $5 each were imposed on the following for speeding: Marjorie Mortimer, 18, Somerset road, Lexington; Richard Arnold, 20, Washington street, Belmont; Clinton Tylee, Jr., 23 Bigelow rd., West Newton.

Asks That Spear Estate Be Improved

Alderman Frank T. McCabe of Ward 1 sent the following letter to Mayor Childs on March 29:—

"Dear Mr. Mayor:—
"The Spear property was accepted by the Board of Aldermen for the City of Newton on October 5, 1936, and I understand met with your approval on October 7, 1936. Since that time almost 6 months have elapsed, and as far as I can see nothing has been done in regard to this property. May I request your consideration in this matter? In your consideration may I also recommend that you please consider naming the property 'Spear Park' in honor of the generous donor, and at the same time the drinking fountain be installed in this park with a suitable inscription showing that the park and the fountain were donated by Miss Spear."

Very respectfully,
FRANK T. MCCABE.

Mayor Childs sent the following letter to Alderman McCabe in reply:—

"Dear Alderman McCabe:—
"Thank you for your letter in regard to the Spear property. I think that your suggestions can be carried out literally, but I also think that before doing anything on the real estate we had better wait until the Spear estate is entirely settled and all inheritance taxes paid. There is one matter pending before the court on a petition for instructions from the executors, so that the estate has not been closed. I shall make a move at the earliest possible moment."

Yours very truly,
EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

The Spear property in question is located at the corner of Washington st. and Walnut park, Newton. It contains about 14,000 square feet of land and a dwelling about a century old. Miss Elizabeth Spear donated the property to the city to be used as a "green spot". She specified that the house on the property might remain, if some practical use could be found for it, but, no other building should be erected on the land. Miss Spear, many years conducted a private school in Newton. For nearly a half century she was active in aiding the poor in Newton.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

John K. Griffin, 23, of 1049 Beacon st., Boston, was arrested by Patrolmen Barry and Boudrot of the Metropolitan police at 2 a. m. Tuesday morning after the car he was driving nearly hit a car in which two Metropolitan policemen were riding. When Griffin was arraigned in Newton court later that morning he was honest. Unlike many drunken drivers he did not ask for a continuance of the case so that he could attempt to be found not guilty. Griffin admitted that he had been drinking champagne. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 by Judge Allen for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Hydrant Broken By Alleged Drunken Motorist

Much excitement was caused on Walnut street, Newton Centre, opposite the Newton Cemetery on Sunday afternoon when an alleged drunken autoist drove a car into a hydrant and caused a gushing fountain to waste a huge amount of water. A car driven by Dr. Francis J. Malumphy, 30, of 945 Great Plain avenue, Needham, knocked over the hydrant and a torrent of water, 30 feet high, flooded Walnut street for a considerable distance, seriously impeding the heavy Sunday afternoon traffic on Route 128. The car in which Malumphy and a woman companion were riding was caught under the geyser-like deluge of water. Patrolman Joe Charlton of the Newton police was motoring by and went to the rescue of Malumphy and his woman passenger, Charlton, on duty, had his Sunday suit of clothes spoiled in the task. Incidentally, he was well drenched himself. Patrolmen Dowling and Hoyt arrived at the scene in a police car. They arrested Malumphy on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. The Watertown woman who was riding with him was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

Water Department employees were notified and in about a half hour had succeeded in shutting off gates which stopped the gushing of water from the broken hydrant. In the meantime an estimated 144,000 gallons of water had been wasted, the nearby street damaged and water supply of houses in the section stopped. Malumphy was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until April 14. The Water Department will charge him with about $22 for the water wasted, and $125 for the hydrant which was destroyed.

Bishop Spellman Awarded Title

Bishop Francis J. Spellman, pastor of Sacred Heart Church at Newton Centre, was officially presented on Wednesday with the title of "Grand Officer of the Crown of Italy." Guido Segre, Italian consul at Boston, made the award at a meeting held in Sacred Heart Parochial School. Joseph Milford, president of the class of 1937, and Fred Condon, president of the class of 1938, made congratulatory speeches and presented bouquets of flowers to the bishop and Consul Segre. The school chorus sang. Among those who attended the ceremony were Judge Frank Leveroni, John Cifirino, Paul Cifirino, Peter Borre, Judge Felix Forte, Everett Crawford, Michael Fredo and Charles Ruggiero.

Nonantum Woman Found Drowned

Mrs. Lucy M. Butler, 59, wife of William Butler of 11 Jasset st., Nonantum, was found drowned in the Charles River, about a quarter of a mile from her home on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. The woman had been in poor health and her physician had recommended that she go to a hospital. She left her home about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and when she did not return within a couple of hours, her aged husband started to look for her. He informed a neighbor, Samuel Longbottom of 244 California st. of his wife's disappearance. Longbottom walked along the river bank and observed Mrs. Butler's body in shallow water about 30 feet from shore. He notified Serg. Daniel Cleary of the Newton police, and Cleary notified headquarters. Patrolman Murphy of the Metropolitan police brought a boat to the place and the body was recovered. Mrs. Butler is survived by her husband, and three sisters. Her funeral service was held on Thursday at North Congregational Church, Nonantum.

John Janse Finds 21 Stolen Pigs

John A. Janse of Greenwood st., Oak Hill, who for the past 10 years has had the contract for collecting garbage in this city, turned detective this week and traced 21 young pigs which had been stolen from his piggery at Woburn. The collection of garbage usually involves the raising of piggies where many hundreds of little pigs and big hogs are kept. Much of the garbage collected in Newton is not edible (even for pigs), but, some of it is. By serving as food for the thousands of pigs which have been raised by Mr. Janse, it affords him an additional source of revenue, permits him to collect garbage in this city at a much lower contract price than he would otherwise have to charge, and thus redounds to the benefit of Newton taxpayers.

Of necessity, piggeries must be located in isolated places where their aroma will not annoy nearby neighbors. This excluding of piggeries makes it easy for thieves at night to raid piggeries and steal young pigs. There are organized bands of pig thieves, just as there are gangs of hen thieves. There are fences who buy stolen pigs, just as there are fences who buy stolen jewelry and stolen cigarettes. For years pigs have been stolen from Janse; a couple at a time from each of the different yards at his piggeries. This persistent thievery irked Mr. Janse, but he bore it as one of the risks of his business. But, when last Friday Janse went to his Woburn piggery and found that some thieves had emptied one yard there of all its inhabitants, 22 healthy young pigs, his patience became exhausted and his dander arose. Janse started to get busy and got on the trail of the stolen pigs. That he has detective ability was proved by the fact that two days later, on Easter Sunday, he located the missing porkers in South Boston.

"Pigs is pigs" to most persons, so, when Janse took South Boston police to a stable at West Ninth st. in that district and accused Edward Dooley, the owner of the place of having 21 of the 22 pigs which had been stolen in Woburn, the police were somewhat sceptical as to Janse's ability to identify his property. There were two other pigs at Dooley's stable, but, Janse said these two were not his. He stated that he knew his pigs. It seems that pigs are "tagged", or branded, even as cattle are branded on the big rumpes out West. The pigs are branded when they are inoculated against disease, and Janse's pigs have a quite distinct brand. Dooley told the police that he had purchased the pigs from William B. Powers of Lexington. From South Boston a parade of automobiles and trucks, police and pigs, Janse and Dooley, proceeded to Lexington, where Powers was picked up, and thence to Woburn. Powers claimed the 21 pigs came from his piggery and that he had only temporarily domiciled them at Dooley's pig boarding house. Dooley stated that he had bought the pigs from Powers for $75. Janse said the current market value of the juvenile hogs is $175.

Powers was arraigned in the Woburn court on Tuesday charged with the theft of the pigs. His attorney asked for a continuance of two weeks. The judge compromised by continuing the case until April 6.

Autos Hit Trees, Drivers Injured

A car driven by Miss Beverly Shapiro of Kansas City hit two trees opposite 252 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill, last Friday night. The woman received slight injuries and was treated by Dr. William Breed.

A car driven by John Cotter, 21, of 80 Fuller st., Waban, hit a tree at the corner of Walnut and Mill sts., Newtonville, about 2 a. m. Saturday morning. The car then crashed into a pole. Cotter received injuries to his face and head and was taken to Newton Hospital by Patrolmen Charlton and Dwyer.

GOVERNOR HURLEY SIGNS BILL

Governor Charles F. Hurley this week affixed his signature to a law providing for a referendum to the people of Newton on biennial elections in this city. The law further provides that the voters of this city may express their preference as to whether members of the school committee shall serve for four years or for two years. The referendum on these questions will be before the voters at the city election next December. If a majority of the voters approve the plan it becomes effective in January and there will then be no city election in 1938. Thereafter the city election will be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November in odd-numbered years. This is the same date on which the state election falls in even numbered years.

We believe that the majority of Newton voters desire biennial elections in this city and we trust that various organizations and clubs will, during the coming months, give their many members every opportunity to discuss the many advantages of such a change in our elective methods.

MORE TRAFFIC SIGNALS

In these days of increasing motor traffic and highway congestion the ever present demand for more traffic lights provides a problem of city management which requires careful consideration. Recommendations are before the Aldermen for traffic lights at several important intersections. Among these are two additional points on Washington street which have long needed some form of control. Near Jewett and Church streets there have been numerous accidents and in the past year one fatality to a pedestrian. The plan to install a pedestrian controlled light at this point will meet with the approval of the many pedestrians who find the crossing most difficult as well as the hundreds of motorists who are confronted with the uncertain actions of many bewildered pedestrians. The installation of a traffic light at Washington and Elm streets in West Newton square has long been considered. The present traffic lights have been the subject of considerable controversy and unless the new lights are to be synchronized with them it is possible that further dissatisfaction will be voiced. The plan to install lights at the wide open intersection of Beacon and Walnut streets is one which will not meet with unanimous approval. While there have been numerous accidents at this point the simplest remedy for the problem is to make Beacon street a through way. While this proposal met with some objection when proposed a few years ago, Beacon street is actually a main through highway similar to Commonwealth avenue and Washington street. Making Beacon street a through way would control many intersections where conditions are hazardous, whereas the installation of traffic lights at the Walnut street intersection would control but one.

Complicated Auto Thefts In Newton

About 3 a.m. Tuesday as Patrolmen Smith and Turner were in a police car on Boylston street, near Parker street, they observed two cars proceeding toward Wellesley. One of the cars was being operated in an uncertain manner. The police gave chase and at Cloverdale Road overtook the zigzagging car. The second car turned around and went toward Brookline. The driver of the car, John Stempelki, 18, of 719 Cambridge street, Cambridge, was placed under arrest. The car was owned by Charles Monaghan of 54 Playstead Road, Newton. It had been stolen from Cambridge. On the car were number plates which had been stolen from the garage of Robert Spillman, 245 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, taken off Spillman's car. Also, in the car were a football and two baseball gloves which had been stolen from Spillman's garage. The plates belonging to Monaghan's car were found lying on the back seat of the automobile. The police took Stempelki to police headquarters at West Newton. When they returned to Boylston to recover Monaghan's car, they found that someone had preceded them and removed Spillman's stolen plates off the vehicle. They supposed it was some companion of Stempelki's who had been in the second car which they had observed traveling with the car Stempelki was operating. At 9 a. m. Tuesday, Max Weiss of 48 Marshall street, Newton Centre telephoned police headquarters that his car had been stolen from his garage during the night. As Weiss lives near Spillman, the police believe the car which accompanied that driven by Stempelki was the one stolen from Weiss's garage.

Serious Stabbing At Nonantum

Saturday night Nicholas Bibbo, 44, of 83 Faxon st., Nonantum was seriously stabbed in a store on Water-town st., Nonantum. His alleged assailant is Leonard Cupoli, 53, of 91 Los Angeles st., Nonantum. Both men are members of an organization which held a meeting on that night. An argument occurred at the meeting and it is alleged that Cupoli went to a nearby shoe repair shop, borrowed an awl and stabbed Bibbo a few times in the chest, one of the wounds being near the heart. Bibbo was treated by Dr. Hyman Shirer of Pearl st. Police were notified of the affair, but when they reached the scene both Bibbo and his alleged assailant had disappeared. Serg. Andrew Moran made an investigation of the assault and as a result a warrant for Cupoli's arrest was issued on Thursday morning.

Selects Cast For Legion Concert

At the Memorial Building last Sunday, Commander Leon H. Mayer, the director of the Legion Musical comedy "Hello Sailor", selected the entire cast for the entertainment, and assigned the leading parts. As the show will be staged on the evenings of April 15th and 16th at the Newton High School Auditorium, Director Mayer has the entertainers rehearsing twice a week, but starting with next week the number of rehearsals may be increased to three.

The show is in two parts, the first part being a street scene, and the second one is a night club arrangement, where singing, dancing, and comedy will be presented by a cast of over one hundred. The entire show was written by Mr. Mayer, as well as the theme song of the play entitled "Hello Sailor."

Among those taking a leading part is Claire Silva, prominent young dancer, who has appeared in many shows staged throughout Greater Boston. Another leading part will be taken by Alice Gallagher, the daughter of James Gallagher, Clerk of the Newton District Court. James Petrillo, Daniel Wilkerson, Daniel Kerr, and Edward O'Halloran are some of the others who will take a prominent part in the entertainment.

The general committee handling the show is composed of John B. Foley, chairman, Francis Frazier treasurer, Charles E. Walker tickets, N. Irving Patterson program, G. Henry Dath, John J. Foran, and J. Sherman Irving.

Virginia Kenway In Piano Recital At Reading

Invitations have been sent out by Mr. and Mrs. Albion Metcalf for a musical to be given at their home in Reading on Monday evening, April 5th, at which time Miss Virginia Kenway will give a recital of advanced music in an interesting program of advanced music for piano.

Miss Kenway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kenway of Framingham, formerly of Newtonville. For several years she studied with Lillian West, head of the piano department of the All Newton Music School, is a graduate of both the regular and normal courses of that school and is now a member of its faculty. She is also a graduate of the Solfege Course of the Longy School of Music in Cambridge and at present is an advanced pupil of Albion Metcalf of Boston, an outstanding teacher and authority on piano technique in music circles throughout New England.

Last summer while traveling in England, Miss Kenway gave several informal recitals which were received with much approval and appreciation by her English friends.

The program will include selections from Bach, Schumann, Chopin, Brahms and a group from modern composers. By request of many friends in Newton who are always anxious to hear her play, Miss Kenway has consented to repeat the recital on Monday, April 12th at 8:15 p. m. in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. A cordial invitation is extended to all lovers of good music to hear one of Newton's own talented young people.

Appeal For Books To Be Sent to Seamen

Fifteen years ago a little pile of worn-out books was deposited on the floor of a Boston warehouse to be distributed to the men of the American Merchant Marine. From this small start has grown an organization which last year placed more than a quarter of a million books and 150,000 magazines on board ships carrying the American flag to every major port in the world. This organization is the American Merchant Marine Library Association, often called the public library of the high seas. It distributes books not only to seamen, but also to the men of the light-house service and coast guard.

These men depend in good part on reading material from the Merchant Marine Library for recreation in their spare hours. Many of them also use the books to prepare themselves to pass examinations for a higher rating than they already hold. To thousands of ambitious men, the Library is the only means within their reach for continuing studies which, through no fault of their own, were broken off by necessity in early grammar school years.

There have been 3,600,000 books distributed to the seamen of the American merchant marine in the last 15 years. And still the seamen appeal for more.

To help in this work the Junior League of Boston is running its fifteenth annual drive for books. Books and magazines can be left during the week of the drive, which starts on Monday, April 5th, at the temporary headquarters at 122a Newbury street, Boston. Tel. Kenmore 1360. Or they can be left at the nearest public library marked "For Seamen."

APPEAL FOR MATERIALS

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that our playgrounds rank among the finest in the country but many of us may not know that our children have a reputation for making excellent handicraft from discarded materials.

Every year a plea is made asking housewives to save odds and ends gathered during the year—empty spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, Christmas cards, envelope linings, embroidery materials, wool or articles suitable for prizes. The answer to this plea is always generous and the materials aid in keeping five hundred young children busy and happy during the summer season. If you have a donation the playground truck will call for it at your home by appointment if you call the Playground Department, Centre Newton 4700.

Bandits Rob Store At Chestnut Hill

The Manet Pharmacy at 244 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, was robbed by three armed and masked bandits on last Friday night. When the trio entered the store Morris Snider of 149 Chiswick rd., Brighton, the proprietor, his brother, Harold Snider, a clerk, and William Reardon of 48 Beacon st., a customer, were in the drug store. They were forced into a back room. Finding the cash register locked, the bandits ordered about $100 from the cash register. The store is a postal sub-station and the robbers also stole about $20 in postoffice funds. After leaving the drug store, the three bandits entered an automobile which was parked nearby, and in which a fourth man was seated. The robbers were described by Snider as about 18 or 20 years of age and of medium height.

CHILDREN'S GUILD PARTY

The Children's Singing Guild of Newton Centre were given an Easter Party last Saturday afternoon, in the playground house by their director, Mrs. Russell. Some fifty boys and girls, with attendant mothers, enjoyed a bunny and chicken hunt, played games, danced old-time dances, and were entertained by Mr. F. H. Russell, of Brookline, who brought his famous doll, Johnny, and gave the audience many hearty laughs by his clever ventriloquism.

The drama here has been put for the two Newton Centre performances of the opera "Iolanthe", which will be presented in the Woman's Club auditorium, Friday evening, May 14th and a matinee the next afternoon, for children. The Guild has been invited to give the opera in Winthrop, May 22nd, under the auspices of the Methodist Church there, for the benefit also of the Wilbur Health Home in Natick, the charity for which the Newton Centre plays will be given.

Newton Republican, April 10, 1875

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday afternoon; Mayor Hyde in the chair. Petitions were received from the Boston & Albany Railroad for a permit to erect a new depot at West Newton; from R. M. Pulsifer et al of Auburndale stating that a lot of land presented to Newton by Thomas Hall and others in 1872 is in a discreditable condition, and should be laid out and graded in such a manner to secure to citizens the benefit of the park intended by the donors. A vote of thanks was received from the West Newton Congregational Society for the new carpet placed in their vestry by the city to replace the one worn out by the city while using the room. An order was offered that the Committee on Lights be authorized to purchase on Light Street, a lot of land of about 100 street lamps and 100 lamp posts at an expense not to exceed $2000.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Wednesday evening an order was passed authorizing the Committee on Public Property to cause national flags to be hoisted on all places under their control, and to employ some person in each Ward to ring the church bells half an hour at sunrise, noon and sunset on the 10th of April, the same to be charged to incidentals. Councilman Gilman of Ward 1 stated that two horses had been purchased, two exchanged and two bargained for at an expense of $2300; three more should be exchanged at a cost of $1000, and there would then remain $700 of the $5000 appropriated for horses in hands of the committee. This gives a stock of 30 horses for the highway department and 18 for the fire department.

Forty lodgers (tramps) were given lodgings at Police Station 1 in Newton last week. There were about 100 applicants, but as every man was obliged to take a turn at breaking stone in the morning, the remainder found their business suddenly called them further on, and the city was relieved from lodging them.

There was a spelling match at Nonantum Hall, Newton Corner on Tuesday evening and the hall was crowded with interested listeners. Upon the platform were ranged 25 ladies against 25 gentlemen. Mr. F. A. Waterhouse, master of the high school, was in charge of the contest. This contest was won by Carrie E. Snow, with Miss Williams of Preston Cottage School, second. A second match was at once held, with high school scholars on one side, and ladies and gentlemen from the audience on the other. Miss Daisy Smith was the last high school pupil to fail and three remained on the opposing side. "Tic-douloureux" was too much for one of these and the field was left to Mrs. A. D. Sampson and J. B. Goodrich, Esq. For twenty minutes these two fought the words, until "ophthalmia" was missed by Mrs. Sampson, leaving Mr. Goodrich the winner. He has unanimously asked that the first prize be given to Mrs. Sampson. We are glad to announce that Mrs. Pomroy's Home received $114.78 as the net proceeds of the night.

The West Newton depot was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. The fire was discovered at midnight by Officer Kennedy. A gas light in the depot had been turned toward the wall so as to set it on fire. An alarm was rung in and Steamer 2 was promptly on hand, but the fire reservoir near the depot was pumped dry within a few minutes. The fire gained rapidly. A second alarm was answered by Steamer 1 from Newton, which pumped from Cheese Cake Brook. The furniture and baggage were saved.

Newton Graphic, April 2, 1887

Captain Corey of the Brookline Bicycle Club has called a moonlight ride for next Tuesday evening for the purpose of visiting the Nonantum Bicycle Club in their new rooms at Masonic Block, Newtonville.

Fast Day inaugurates the annual burning of brush and refuse in Newton gardens, which generally continues for a month, and is an unmitigated nuisance. If it would be all done in one day, or one week, people could endure it without complaint.

Mr. Arthur Hudson, who is now the senior druggist in Newton, has found it necessary to enlarge his chemical laboratory in order to have room for his large and increasing business. He has fitted up a room in the basement of his store at Centre and Elmwood sts. for the preparation of the medicines he uses in his business, and for his extensive work as an analytical chemist.

The janitor of Armory Hall at Newton has received orders from Adjutant General Dalton to enforce the law prohibiting armories from being used except by military companies. According to this order, the city has no right to use the hall for Read Fund Lectures, fairs, or even the high school battalion drills.

Powers' Paragraphs

The drivers of coal trucks and oil tank trucks in Greater Boston have gone out on strike for a 40-hour week and other concessions. We are not taking issue on this strike, but, we hope that the drivers will insist that they shall make no deliveries on Sundays. We have, in recent years, observed oil trucks delivering oil to private residences on Sundays. There is no more reason why fuel oil should be delivered on Sundays than coal or other commodities should be delivered. If any householder is careless or indifferent enough to allow the fuel supply to become exhausted over a Saturday night, let that household shiver for a day, and the fuel supply will then receive more attention. Range oil in small quantities is regularly delivered in Newton on Sundays, in violation of the law. Ice cream trucks should also be prohibited from making deliveries on Sundays.

We were surprised to read of the hearing at the State House the past week on a bill filed by Representative Luitwieler of this city which seeks to compel dogs to be kept in control of their owners or keepers at all times, unless a dog wears a muzzle. The bill was filed by Mr. Luitwieler at the request of Newton citizens whose small dogs were attacked and killed by large dogs. Mr. Luitwieler spoke in favor of the bill. Charles W. Bond of Newton Centre, owner of a dog now under order of restraint because it trespassed on a neighbor's lawn, opposed the bill. It is not probable that the bill will be passed by the Legislature. The contention will be made that there are sufficient existing laws to properly control dogs.

There are laws which provide for the control of dogs and for the punishment of dog owners who do not license such animals, or who keep barking or biting dogs. But, like many other laws, those pertaining to dogs are not enforced. The laws provide that mayors of cities or selectmen of towns shall designate a policeman or constable to serve as a dog officer. These dog officers are supposed, according to law, to seek out within 10 days after June 1st, all dogs which have not been licensed, tagged, collared, or harnessed, according to law, to enter complaints against the owners or keepers of such dogs, if known; and at the end of 6 days, unless the impounded dog shall have been claimed, licensed and collared by its owner, to kill or sell it.

This law has been ignored in Newton. We have been told a dog officer was appointed in Newton a few years ago. If so, he has not performed the duties incumbent on this office. Whatever complaints have been made against dogs have been made to the police, and the police have prosecuted owners of unlicensed, barking or biting dogs. But, the police have made no organized round up of unlicensed, untaged and uncollared dogs as provided by law. The result has been—and is, that there are hundreds of unlicensed dogs in Newton, running unrestrained and annoying many residents of this city. Newton is not a city of large estates as it was a generation ago. It has become a thickly settled community and the many hundreds of dogs running around uncontrolled are causing more and more complaints. It is about time that the Mayor sees to it that Newton will have a dog officer who will be regularly active in the performance of the duties assigned to this office. If and when this is done, there will be less ill feeling in many neighborhoods.

The Newton police are asking for a day off in every seven days. This is a reasonable request. The police now get one day off in eight, theoretically. But, the police have been performing much overtime duty in addition to their regular tours of duty. Once a week night policemen must perform school traffic duty. This traffic duty is done by men who worked on the first half the preceding night and whose tour of duty ended at 1 a. m. At 8 a. m. the same morning they must report at the school traffic posts and work until 8:30. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays they must also do traffic duty between the hours of 11:30 to 12:15; 1:30 to 1:50; 3:30 to 4:00; on Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:30 to 12:15 and 1:00 to 1:30.

Frequently policemen who do school traffic duty between 8:00 and 8:30, must then go to court and spend the rest of the morning there, returning to the school traffic duty at 11:30. It has been suggested several times in the past that intelligent men on the WPA lists be assigned to school traffic duty. This has been done by the WPA in other cities.

According to George Rogers, City Forester, Newton is threatened with the worst plague of gypsy moths in 30 years. Employees of the Forestry Department have been busy the past week in the Oak Hill district where thousands of nests of the gypsy moths have been observed. The Forestry Department men coat the egg clusters with creosote. Notice was given last autumn to property owners (in accordance with law) warning them to take measures to eliminate any gypsy moth nests on their properties. If owners did not do so, public employees are obliged to inspect properties and use the creosote on the nests. A maximum charge of 1/2 of one percent of the value of the property can be assessed for such work, although this limit is seldom reached. If owners of properties later desire their trees sprayed, they may have this work done by making application to the Forestry Department at City Hall. It is expected that the moth will hatch much earlier than usual this spring.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Fortune Tellers

An almanac has always interested me because it is supposed to reveal the future. Meteorological happenings arouse me just so far. However, I have learned to prepare for whatever may be in store there is little left to do. But there is still enough Gypsy in me to cast a longing eye at fortune telling, either by cards, tea-cup reading, dreams, numerology, palmistry or the stars. A book dealing with all these kept me engrossed until a late hour the other night. The author, Diana Hawthorne, lets us in on so many fascinating possibilities that I scarcely know which to choose.

I feel, though, that as I have spoken of almanacs I ought to bring this little discussion of ours up to date. I can say, on the authority of this very entertaining volume, to those born around this period of the year, or to be more exact, to those whose birth date is between March 27 and April 9 that they are impulsive, energetic, generous and possessed of marked business ability. Whether they agree or not they are also fond of travel and have a desire to serve in the Army, Navy or Air Forces. The most important events of their lives will occur in the Spring and their fateful day is Tuesday. Furthermore, their colors are tawny, red, yellow and orange and their jewels diamond, bloodstone and topaz. Anything else they may wish to know will be conveyed on application to the book's pages.

It Happened in Newton

Another telephone story has drifted this way but it doesn't reflect on the service but rather on some bold youths. These latter entered a dwelling from which the occupants were temporarily absent. They may not have been thieves, as nothing seemed to have been stolen, but they were certainly noisy.

When the phone rang one of them answered. It was the owner calling to see if a painter to whom he had given the key was at work.

"Is this the painter?" came the inquiry.

"No," was the answer, "is there any message?"

"Message!" thundered the angry owner. "Who the devil are you and what are you doing in my house?"

"O, I just dropped in," came the reply, followed by replacing the receiver.

Hard to Figure

No doubt a lot of money was saved

the State and its cities and towns this past winter because there was no call for great expenditures for snow removal. However, the snowing, after having road impressively reports from road experts, what individuals have to say. In my own case a sturdy pair of overshoes has remained unused for nearly a year, except on one occasion and I can't recall the circumstances. Early in the fall I bought a quantity of sand, thinking that there would be icy paths to be made safe. The supply was hardly touched. The several implements for removing snow were practically idle. These things, therefore, showed no depreciation, if that's the word.

As to further economies made possible by mild weather I am wondering how far I should go. Is it fair to count fuel costs? What about the woolen gloves I seldom wore? As I own no sports togetery the snowless days did not mean anything to me in that connection. Frankly, I'd like to join the chorus, "Look what money I saved this winter," but I don't know how to distinguish between necessities that were and that might have been. If I had mastered an advanced course in bookkeeping I could no doubt reveal a noteworthy achievement.

Odds and Ends

A friend has promised me unlimited sport if I will only permit him to interest me in "chin golf." This, as I understand it, is exclusively a masculine pastime as it exemplifies the art of shaving oneself with the least possible number of strokes. It would be highly satisfactory to become skilled in that line, but with me it is one objective at a time. For years I have been trying to play bridge while the radio's loud-speaker is blasting and the struggle is still on.

To turn abruptly to the serious, and very much so, if you ask me, is to consider the appeal of the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society Inc., which urges the public to refrain from buying from vendors on the street and elsewhere the trailing arbutus. This is the State flower and its life in Massachusetts is seriously in danger. Greed causes people to pull up yards more of the plant than they need to offer for sale a small bunch. Such commercialism should be promptly and effectively discouraged.

More fun and laughter are supplied by a young newspaper reporter, played by Paul Fowler. Teagle, the butler, is taken by Fred MacMillan, and Cynthia, the maid, by Barbara Doten. The vamp of the story is portrayed by Ruth Jones. The part of a motherly middle-aged aunt is played by Ruth Carter, and that of Sue, her younger daughter, sweet but dumb, is filled by Jean Jordan.

GEORGE P. STUART, Consulting Architect

This feature section is designed to help readers with problems pertaining to home modernizing and general building. During the past few years there have been many improvements made in building products, furnishings and construction methods, that makes for comfort, attractiveness and permanency, and we hope to present articles along these lines from week to week.

Most homes need improvements of one kind or another, and people are interested in bringing their residence up-to-date. Modernizing of various kinds can do much to make the home more enjoyable. The field for new building in Newton has steadily increased with over four million dollars expended last year for building construction. At present many fine estates are being developed in various sections and for those planning to build we hope to be of service.

Churches throughout the City require more or less attention. Masonry walls need repointing and waterproofing to stop further deterioration. New painting, decorating, windows and furnishings are needed. Much can be done to other buildings to make them of more value. Improved store fronts and renovations are continually in demand.

We trust the articles presented will be helpful and that readers will feel free to call for information and estimates, upon those companies who make this section possible. Requests for advice on modernizing and general building may be sent to the consulting architect.

Planting Hints

Soil Preparation for Evergreens

Evergreens as a whole prefer a sandy loam rich in humus and porous enough to permit good drainage. Clay or heavy soils should be lightened by mixing in Peat Moss or sand and well-rotted manure containing a good deal of straw. Extremely sandy soils may be improved by adding some Peat Moss, clay or heavy loam and well-rotted manure. Wherever it is possible, prepare the soil, but if this can't be done, select the plant that will grow best under your conditions.

If the plants are to be arranged in groups, as they often are around the foundation of a house, and the soil is fairly good, it is well to prepare the entire area to be planted. This should be dug to a depth of 18 inches or more and the soil thoroughly turned over, removing roots, stones and other objectionable matter. Very frequently we find that contractors use rubbish of all kinds for filling around the foundations of new houses. This rubbish and especially plaster, is harmful to the plants and must be removed. If a soil is poor it is a wise investment to remove it and have it replaced with good soil. Your plants will then have not only a much better chance to live, but will have food for years to come. A healthy plant is a joy, but a sickly plant is worse than none.

FIRE INSURANCE A GOOD INVESTMENT

The average business man feels that it is good economy to carry adequate insurance on his property but with the drop in real estate values came a deduction in policies and although building costs have risen in the past couple of years many have not increased their insurance proportionately and in case of fire would find the replacement cost higher. Inadequate insurance coverage has caused many heart breaks.

This situation is prevalent with Churches not because of lack of interest in the Church property but because of insufficient knowledge as to the proper replacement value of the Church plant.

It has been the practice of many Churches to carry insurance based on an assumed appraisal and where the structure is fairly old the insurance carried is far below what it would cost to replace it in case of fire.

The basis for figuring the replacement cost on a building is by arriving at the cubical contents of the structure. Multiply total ground floor area by height of building. The height should be taken from the ground floor area by height of building. The height should be taken from the ground to top of roof for flat roofs or to one third up on pitch roofs. The price per cubic foot would depend upon the character of the building, type of construction, etc. The charge for making an appraisal does not involve a great expense. Furnishings and movable equipment are of course figured separately.

Questions and Answers

Mr. Stuart will be pleased to answer questions relating to home modernizing and building. Inquiries may be addressed to him c/o Newton Graphic.

I have a colonial type house with a sun room at one end and would appreciate your suggestion regarding an open porch. I feel the open porch on older houses provide considerable comfort that modern houses do not have.

The chief reason why houses today are built without open porches on the front is because of the style architecture followed and second because there is no privacy with a front porch. However every house should have an open porch either at the side or rear depending upon location. On a colonial house an open porch might be built to balance the sun room at opposite end providing other conditions are right. An open porch of the rear of a sun room is pleasant, especially if it overlooks the garden.

We are having trouble with putty falling out of our glass doors and wondering what can be done to stop it?

The glass in a door should be held in with wood beads. This is one of the little things where some builders try to save a few dollars at the future expense of the owner. It is one of the many things that a prospective owner should watch.

Our casement windows on the weather side leak badly at times. Can you offer some way to fix them?

Good metal weatherstripping is of course the best way to remedy your casement windows. If they swing in it is more difficult to make them absolutely tight than if they open out. Proper weatherstripping and drip caps on the bottom rails should bring results.

What kind of fertilizer would you suggest for lawns?

Two of the best fertilizers for lawns are bone meal and Milorganite. They not only provide the proper nourishment but help keep weeds out that are often times increased by using other fertilizers. Like all fertilizers care should be taken not to burn grass by feeding it too generously.

There is nothing more beautiful than a nice lawn.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Golden Anniversary To Be Celebrated In Pageantry

The Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold the Annual Business Meeting and election of officers on Friday morning, April 9th, at 11:30 o'clock. Singing by the Club Chorus, under the direction of Madame Apolline Blair, will be followed by the luncheon at 1:15. The Golden Anniversary Program will be given at 2:30.

The committee in charge of the program for the afternoon consists of Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, chairman; Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, Dramatic coach; Mrs. Harold R. Kellar, dramatic executive; Mrs. John W. Merrill, Musical director; Mrs. William E. Shedd, Exhibits; Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Program; Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Historical advisor; Costume committee, Mrs. Elmer W. Davis, Mrs. Thomas B. Booth, Mrs. George A. Holmes, Miss Hannah Bond, Mrs. Fred D. Fowler, and Mrs. Percy Frost; Stage Properties, Mrs. Harry M. Sutton and Mrs. William L. Doten; and Stage Lighting, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Noetzel.

The outstanding events of the Newton Centre Woman's Club from the organization day, February 25th, 1887, at the home of Mrs. A. R. Dyer, on Pelham street, through to the present, have been written into a Pageant-Playlet, entitled "The Spirit of Fifty Years", by Emily Coolidge Reid. The Prologue, The Episodes of the Five Decades, and The Epilogue, together with the music will be portrayed by over a hundred Club members. The original charter members had been working for the Charles Ward Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, and at the suggestion of some of the business men had given a large and successful fair at the Methodist Church for the benefit of the veterans. The group of twenty-six ladies consisted of representatives from each of the four churches in the village. The suggestion, made by Mrs. Charles Grout to form a permanent organization and keep the same officers, was accepted. Mrs. Robert R. Bishop was the first president and presided at the first meeting. Mrs. Charles Grout drew up the first constitution March 25th, 1887.

Two charter members are living today, Mrs. A. H. Leonard, of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. John H. Sanborn, of Los Angeles, Calif. Special guests of the day will be Mrs. Leonard, and the fourteen living past Club presidents: Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Mrs. Henry H. Kendall, Mrs. William E. Shedd, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Miss Edith Gammons, Mrs. Frank N. Nathan, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. Willard Dalrymple, Mrs. Frederick M. Gibson, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. Alden H. Spear, and Mrs. George Willard Smith.

Mrs. John M. Kimball, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Benjamin Dwight Miller, Twelfth District director; and Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, first vice-president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the featured guests of honor for the day. The exhibits will consist of fifty years ago, pictures of the past presidents and of the present president, programs and Year Books of the fifty years and many of the legal documents pertaining to the growth of the Club.

Reservations for the Annual Luncheon for members only may be made with Mrs. Arthur H. Brooks, Telephone Centre Newton 3846, before April 7th. The usual guest privilege will be extended for the afternoon performance for the regular guest fee of 50 cents for each ticket.

Drama of News Topic of Boston Editor

Ray Kierman, Author, Radio-commentator, and City Editor of the Boston Herald-Traveler, will be the speaker at the next regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, which will be held in the Congregational Parish House on Tuesday, April 6th, at 2:30. Mr. Kierman's subject will be "The Drama of News in the Making." This should prove exceptionally interesting as very few people are conversant with the intricate details of newspaper publishing, and all who have listened to Mr. Kierman report that his address is most fascinating.

On April 7th, at 4 p. m., at the Workshop, there will be a lecture by Dr. Henry B. Elkind, Medical Director of the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene, on the subject "Social Psychology of Adolescence." Admission is 50 cents. This is one of a series of lectures which have proven exceedingly interesting and helpful. Members should notice that the hour on the Club Bulletin is an error. These lectures are open to all.

Garden Lecture Open To The Public

On Saturday, April 10th, at 2 p. m., Mrs. Samuel R. Kirkwood will lecture on "Wild Flowers in the Fields and in Our Gardens", using her own beautiful slides.

Mrs. Kirkwood is an authority on the subject, having degrees from the Cambridge School of Architecture, Wellesley College, and a Master's degree from Smith College. She taught two years at the Lathrop School, and she is a member of the Wild Flower Preservation Society.

This lecture is offered by the Garden and Conservation committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club free to all Club members, to the public, to school children, and to flower lovers.

Costume Recital Of Folk Songs

A musical program will provide entertainment for the Newton Community Club members at the meeting on Thursday, April 8th, at 2 p. m., in the Underwood School Hall.

Miss Isabelle Jones, Soprano, will present a varied program of folk songs, which will be illustrated by her authentic costumes. Miss Jones is of Welsh parentage, and her frequent visits to the British Isles have given her an intelligent understanding of the songs of Wales and Old England. There will be a Table-Setting Contest sponsored by the Art, American Home, and Conservation committees. A social hour and Food Sale will conclude the afternoon's program.

Famous Service Sets Displayed

On Thursday, March 25th, the Newton Community Club had the pleasure of hearing Miss Laura Lorenson's Illustrated Lecture on "The Magic of the Potter's Wheel." Miss Lorenson has visited many of the famous potteries in Europe. She told, specifically, of her visit to the pottery at Stoke-on-Trent, Staffordshire, England, founded by Josiah Spode.

Miss Lorenson began her lecture by quoting a verse written about Hugh Walpole, a collector of china:

"China is the passion of his soul—a cup, a plate, a dish, a bowl can kindle a wish in his breast, inflame with joy, or break his rest." She showed motion pictures which she had taken depicting the manufacture of pottery from the mixing of the materials, through moulding, glazing, and firing, to the packing.

To make her lecture most complete Miss Lorenson had a beautiful exhibition of Spode bone china, stone china, and earthenware. There was a group of plates in this collection showing the pattern used by Royalty and by other prominent European and American families. Outstanding among these were the service used by the Duke and Duchess of Kent, the silver service done for the Goldsmith Guild of London 125 to 130 years ago by Spode; those of the King of Norway, Edward the 8th, The Sutherland; the George the Fourth Coronation set in 1821; a service used by George Washington, and those of Catherine the Second of Russia, and of J. P. Morgan. These were all bone china. The most famous patterns in earthenware were the Tower Bouquet, and yellow geranium.

The following announcements were made during the business meeting. Mrs. David Black thanked those who had been so very generous in knitting for the veterans. Mrs. Frank Scofield made an appeal for funds to help the Control of Cancer. The Rummage Sale to be held on April 2nd and 3rd was called to attention, and also the Table-Setting Contest, and Food Sale which would be held at the next meeting.

The Mothers Club members from the Stearns School Centre were guests. Tea hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. Thomas Sundborg, Mrs. Roland Jones, Mrs. C. H. Tracy, and Mrs. Herbert Field. The table decorations were in charge of Mrs. L. M. Brockway.

Scheibe, 26 Cedar road, Belmont, State chairman of literature.

There is a division of Art scholarship, open to children from eight to eighteen years of age. Applicants, recommended by a Federated Club, should send three drawings to the State Art chairman, Mrs. Walter W. Stroncor, 364 Blue Hills parkway, Milton, before September first. These drawings then will be submitted to a jury for selection. The money for this scholarship was raised by the division of Art, and they are working now for the completion of a second scholarship.

Through the division of Education of the State Federation, the Leland Powers Foundation is offering a scholarship to a young person with marked dramatic ability, who is desirous of following a theatrical career. A contest will be conducted by the Foundation from April 21st to 24th, and anyone who has or will have completed a High School course or its equivalent by June 30th, 1937, and who is neither a stage, screen, nor radio professional, may compete. The applicant must be recommended by a Federated Woman's Club, each of which may sponsor a contestant. Further information concerning the scholarship may be obtained by communicating with the State chairman of Literature, Mrs. Harold M. Scheibe, 26 Cedar road, Belmont, or with the Scholarship Manager, Leland Powers Foundation, 30 Evans way, Boston.

Two other scholarships are offered by this division, namely, a three-year free tuition scholarship in the Bishop Lee School of Dramatic and Platform Art, 73 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, to the talented High School graduate who is recommended by a Federated Woman's Club. The contest will be held on May 8th. And a similar scholarship is available at the Curry School of Expression, 251 Commonwealth avenue, in a contest on May 1st. Further details may be obtained by applying to the Schools or to Mrs. Scheibe.

Mrs. Walter W. Stroncor, chairman of the division of Art, suggests planning now for the Swampscott Exhibition of each Club's Arts and Crafts Classes. Entrants should remember the slogan: "Good Design in Craft Work," and choose the best for exhibition. Judging points for the Swampscott Art Fund Notebooks are listed as follows: Book or report appearance, 15; School work, 5; Club classes, 30; Art day, 25; works of art purchased by members, 5; art corners, 5; and Museum exhibitions, conferences and lectures, 15.

Speakers Give Interesting Facts On Club Problems

On Friday afternoon, March 26th, the West Newton Women's Educational Club, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, president, held a Twelfth District Club Institute in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church, which was attended by delegates from Framingham, Brookline, Medway, Dorchester, Westford, Alhambra, Boston, Gloucester and from the various clubs of the Newton Federation. The institute, which was designed primarily to be of interest to clubs with a membership of 125 or less, was planned and carried out by Mrs. John A. Jennings, chairman of the Club Institute department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, and by Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, first vice-president and Program chairman of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

The meeting was opened at 2 o'clock by Mrs. Franklin, president of the Hostess Club. Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Twelfth District director, gave a few words of greeting, and then the Institute was turned over to Mrs. Jennings, who acted as presiding officer for the afternoon.

Mrs. David A. Westcott, second vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation, was the first speaker and she talked briefly on getting acquainted with the Federation, and on the problems of the small club. In contrast to those of the larger club, Mrs. Jennings recommended that smaller clubs without large funds to devote to pay for exceptional talent, have the home element in their programs and use their own membership's talent for entertainment.

The subject of loan and gifts scholarships was discussed next by Mrs. Burr J. McFarlan, recording secretary of the State Federation, who said that the growing tendency of clubs is to give loan scholarships, and that although these entail a good deal of bookkeeping, the scholarship trustees were more than repaid in their personal contacts with the young people to whom loans were made.

"Do your Committees keep your Club in touch with the Federation?" was the subject discussed by Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation, who said that the work of the State Federation is very exacting and for the reason its delegates are particularly anxious to know if the member Clubs are informed as to what they are doing.

In discussing how far the president of a club is responsible for the work of the committee, Mrs. Donald S. Clark, president of the Ashland Home Study Club, said that the presidency is more than an office, it is a stewardship of rare privilege, and a president should consider herself a saleswoman in the employ of her club; one whose duty it is to keep the spark of interest glowing between the State Federation and the committees of her own club.

"What are the Requisites of a Desirable Club Member?" was discussed by Mrs. Edward B. Gray, who said that the ideal club member was loyal, sincere, friendly, enthusiastic, appreciative, helpful, talented, cheerful, and never critical in a destructive way. In particular, she has a willingness to serve, a spirit of friendliness, and a spirit of helpfulness.

Mrs. Ernest S. Curtis, past president of the Gloucester Woman's Club, enumerated a few of the ways by which various clubs have added to their club treasuries, including a three-day International Bazaar given by the Canton Woman's Club, in which the foreign-born of the community were invited to help, and which not only raised a large sum of money, but succeeded in breaking down the barriers between the nationalities; a treasure auction sale by the woman's club of Beverly; a Mexican street fair, with avocados of little shops and real Mexican food; "Go and See" trips to various industrial plants in and around Boston; a "Country Village," with booths to represent the various old country stores, which netted the Gloucester Woman's Club $600, with-out a single game of chance; and the Mexican pigs of the Tuesday Club of Jamaica Plain, which are given to each member "with persuasive suggestions as to how they may be fed," and which will be "slaughtered in April and the entrails joyfully examined."

Mrs. Albion L. White, president of the Daughters of Rhode Island, spoke of the courtesies which should be extended to every Press chairman, as well as to the reporters of the local papers, and also to the Federation secretary.

Mrs. George Edward Hutchins, the final speaker, gave fifteen minutes of very interesting advice on parliamentary procedure, saying at the beginning of her lesson that every club, to be successful, must be built upon good foundations.

During the question and discussion period following, the delegates became so interested in discussing their problems, that the original thirty minutes allotted to this part of the program was extended to sixty. The afternoon was brought to a close with a toast served by the members of the Hospitality committee of the Hostess Club, Mrs. Emil A. Hass, chairman. The pourers at the tea table were Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent and Mrs. Raymond R. Forte.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

JONES HAS CASTOLDI, SEVEN VETERANS

With their first shakeup and division into squads set for April 12th, a week from next Monday, the Newton High baseball candidates are working out daily under Coach L. P. "Jeff" Jones. They had their second outdoor hitting and fielding session today, and next Monday will start a series of practice games, during which Jones hopes to segregate the varsity material.

Newton's first game in the Suburban League comes April 23 at Arlington, and the first home game will be played two days later at Claffin Field. Guido Castoldi, leading ball-carrier of the football team last fall, and a veteran of one season of pitching in the Suburban and Twin-County Leagues, is Jones' top-ranking flinger. He set down the Colored Giants in a no-hit, no-run game in the Twilight League last summer, and is expected to show great improvement over his flingy career in high school ball last spring, when he had plenty of fire but little control. He is Jones' only stand-by from last year's pitching staff, Rechel and Tornabene having graduated.

Sophomores Will Make Grade
Jeff Jones has six or eight sophomores up his sleeve, and is sure that one or two of them will fit into the varsity picture, but he isn't saying which. Bill Johnston, captain-elect of football, is a candidate for the catching duties, but he has veterans John Martin and Bob McHugh to beat out, as well as Joe Palmieri of last year's jayvees. Leading pitchers, aside from Castoldi, are Chester Newey, John Fitzgerald, and Paul.

Stan Gruber, a three-sport athlete, is first in line for first base, with John Byrne ("Bullet's" brother), Paul Robey and Harry Barrow all in the running. A promising keynote combination has veterans Len LeSourd at second and Bert Marrazzo at short-stop, but third base is a real question mark. Ernie Colantonio, Bernard Duffy and Lincoln Morton are after the hot corner position. Walter Moffette, Rogers and John Pescosolido are second-base aspirants, and Paul Brown, Ed Dohoney and Bartolomucci are in the third-base battle. Clarence Corrier and Phil "Mucker" Greene of last year's team are prominent outfield prospects, and Henri and Campbell, up from junior teams, are expected to qualify for this department when the season rolls around.

Ten League Games

Newton's schedule is made up of ten league games, playing a home and home series with each of the five league opponents, besides which there will be scheduled one or two practice games during the vacation. The league schedule is as follows: April 28 at Arlington; 30, Waltham; May 4, Cambridge Latin; 7, at Rindge; 12, Brookline; 14, Arlington; 18, at Waltham; 21, at Cambridge Latin; 26, Rindge; 28, at Brookline.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS TO HOLD GOLF TOURNEY

Young Republicans from all over Massachusetts will vie on the golf links during the summer months for the newly-offered Charles E. Hatfield Trophy, the gift of Charles E. Hatfield, treasurer of Middlesex County.

Although all conditions pertinent to the award of the trophy have not yet been determined, according to Edgar T. White, president of the club, who is in charge of Trophy at present, it is expected that it will become the permanent property of that bona fide golf team from one of the Massachusetts Young Men's Republican Clubs that can get its name engraved on its silver sides three different times.

The golf season is not yet really under way, but the Young Republicans of Newton already have a talented nucleus for their aggregation in the persons of George Emerson of Auburndale, C. Frederick MacGill of Newton, and Bertrand Thompson of West Newton.

First matches in the tournament will be run off as soon as weather permits, it is expected, with other contests continuing through the summer until fall. To speed up the competition among the 50-odd clubs, the state is being divided off into sections, from each of which a champion team will be chosen to compete in the finals. The Trophy will be awarded some time in September.

In the modern trend of pampering instead of punishing boys and youths who display a disregard for law and order, and for the rights of others. It has got to the stage now where police are not allowed to even summon juvenile offenders into court. Instead of proper punishment being meted out to boys and youths who well deserve it, the offenders receive nice lectures. Boys are "children" until they reach the age of 17, and they are referred to as youths until they attain the age of 25 or more. Many of them are not properly disciplined or trained by their parents, indulge in robberies, vandalism and other excesses, and then are mollycoddled by persons in official and unofficial capacities who believe in reforming the erring "children." And some folks can't understand the great increase in juvenile crime.

Problems of Youth To Be Discussed at Meeting

An Inter-church Committee of Newton citizens interested in the vocational and recreational problems of youth in the city of Newton are sponsoring a meeting to be held in the First Church in Newton, Newton Centre, on the evening of Sunday, April 11, at eight o'clock. Dr. Russell Boynton, pastor of the church, will preside.

The speakers are Mr. Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of the Newton schools, and Mr. Edward E. Lindeman, Professor of Social Philosophy in the New York School of Social Work and Director of the Community Organization Division of the Federal W.P.A. Mr. Lindeman has had great experience in the problems of youth, having studied them both in this country and abroad, for a number of years.

Adults as well as young people are welcome at this meeting.

A limited number of tickets will be available for free distribution, at Hubbard's Drug Store, 425 Centre st., Newton Corner, at the Woman's Exchange, 44 Lantry rd., Newton, or by telephoning to Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Centre Newton 2761.

Woman's Assn. To Hear Ceylon School Principal

The Woman's Association of Central Church, Newtonville, will hold the monthly meeting on April 7th. Handwork beginning at 10 a. m., will be followed by luncheon at 12:30 under the management of Mrs. Louis E. Fowler and her Circle. Mrs. Lucy Clark, principal of the Union Training School, Udavil, Ceylon, will be the speaker for the afternoon. The Central Sextette will furnish music.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock on April 15th, the Association will have a Guest Night, to which the public is cordially invited. Mr. Charles J. Connick will present the "Story of Stained Glass," illustrated with slides.

The Woman's Association will hold a spring rummage sale on April 15th and 16th at 851 Washington st., Newtonville.

Campaign Against T. B. Started

The Newton Health Department initiated the campaign for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis on Wednesday morning in the Newton High and Trade School, and in the afternoon at the F. A. Junior High School. The Massachusetts Tuberculosis Association presented a new film entitled "Behind the Shadows" and Dr. Choate, the local Health Officer, briefly addressed the students of the 7th, 9th and 11th grades.

Similar programs will be held in the Junior High Schools on the following dates. Warren Junior High and Weeks Junior High on April 2, Our Lady's School on April 7th and Bigelow Junior High and the Sacred Heart School on April 8th.

The National Tuberculosis Association has designated the month of April for the popularization of the education of the public to the necessity for early diagnosis of tuberculosis.

The hospitalization of tuberculosis costs the taxpayers of Newton roughly $45,000.00 per year. Nearly 80 per cent of the cases diagnosed in 1936 were either in the far advanced or moderately advanced stage of the disease. In order to control tuberculosis it must be diagnosed early.

With this object in mind the Newton Health Department in cooperation with the Middlesex County Sanatorium is offering to any child in the 7th, 9th and 11th grades an opportunity to avail themselves of the modern method of early diagnosis, namely the tuberculin test and an x-ray examination of the chest. This examination will be held during the last week of April and the first week of May.

Auburndale Man Injured In Crash

William Barlow, 74, of 301 Lexington st., Auburndale, was seriously injured, and his son, George Barlow, 31, received severe injuries when a car driven by the latter, hit a tree on Main st., Waltham, about 7 a.m. on Tuesday. William Barlow received severe injuries to his head and face and it is feared that he has a possible fracture of the skull. He was taken to the Waltham hospital and his name placed on the danger list. George Barlow received a fracture of the nose and cuts on his face.

The accident occurred at Main and Newton streets, where a number of cars had stopped at a traffic signal. As Barlow approached the signal turned to green and he swung out to pass the stopped cars. As he did a small truck approached in the opposite direction and to avoid a collision Barlow swerved sharply, went off the street, and hit a tree in an adjoining yard.

Police Ask One Day Off In Six

Members of the Newton police department who recently started to agitate for one day off in 7 instead of a day off in 8 as they now receive, have presented a petition to Mayor Childs asking that they be given one day off in every six days. It is claimed that only five additional patrolmen would be needed to grant the change. The department includes a chief, 2 captains, 3 lieutenants, 10 sergeants and 115 patrolmen. The cities of Chelsea and Somerville recently granted members of their police departments a day off in six. The petition was presented to the Mayor last Saturday by a committee which included Patrolmen Mague, Hunt and Corcoran. The petition read as follows:

"To His Honor the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen:

"We, the undersigned members of the Newton Police Department do hereby present this petition, requesting one day off in six, which we believe is a just request, inasmuch as the State Legislature has memorialized Congress for a 30 hour week and has passed a bill legalizing one day off in seven. We feel it is within the power of Mayor and Board of Aldermen to grant this request."

Arrest Second Man For Stealing Car

Early on the morning of March 30th Patrolmen Smith and Turner of the Newton police gave chase to two automobiles on the Worcester turnpike and caught one. The car was the property of Charles Monaghan, 54 Playstead rd., Newton, and had been stolen in Cambridge. On the car were number plates which had been stolen from the garage of Robert Spillman, Gibbs st., Newton Centre. The driver of the car, John Stemplewski, 18, of 719 Cambridge st., East Cambridge, was arrested. The other car which was accompanying that driven by Stemplewski escaped. The police took their captive to headquarters and when they returned to get the stolen car, the Spillman number plates on it had been removed. The police reasoned that Stemplewski's companion in the other car had returned and removed the plates. Some hours later the police were notified that a car had been stolen from the garage of Max Weiss, 48 Marshall st., Newton Centre, a neighbor of Spillman's. As a result of investigation by Newton police the Cambridge police on last Thursday arrested Stanley Budrick, 21, of Webster ave., Cambridge, who was Stemplewski's companion. In Budrick's room the police recovered a large amount of loot which had been stolen in numerous burglaries.

Inspect Site of New Water Supply

Last Sunday afternoon members of the Newton City Government made a tour of the water reservation in Needham to view test borings which have been made as probable sites of a proposed new artesian well which will give Newton a much needed additional supply of water. The group, under the guidance of Water Commissioner Murray, included Mayor Childs, Aldermen Fahey, Hill, Gaddis, Cronin, Temperley, McKay, Walker, Inches, Rawson, Bacon and Schipper; City Engineer Harvey and Supt. Croker of the pumping station. The borings have been made by the Layne, Bowler Company, which will submit bids as to the cost of wells at several locations.

Water, raised by small gasoline pumps, was gushing from borings at three places on the reservation. One boring is just West of the road running from Kenrick Bridge to Needham, but is close to a large excavated area at an adjoining gravel pit. The other borings are well Easterly on the reservation near the artesian well now providing a large part of the water supply. All three borings are drawing water from about 55 feet below the surface. The strata is largely sand, with gravel, and City Engineer Harvey stated that he believes the supply from the level used would be uniform throughout the year.

The need for more water has been made imperative because of the rapid growth of Newton. The city is permitted to pump a maximum of 8,000,000 gallons per day after the rainfall in preceding weeks has reached a certain total. The minimum pumpage permitted is 5,000,000 gallons per day. Because the Metropolitan Water Commission has recently completed a new high pressure reservoir to serve parts of Watertown and Belmont, formerly supplied from the old Newton reservoir on Waban Hill, a reciprocal agreement between Newton and the Metropolitan Water District, whereby Newton could procure water from the latter supply in drought periods, or during heavy consumption on summer days, will be terminated. It is expected that Mayor Childs will shortly recommend an appropriation for a new artesian well.

Backing Car Hits Small Child

John McGrath, 2, of 327 Lexington st., Auburndale, was injured about the head and face when he was hit by the rear bumper of a car operated by Emily Murphy of 10 Manhattan terrace, West Newton, on Sunday afternoon. He was taken to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Murphy was backing her car opposite 82 Freeman st., Auburndale, when the accident occurred.

Aldermen Refuse Business Zone Near City Hall

Sidewalk Gas Pump Petition Also Refused

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was presided over by Vice-President Hill in the absence of President Floyd. The Board discussed budget matters with several department heads, but deferred final action on the budget until Friday night, when a special meeting will be held.

A hearing was held on the petition of the Lincoln Realty Company for a permit to increase the amount of gasoline stored at the rear of its building on Commonwealth ave., near Chestnut ter., Newton Centre, from 500 to 1500 gallons, and to erect a dual gasoline pump on the sidewalk in front of 562 Commonwealth ave. Felix Mandelstam, owner of the automobile accessory store at that address, said he ran a tire and gasoline station and that when he took over the place two years ago it was dirty and filthy. He said it is now one of the best such stations in this city. He explained that he sells gasoline from two 50-gallon portable tanks which are kept on the sidewalk in front of the store, and that these have frequently to be rolled back to a pump at the rear of the store to be filled. He said he serves only local trade, and wants to modernize his business by erecting a dual gasoline pump, six feet high, on the sidewalk. He wants the additional tank at the rear of the building to store ethyl gasoline. He said the new pump will improve the appearance of Commonwealth ave. Mandelstam presented a petition (favoring his petition) which he said was signed by 90 residents of Newton Centre. Alderman Jamieson read the petition and called attention to the fact that a number of the signatures were those of persons residing in Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and Newton Highlands.

Paul Howard of Devon ter. objected to the petition. He said his property abuts that of the petitioner and there is a dangerous condition on the avenue now because of cars stopping to get gasoline. He said this condition would become worse if the gasoline business there is enlarged. He referred to fires which have occurred in the building. Following a meeting of the Licenses Committee during a recess, Chairman Colby of the committee reported adversely on the petition. He said the City Solicitor had stated it is not legal for the Aldermen to grant a permit for any gasoline pump, or other stationary object on a public sidewalk. No such permits have been granted for years.

Two jurors were drawn to serve at sessions of the Superior Court in Cambridge next month. They are Stephen Bishop, 40, Ledges rd., and Walter Batstone, 18 Harrington st.

Auto Kills Aged Newton Resident

William Fred Hahn, 76, of 23 Nonantum pl., Newton, a lifelong resident of this city, was instantly killed Sunday evening about 6:55 as he was crossing Charles River Parkway near its junction with Charlesbank rd., Newton. Mr. Hahn was hit by a car operated by Lorenzo Attardo of 96 Water st., Quincy. He received a fracture of the skull, crushed chest, fractures of both arms, fracture of the right leg and internal injuries. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital by Attardo and was pronounced dead upon arrival there.

Attardo reported that he was driving 30 miles an hour when the accident occurred. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday on a technical charge of manslaughter, and a charge of driving to endanger. His case was continued.

Mr. Hahn was born in Newton, the son of John and Elizabeth (Itschner) Hahn. He conducted a drug store in Newton for many years, and in later years sold photographic supplies and stationery. He was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks. He was unusually active and in excellent physical condition for his age. He is survived by two daughters, Miss Elizabeth Hahn of Newton and Mrs. John Sperling of New York City; three brothers, Arthur, Rev. Andrew and Frank Hahn, all of Newton, and two sisters, Misses Amelia and Susan Hahn, both of Newton. Members of Newton Lodge of Elks conducted a service at the late home of the deceased on Tuesday evening. The funeral service was on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Joseph Barth of Channing Church officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Costs Man $10 to Kick Wooden Dogs

Clifford Bryant of 151 Willow st., Waltham, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Monday for assault and battery on Mrs. John H. Brady of 1555 Washington st., West Newton. He was also ordered to pay Mrs. Brady's husband $5 for having destroyed two wooden replicas of Boston terriers which had been stuck in Brady's front yard. Brady raises Boston terriers at the address and had the wooden images in front of his house. Last Saturday night Bryant and a companion visited a neighbor of Brady's and when they were leaving, Bryant took a couple of kicks at the dog display. A charge of drunkenness against him was placed on file.

Truck Capsizes At Newton Hlds.

A huge truck loaded with 12 tons of paper tipped over last Thursday at Needham and Winchester sts., Newton Highlands. Edgar Melanson, driver of the truck, stated that the wheels locked as he was making the sharp turn. The big truck ran off the road, struck soft ground and went over. Melanson was not injured.

Organize Newton Safety Council

The Newton Chapter of the Massachusetts Safety Council was organized on Thursday night, April 1st. A meeting of the members appointed to the chapter by Mayor Childs was called to order in the aldermanic chamber at City Hall by Edward H. Powers. General Daniel Needham was chosen as temporary chairman. He introduced Lewis McBrayne, manager of the Mass Safety Council. Mr. McBrayne talked on the work of the State Safety Council and of the organization of local chapters in a number of cities the past couple of years. He complimented the ladies and men who had accepted appointments to the Newton Chapter; most of those who were so appointed being in attendance at the meeting.

General Needham told of some of the problems faced by police in controlling highway safety. He advocated effective police patrol of highways as the best means of reducing automobile accidents. Mr. Needham favors conspicuous uniforms for traffic patrolmen, and advocated having such policemen riding in white painted cars. He said if such a car was on a highway, it would slow down speeders for a considerable distance. He stated that he is opposed to police traps on highways.

A committee was appointed to nominate officers for the chapter. General Needham was nominated to serve as chairman. He accepted on condition that his election be only temporary; until some other member will be selected to fill the office for the remainder of the ensuing year. Rupert Thompson was elected secretary and treasurer. The executive committee chosen includes Mrs. W. S. Redfield, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Alfred N. Miner, Richard J. Dunn, Chief Michael Hughes, Raymond A. Green and Edward H. Powers.

Vote To Suspend Grobman's License

The common victualler's license held by Phillip Grobman at 273 Centre st., Newton, was ordered suspended last Thursday by two members of the Newton License Commission, William T. Glidden, Jr. and A. Leslie Moriarty. This action was taken after the commission had received a communication from Chief Michael Hughes of the Newton police who asked that the license be revoked. Chief Hughes made this demand because on March 19, Abraham Grobman, son of Phillip Grobman, was fined $100 in the Newton court by Judge Allen and given a suspended sentence of 6 months in Middlesex County prison for selling obscene pictures to Newton school boys. Grobman was also given a 3 months suspended sentence for promoting a lottery. On the night of March 10 Sergeant Bannon of the Newton police and several patrolmen raided Grobman's store and seized the obscene pictures and a quantity of lottery tickets. At the trial in the Newton court John V. Spalding of Newton Centre, the third member of the Newton License Commission, was Grobman's attorney. The principal business of the store owned by Grobman is not that of serving food.

Commission in suspending Grobman's common victualler's license, the commission rescinded its order because it became cognizant that a hearing must be given Grobman before his license can be suspended. This hearing will be held on Friday, April 9.

THE GAIN IS GREAT

Tuberculosis shadows the lives of thousands of persons who go on their way ignorant of the fact that there is danger ahead. Medical science and health investigations have progressed rapidly in methods of discovering and controlling this disease but until the general public becomes conscious of the fact that such a thing can happen we will continue to spend millions of dollars in relieving and attempting to cure advanced cases. These funds, necessary as they are to the well-being of society, could be more effectually spent in preventing these more advanced cases if they were given earlier treatment and it is with the intention of a more efficient control of this dreaded affliction that efforts are being made to acquaint the public with the desirability of uncovering the disease by tuberculin tests. The gain is great when early discovery is made.

THE SALVATION ARMY BIRTHDAY

Tomorrow is the observance of Founder's Day, the birthday of General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. Perhaps no greater monument exists than that left by the devotion of this man to humanity. Firmly established in ninety countries and colonies the world over, the Salvation Army holds out a helping hand to the down and out. The millions of lives that have been happier and better because he lived pay homage to his memory tomorrow.

Rev. John Sheridan Lauds St. Vincent de Paul Society

Urges Cooperation With Other Welfare Societies

At a recent conference of the Catholic Welfare Committee of Newton, Rev. John A. Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady's Church and Executive Director of the committee delivered an eloquent address relative to the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and the co-operation of the Society with other welfare organizations. He said in part:

"From the very dawn of Christianity the social teaching of the Gospel has been recognized. Certain it is that the early followers of Christ understood that they had a social message and social obligations. But, today there are some who would restrict this work to almsgiving, and would consider it a fulfillment of their duty when they had tossed a crust to a beggar or given a useless garment to the poor. Some there are, who would discontinue the use of the word 'Charity', for in their minds it only means a giving, and does not seek for any scientific or preventive method. As for preventive methods—probably there has not been in the church a saint who was more tender heart than Saint Vincent de Paul, our exemplar. Yet, his interpretation of charity was so strict—so up to date—so scientific—so preventive, that he favored a law that would make every beggar and tramp perform manual labor."

Frederick Ozanam, the founder of our Society has planned before us in eloquent words both our duty and our motive of social service. Help is humiliating when it appeals to men from below, taking heed of their material wants only, paying attention but to those of the flesh, to the cry of hunger and cold, to what excites pity, to what only relieves, even in the beast. It humiliates when there is no reciprocity, when you give a man nothing but bread or clothes, or a bundle of straw for a bed; something that there is no likelihood of his ever giving you in return. But, it honors when it appeals to him from above, when it occupies itself with his soul, with his religious duties, his moral and intellectual education, with all that that emancipates him from his passions and his delinquencies, and offers him those spiritual things that make him free and great. Help honors when to the bread that nourishes it adds the visit that consoles, the advice that enlightens, the friendly shake of the hand that lifts up the sinking courage, when it treats the poor man with respect, not only as an equal but as a superior, since he is suffering with Christ what we, perhaps, are incapable of suffering. He is the messenger of God to us, sent to test our justice and our charity, and thus to help us to save ourselves by our good works."

"Since there is an obligation on our part to engage in works of charity, and since this work is not fulfilled by simply giving alms in a desultory way, the question arises—how are we to equip ourselves so as to perform this duty of charity in a satisfactory and intelligent manner. Social work, like any other work, has underlying principles: social work, like other principles, must join together guiding principles, serious investigation and a thoughtful application. There was a time in the past when life was simple, when everyone knew his neighbor, and when the wants of an individual were known to many. Under such conditions the greater social duty of charity could be fulfilled without a thorough study of methods of application; but in our complex city life such simple methods are no longer sufficient. Even those who are not professional social workers have their social duties, and they as well as social workers can improve in their work by a study of methods and principles."

"Dr. Cabot, a very religious non-Catholic, professor of social economics at Harvard University, and undoubtedly the one outstanding authority on questions of social service in America, recently said in a public lecture that he considers the St. Vincent de Paul Society, when properly conducted, the best organization of its kind in the United States. He gave two reasons for his statement. First, that the St. Vincent de Paul Society divides a city into sections—sections which are not too large, and which at the same time embrace the entire community. It follows parish lines; it seizes upon a division that has been already made after a most careful investigation. The St. Vincent de Paul Society simply makes use of this natural division which greatly simplifies its work. In the second place—the St. Vincent de Paul Society insists on personal investigation of each case—by two of its members, and a follow-up by a weekly visit to the family while on the roll."

"The question arises: Can the St. Vincent de Paul Society ignore all other associations and live its life apart? Can it or should it refuse to co-operate with public agencies of the same nature, or with various private associations? Since the spirit of the Society is so different from that of many other charitable associations, and since it seeks as a primary objective the spiritual good and the sanctification of its members, would it lose some of its spirit by co-operation with other associations? When Frederick Ozanam founded the St. Vincent de Paul Society and when he began its splendid work in the midst of an almost entirely Catholic community, there was very little opportunity for co-operation. But, circumstances have changed since the time of Frederick Ozanam. Let us take for example any one of our great American cities. In each of these communities there are many charitable organizations whose work overlaps. The Catholic societies, the societies of the various Protestant churches, the Jewish organizations, the Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army and others. When there are public organizations which are engaged in the same social endeavor, it often happens that there is a duplication of work; and instead of being of assistance to each other, one society retards or duplicates the work of its co-laborers."

"To avoid this overlapping and to give unity to the work, there is in every large city a clearing house known as the Registration Bureau, Confidential Exchange, or the Central Index. The object of this agency is primarily to keep neutral records of cases handed in by the various organizations throughout the city. It is objected by some that the poor should not be humiliated by having their names recorded in this exchange, but, the objection is an entirely futile one. These records are only open to the authorized investigators of the different agencies and are not for the public, and therefore the good name of the poorer families in no way suffers by being registered at the central office."

"There are families whose members find that it is easier to beg than it is to work. There are families in which not only the parents are engaged in begging, but where the children are systematically taught to visit one agency after the other, and bring home with them any object which can be secured. One object of a Central Index is to combat this abuse. This bureau, or Central Index, if it receives the proper co-operation from the various organizations, is always ready to give any information it may desire to the social worker in regard to the family that is seeking assistance."

Father Sheridan urged the members of the Catholic Welfare Committee to co-operate with other private and public charitable organizations. He closed by quoting from an address delivered by the late Thomas M. Mulvey, for many years president of the National Council of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, in which Mr. Mulvey said: "For more than a quarter century it has been my honor and privilege to associate with men and women of all religious denominations, and I am proud to say that I can bear cheerful testimony to the fact that everywhere they are to be found absolutely fair and anxious to do the proper thing. Of course, there were some found here, just as there are to be found among our own, but happily they were in the small minority, for the American spirit of fair play has always predominated. As a consequence of my own personal experiences, I make bold to assert that it is the duty of every Catholic, priest and layman to enter actively into every worthy welfare movement."

NEWTON IN 1817

(Written for the Graphic)

In 1817 Newton was a thinly settled town of about 1800 people, with four villages—Angier's Corner (Newton); West Parish, Upper Falls and Lower Falls. No villages existed at Nonantum, Newtonville, Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre or Chestnut Hill. There were four churches in the town. The First Congregational at Newton Centre; the Second Congregational at West Newton, an Episcopal Church at Lower Falls, and a Baptist meeting house on the shore of Wiswall's pond (Crystal Lake). There were no lawyers in Newton. It was a community of farmers with a few butchers and milkmen who found their market in Boston. The healthfulness and beauty of Newton caused many Boston gentry to retire into its pleasant shades. On Waverley avenue, Newton, with a beautiful chestnut grove behind it, stood a house which was built by Col. Joseph Ward, a prominent officer in Washington's army. At the foot of Nonantum hill was the house of Captain Kenrick. The Kenricks were among the earliest fruit growers and nursery men in this region. At the corner of Waverley avenue and Ward street lived a worthy man named Harbeck; this place had been settled on very early by a Captain Prentiss who was said to have been one of Cromwell's soldiers and a famous Indian fighter in this country. On this farm the captain killed the last bear seen in Newton.

At the back of our house rose Waban Hill, 313 feet high. Early in the century two large and showy houses were built on Waban Hill by wealthy Bostonians named Wiggin and Haven. They lived in good style for some years, but the houses were too close for harmony, so the owners sold out and moved. At Angier's Corner were two stores, a tavern, blacksmith shop and a watchmaker. The latter was a descendant of John Rogers who was burned in England by Queen Mary for heresy. The stores, kept by ancestors of well known citizens, were of a general and desultory character and were well flavored with New England rum, a popular beverage in those days and found in most houses. Along in the afternoon might be seen staggering along the roads leading from the tavern sundry townsmen who had taken too deep draughts of the cup that cheers. But, the rum must have been less injurious than modern whiskey, as some of those ancient men had been drinking it with apparent impunity ever since the Declaration of Independence.

It Happened in Newton
The young woman this incident concerns is extremely attractive. She is worthy of the admiration bestowed upon her by many young men friends and also of the high regard in which she is held by the community in general. Like all pretty and engaging girls she cannot escape gifts of flowers and confectionery even if the donor doesn't interest her on a little particle. There is one man she doesn't encourage but who is conservative enough in his enthusiasm to send gifts at Christmas, Easter and possibly on other conventional occasions. The girl was telling her friends and expressing annoyance, "I hope he doesn't find out my birthday," she sighed.

Powers' Paragraphs

The organization meeting of the newly established Newton Chapter of Mass. Safety Council held at City Hall last Thursday night was attended by nearly all of the women and men appointed by Mayor Childs to serve on this council. General Daniel Needham was selected as chairman of the Chapter and consented to serve temporarily. General Needham, who is a former Commissioner of Public Safety of Massachusetts gave his views on how to make our highways safer. He advocates the patrolling of traffic arteries by conspicuously uniformed policemen as the most effective preventive of speeding and reckless driving. Mr. Needham said—that if the State and cities could afford it, he believes that automobiles, painted white, should patrol along heavily traveled highways, and these cars, operated by policemen, would serve as deterrents to dangerous driving. Mr. Needham remarked that if he had his way, there would be no police traps on any highways.

We agree thoroughly with Mr. Needham as regards the patrolling of highways by traffic policemen. We have been advocating this for years in the GRAPHIC. We have constantly criticised the reduction of the number of motorcycle policemen in the Newton police department from eight to two. We have frequently criticised the noticeable scarcity of State policemen on traffic duty even on the most heavily traveled of our State highways. We do not believe that automobiles are practical for traffic work on highways. A policeman in a small car would have little chance of catching a speeder or reckless driver operating a larger, much higher-powered automobile. Moreover, motorcycles can dodge in and out of traffic when in pursuit of a fleeing auto. Last year Governor Curley advocated the replacing of motorcycles by cars to safeguard traffic policemen. Commissioner of Public Safety Kirk, disagreed with Mr. Curley, substantially for the reasons just stated.

Many persons agree with General Needham regarding police traps on highways. They do not believe in such traps. They think it is poor sportsmanship. We believe in traps, at least 90% of motorists drive safely, and with consideration for the wishes of other motorists and pedestrians. But, with the huge number of persons operating motor vehicles, the small minority who drive dangerously comprise many thousands of potential slaughterers. They are little or nothing for automobile laws, for regulations established to protect safety. Most of this type of drivers are yellow and will drive properly if they believe a policeman is in sight. But, when they think no policeman is watching them, these road hogs, out-law drivers and plain d—fools, operate cars habitually in a manner to jeopardize the safety of others. They are not amenable to moral suasion. Some of them repeatedly have been slapped, even after they have been apprehended and convicted for such offences. For such critters traps are necessary. And, in our opinion, little

We suggest that the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen take action to have the city replace the headstones destroyed and damaged by boys recently in the old cemetery on Winchester st., Newton Highlands. This cemetery is the property of the city, and the memory of the early settlers buried there should be perpetuated as was intended by those of modest means who erected the memorial stones on their relatives graves. The fences around this cemetery and the colonial cemetery on Centre and Cotton sts.

We hope that the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen will approve Mayor Childs' recommendation—that six patrolmen be added to the Newton police force. Chief Hughes states that if he is given these men, he will establish a motorcycle squad of six. GOD knows such a little force is badly needed here. Sixteen persons died last year as a result of automobile accidents in Newton. Five have already been killed or fatally injured this year. Most of the victims have been pedestrians, many of them old persons. The Mayor and Alderman should also make provision to purchase sufficient new motorcycles to provide for the planned squad of motorcycle officers.

As an antidote for barking dogs we have a blue bird singing in our neighborhood early each morning the past couple of weeks.

What Every Family Knows
Another interesting discovery I hasten to record is that there are many people who really mark the passage of time by a method other than consulting a clock or watch. Determined not to miss their favorite radio program or programs they arrange their daily pursuits such a way as to be on hand to tune-in at the appropriate hour. "O yes, we expect Madeline home before 5 o'clock," a mother was heard to assure a caller. "She loves the 'Chinning Hour' talk and wouldn't miss it for the world."

In another home the dinner must be served promptly and eaten speedily to give everybody opportunity to hear a team of comics, well known to us all. Music from a certain station by a headliner and his orchestra will in many homes cause complete suspension of all activities.

A clash of tastes only serves to emphasize how well-fixed has the habit become in a large number of households. Ted will want to hear this and Sam will want to hear that. At 8:30 and 9:30 Pa and Ma still another feature. When so many estimable people find enjoyment under these circumstances it should be a source of pleasure to all of us. If you are not a fan you'll agree that it is at least much to be preferred to all-day-and-night blasting of the loud speaker as occurs in many homes.

It Happened in Newton
The young woman this incident concerns is extremely attractive. She is worthy of the admiration bestowed upon her by many young men friends and also of the high regard in which she is held by the community in general. Like all pretty and engaging girls she cannot escape gifts of flowers and confectionery even if the donor doesn't interest her on a little particle. There is one man she doesn't encourage but who is conservative enough in his enthusiasm to send gifts at Christmas, Easter and possibly on other conventional occasions. The girl was telling her friends and expressing annoyance, "I hope he doesn't find out my birthday," she sighed.

Quick Thinking
Your sympathies would go out to newspapermen more frequently, providing they are extended at all, if you knew of some of their troubles. I have in mind an editor who desired to publicize a very good friend. The latter, a member of a deliberative body and a bit diffident in manner for political life, could well use a little free advertising. So the reporter was instructed to attend the meeting in question and describe what took place, together with the speeches made.

Returning from the assignment the reporter approached his chief and said, "How much space shall I give your friend?"

"What did he say?" the editor inquired.

"That's what I'm up against. There were a lot of hot arguments but your friend kept his mouth shut. He might have got into the scrap and I could have featured him in the story. But how can I use his name if didn't open his face?"

"O," replied the boss, "we must get his name somehow. Say he 'maintained a dignified silence'."

Oddments
Several have spoken to me of the unhappy practice of racing trucks loaded with crushed stone through our streets, scattering at all too frequent points quantities of rock. So much has been written and said about it I have no hope that any plea of mine will affect the situation. If there are not laws and rules, etc., there should be and if there are they should be enforced in order to stop the nuisance. Of course, the city might provide trucks to follow along behind and gather up the fallen rocks. If that were done there would be no necessity of scolding the drivers. The trucks seem completely indifferent.

It is not uncommon for private individuals to make their own motion pictures and show them to friends. Just like showing the family album which used to occupy the center table in the parlor in days gone by. The improvement, however, is not only in keeping with the progress of the times but much more satisfactory and delightful. Now, I wonder how many people think to send the film to relations or friends in other parts of the country. The other day I saw a long reel from California containing pictures of good friends of mine and including the famous rose parade of New Year's day in Pasadena. It had been sent as if part of the regular exchange of letters. A good custom this snapping "home folks" reels and one that should grow in popularity.

Charged With Attacking Woman

Two young men, Peter Holubak, 23, of 18 Willard st., Boston, and Michael Rodzys, 20, of 113 Leverett st., Boston, were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday on a charge of rape on Mrs. Alice Crovo, 34, of Shaw st., Brookline. About 2:30 a. m. Wednesday Patrolmen Smith and Turley, who were in a cruising car, observed an automobile parked on Hobart rd., Newton Centre, near Commonwealth ave. As they approached, the car started away. The police caught the automobile and arrested the two men after the woman told that she had been assaulted by them. At first the police thought it was a case of simple assault, and booked their prisoners for assault and battery. After learning further details the charge was changed to the more serious offense.

The woman, who is married and a mother, said she met the two men on Cambridge st., Boston, and they offered to drive her to her home. Instead they drove to a lonely street in Newton Centre and threatened her to bodily harm unless she submitted to their advances. She showed marks on her throat which she said were caused by one of her attackers. During the trial the press was excluded from the court room. Judge Weston held the pair for the Grand Jury in bonds of $5000 each.

Alleged Drunken Driver Arrested

Paul F. Colby of 393 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, was arrested Sunday night by Patrolmen Cunningham and Davis, charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor and leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known. A car allegedly driven by Colby went over the curb at 59 Putnam st., West Newton, hit an Edison pole and became stalled on the lawn of Dr. Wells. All four tires on the car were burst by the impact. The police found the car abandoned on the lawn and by tracing the number plates went to Colby's residence. He was arraigned in court on Monday and his case continued until April 12.

"As for the rest of the money, the savings bank is a wonderful institution, with which you should be better acquainted. It will prove a better friend to you than all the guests of this hotel put together."

Rotary Club

Newton business men were urged to investigate the loss of buying power by wage-earners through the purchase of expensive and wasteful weekly premium "collector" insurance, by Clyde S. Casady of the State Division of Savings Bank Life Insurance in an address today before the Newton Rotary Club.

The speaker stated that more than $50,000,000 was being paid each year by Massachusetts wage-earners for weekly payment "collector" insurance, and he quoted official figures to show that during the past 10 years about one out of twenty of such policies issued reached maturity or was paid as a death claim. Three out of four of such policies, on the average, lapsed before there was any surrender value. These policies have no cash value until after 5 or 10 years, and never any loan value.

"If the wage-earners in this and every other city in Massachusetts could be educated to buy Savings Bank Life Insurance, or even old-line ordinary insurance in place of the weekly collector type, the savings would be tremendous," declared Mr. Casady. "The elimination of this source of waste would leave more money to be spent for food and clothing and education."

Savings Bank Life Insurance was started in 1907 by Louis D. Brandeis, now an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, for the purpose of reducing the cost of one of the necessities of life. Low cost is achieved by efficient management and by the elimination of agents' commissions and collectors' fees.

"There is now more than $128,000,000 Savings Bank Life Insurance in force. 140 Banks throughout the state, including all of the banks in Newton, are authorized agencies for writing applications and collecting premiums. Over a period of years, the cost of Savings Bank Life Insurance averages about one-fourth less than the cost of old-line ordinary insurance, and 50 per cent less than the cost of weekly collector insurance. All savings bank policies provide cash values after six months, and loan values and dividends after the first year's premiums have been paid."

During the lively question period following his talk, Mr. Casady termed the selling of weekly collector endowment insurance on the lives of children and wage-earners, a social "crime". During the depression millions of welfare money he claimed, was diverted from the purchase of milk and bread to that purpose. "It is most unjust that the people who need insurance the most are least able to afford it, are being sold an inferior policy at about double the proper cost," concluded Mr. Casady.

At a future meeting it is planned to have a speaker who will outline the situation from the angle of the insurance companies.

Planting Hints

Fertilizing and Planting Evergreens

In planting evergreens care must be taken to secure proper fertilizer. If it is difficult to get well-rotted stable manure, sheep manure which may be bought in bags and peat moss are good substitutes. Use about one-half pound of sheep manure for each square foot, and dig in plenty of peat moss. Never use fresh manure, lime or chemical fertilizer.

Evergreens are usually shipped "B. & B." (roots in ball of burlap-tied earth). Unpack promptly upon arrival. If balls of earth appear somewhat dry, stand the plants close together and water until balls have become thoroughly wet. If planting cannot be done within a few hours, dig a trench, in which to place the plants and cover the burlap balls over with soil to exclude air. Soak the trench thoroughly afterward.

When ready to plant dig a hole two or three times the size of the ball of earth. Refill the hole with good loam until it is just large enough to take the ball. Place the burlapped ball in the hole, cut the strings and carefully remove the burlap without disturbing the ball of earth. Shovel in good loam and pack firmly around the ball and tramp down. Do this several times until the hole is two-thirds full. Then fill the hole with water, allowing it to settle. Fill the hole with soil, leaving it saucer-shaped so that water will not run away. Plant about one inch deeper than planted at nursery as shown on the stem.

If evergreens are large and there is a danger that they may move in the wind, they should be braced with guy wires or some method to hold in place until rooted.

Evergreens can be a great asset to a place when properly arranged and planted and it is certainly advisable to have this kind of work done by men trained in landscaping.

Questions and Answers

Mr. Stuart will be pleased to answer questions relating to home modernizing and building. Inquiries may be addressed to him c/o Newton Graphic.

We have a large attic space and would like to finish off a room but there is no stairs leading to it. Can you give me suggestions along this line?

The first thing to determine is whether a stairs can be run up without building a dormer. If a dormer has to be built it could of course be made large enough so as to improve the possibilities of the attic room. Another thing that must be determined is whether the attic floor framing is strong enough for this purpose. If not it should be reinforced with other timbers. While the job is being done the attic should be insulated between the rafters and wall studding. This of course will help the whole house.

There are many houses with waste attic space that could be developed into a worth while room at moderate cost.

Could you advise me if a built-in incinerator is practical for a private residence? I should think it would be a great convenience in getting rid of waste paper etc.

There are different kinds of built-in incinerators that are practical for houses. One type is a gas fired burner and the other uses no fuel other than the trash that is burnt. The incinerator should be located so that the prevailing winds will carry the fumes away. It is true that a built-in incinerator is a great convenience and should be included in the plans of every new house.

Last year we were very much bothered with ants around plants and bushes. Can you offer a remedy?

Ants cause great damage in many gardens by protecting the young of aphids, mealy bug and scale insects. By using "Antrol" ants may be exterminated at the source as it is carried to the nest and fed to all, thereby destroying the whole colony.

Character in Rustic Fences

Two popular types of woven rustic fencing are the Hand-Split Cedar Fencing and the Cedar Sapling Fencing. The first type is a woven rustic fencing quite different in appearance from the usual type. The pickets are split by hand from the heart wood of the big red cedars of British Columbia and consequently there is no sapwood to rot or bark to fall off. The rough split surface of the wood is very pleasing to look at and this long-lasting wood requires no painting to preserve it. The untreated wood is agreeable to climbing vines and shrubs and, if left natural, weathers gradually and becomes an intimate part of the landscape.

The pickets of a good hand-split fencing are woven together with copper-weld wire, a wire combining the strength of steel and the durability of copper, and this combination makes a very substantial and durable fencing which requires practically no upkeep. This fencing is made in two different styles of pickets: flat pickets split on all four sides averaging about two inches in width and enough variation in thickness to give a rustic appearance and the other has three-cornered pickets, which are split on two sides and sawed on the side which fits against the rails. There are also two kinds of weaving, close and open. The close type permits absolute privacy and protection from wind and the open type gives protection without cutting off too much light or sunshine.

Cedar sapling fencing is a woven fencing, the pickets of which are cut from live trees and are left natural with the bark on. The ends of the pickets at the top of the fencing are sharpened to blunt points and then the pickets are woven with copper-weld non-rusting wire on better type fences. This wire soon oxidizes to practically the same color as the bark on the pickets.

In the weaving of this fencing the top ends of the pickets are alternated with the butt ends, so that the pickets lie closely together their whole length and yet are kept plumb. The natural roughness of the pickets with the dark rich color of the bark makes this fencing very decorative, bordering a garden or estate.

Wall Finish of the Ages

As in architecture and sculpture generally, the purely classic in interior decoration, of course, is Greek. The early Greeks learned their building arts from the still earlier Egyptians, who at the very dawn of history are found finishing their furniture as well as their walls and ceilings with a plastic material that would take design and hold true color.

That these finishes were rough-textured no doubt is due to the fact that these ancient artisans worked with primitive tools, and it was only natural that the Greeks, adopting the same materials and tools, should achieve similar rough-textured effects. But the crude tools and coarse materials were in the hands of true artists, sympathetic with the relation of design to purpose, and consequently the rough-textured finishes of Greek dwellings, temples and tombs remain to this day the pattern for all that is beautiful, in line and in color, in interior decoration.

The Greek workmen evidently applied their wall finish with a paddle, and then worked the texture by a series of downward strokes, to achieve the comparative evenness of surface. Many of their finishes, they left a natural greyish-white, but it seems that wherever the purpose or larger architectural design permitted, they made good use of color.

With modern texture products, reproductions of Greek wall and ceiling effects can be realized with admirable likeness. The proper selection of products and artistic qualifications of workmen are of course essential for any work of character.

Spring Conference For Art Chairmen

Mrs. Walter W. Stronger, State Federation Art chairman, has announced that the Spring Conference for Art chairmen will be held at the Vesper George School of Art, St. Botolph street, Boston, on Saturday, tomorrow, April 10th. Mid-morning coffee will be served in the Lower Gallery at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. John H. Kimball and Mrs. Herbert F. French will serve as pourers, assisted by Mrs. Edward W. Dillard, with Mrs. Harold Lindergreen, Mrs. Arthur E. Staff, Mrs. Victor E. Peppard, Mrs. V. A. Hovey, Mrs. Paul G. Hudson, Mrs. Walter G. Chick, and Mrs. Maurice Spillane. At the meeting at 11 o'clock, Miss Helen Campbell will be guest speaker, on the ever-interesting topic of clothes, her topic being "Clothes Consciousness, a Modern Necessity."

Several Art chairmen will give the highlights of their winter's activities. A question and answer period will follow. The committee members acting as hostesses will be Mrs. Irving D. Young, with Mrs. Clarence C. Phipps, Mrs. W. B. Bannerman, Mrs. Carroll M. Dearing, Mrs. Lewis F. Harding, Mrs. Clifford F. Hubbard, Mrs. Augustus Lukeman, Mrs. Earl G. Manning (of Newton Highlands), Mrs. G. Loring Russell, Mrs. Fred A. Stevens and Mrs. Louis F. Wood.

Each Art chairman of the clubs federated with the State organization is invited, and she may invite her successor, if she is to have one of the next club year, and also one member of her committee.

An added feature of interest will be the exhibitions in the various studios. Another item of art news announced is for Art Week in Boston, the dates selected for this year's observance being from April 26th to May 2nd. Definite designations which have been given for five days of the week, which may be of specific interest to different people, are as follows:

Monday, April 26th, Graphic Arts Day; Tuesday, April 27th, Industrial Art Day; Thursday, April 29th, Exhibits Day; Friday, April 30th, Art Education Day; and Sunday, May 2nd, Museum Day.

First Cook-Out Of Season and Other Events

The Education committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club held its Annual Scholarship Bridge on Friday afternoon, April 2nd, at the Club house. Dessert and coffee served at 1 o'clock preceded the Card Party. There were about fifty tables in play, and a prize of an attractive Italian-type pottery candlestick-ashtray was awarded at each table.

At 3:30 o'clock the guests adjourned to the Auditorium where the Clara Mitchell Shop presented a Style Show. Colorful and picturesque dresses in the latest mode were displayed by Club members as models. These were Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. Warren Rogers, Mrs. William H. Fish, Mrs. George H. Tracy, Mrs. Frederick W. Ried, Miss Janet Mattson, Mrs. Harold S. Rice, Mrs. Raymond Stowell, and Mrs. Henri C. Beltzung. Mrs. Walter A. Harrington furnished incidental music during the Show.

Mrs. William R. Mattson was in charge, and she was assisted by the following members: Mrs. James A. Brickett, Mrs. Winfield S. Cavanaugh, Mrs. John E. Cox, Miss Theresa L. Cram, Mrs. Ellison G. Day, Mrs. Albert P. Everts, Mrs. Edward Fales, Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Mrs. Carl Horton, Mrs. Robert C. Kelley, Mrs. J. Franklin Kinnard, Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea, and Mrs. Frank L. Rogers.

Bowling which was sponsored by the American Home committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club has been entered into with enthusiasm by numerous Club members. The group meets on alternate Tuesdays at 10 a. m. at the alleys on Bacon street, Newton. The scores are kept by Mrs. A. Gordon Wein, the captain, who computes the averages so that she can select a team that next year will be able to compete successfully with teams from neighboring clubs.

This bowling group motored to Abner Wheeler's for luncheon and cards on Wednesday, March 31st. There were twelve members present who enjoyed this delightful party.

The first Cook-out of the season for members of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday, April 13th, at Mrs. George W. Hinman's, 9 Harrington street, at 12 o'clock.

Glee Club Preparing For Spring Event

Mrs. Harold Plump, of Atwood avenue, Newtonville, a member of the Publicity committee of the West Newton Community Service Glee Club, entertained the committee at luncheon on Friday, April 2nd. Those present were Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, the Musical Director; Mrs. Ethel Coty, and Mrs. Mabel B. Worth. Reports showed that plans were progressing most favorably for the Annual Spring Festival to take place on Friday, May 14th, in the Warren Junior High School. Tickets and complete announcements will be ready for distribution during the week of April 19th.

Rehearsals under the able coaching of Mrs. Kingsbury are in full swing, with weekly meetings at the home of Miss Eunice Huntsman, on Potomac street. Each spring this group presents an unusual program for benevolent purposes, and the event has become a real community affair. This season's entertainment will include several of Newton's own artists of outstanding talent, and it promises to excel anything that has been offered hitherto.

The Glee Club is a special activity of the West Newton Community Service Club, of which Mrs. George S. Fuller is president.

Attractive Lecture On Color Harmony Of Flowers

The April meeting of the Newton Centre Garden Club will be held on Monday, April 12th, at the Newton Centre Library, at 9:45 o'clock. Miss Hazel Heissenbuttel, of New York, will give an informal talk on "Table Decoration and Flower Arrangement, Emphasizing Color Harmony of Flowers and Accessories."

A question period will follow the lecture. All members are urged to attend this important meeting.

Entertaining Play-Reading To Be Program

The Newton Centre Neighborhood Club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Joel M. Barnes, 141 Cedar street, Newton Centre. This meeting, which will be a Play-Reading of a well-known play, will take place on April 12th at 7:45 p. m. Mrs. Robert Gilman is chairman for the evening, and she will be assisted by Miss Eleanor Lewis, Miss Priscilla Ordway, and Miss Gertrude Ryel.

Outstanding Events of Junior Conference

The importance of "a correct sense of values" and "using the right price tag" in appraising, which are the most worthwhile attainments in life, were points stressed by Mrs. John H. Kimball, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, in an address at the Annual April Conference of the department of Junior Memberships, Saturday, April 3rd, in the Hobbs Junior High School, West Medford. Mrs. Kimball emphasized the value of character, rather than material possessions in creating happiness.

The program for the day was under the direction of the State chairman of Junior Membership, Mrs. Paul H. Nottage, of Wollaston, past president of the Quincy Woman's Club, who was Miss Ruth Lothrop before her recent marriage. Members of the West Medford Junior Woman's Club, under the leadership of Miss Wilamena ("Billie") Parks, president, served as hostesses to several hundred girls from all over the State.

Miss Sylvia Koese, of Wollaston, secretary of the department, responded to an address of welcome by Miss Parks. Among outstanding events of the day were two important contests, one to choose the winner of the Annual Traveling Scholarship, which entitles a Junior to attend the spring General Federation meeting which will be held this month in Tulsa, Okla. Miss Eleanor M. McManus, of Roxbury, past president of the Junior Women in Council of that section, and a student at Boston State Teachers' College, was awarded the prize. The other contestants, all selected for outstanding ability, were Miss Mary T. Pierce, of the Braintree Junior Philergians, and Miss Anastasia Joan Kirby, of the Junior Cantabrigia Club of Cambridge.

Each of these three Juniors presided over a portion of the morning session, and the winner was chosen by vote of the official delegates from the individual clubs.

The other contest was for the silver cup offered each year by the State Federation to the Junior Club giving the best dramatic performance. The four competing groups, presenting their plays at the afternoon session, were from the Dorchester Junior Woman's Club, giving "Number 10"; the Ousemequin Junior Club of Bridge-water, "The China Pig"; the Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club, "Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl"; and the Quincy Junior Woman's Club, "Elizabeth Refuses." The winning group will be announced and the prize will be awarded at the Annual State Convention next month at the New Ocean House, Swampscott.

The Juniors voted to take up as their State Philanthropic Project, raising money to provide the "Talking Book for the Blind" for needy persons. In addresses on the subject by Miss Kirby, Miss McManus, and Miss Pierce, and also by Thomas McCarthy, director of the State Division of the Blind, it was announced that there are 5000 blind persons in Massachusetts, and only 400 of the Talking Books.

In five-minute talks on the activities of the various Junior Clubs, representatives of 11 districts of the State told of such charitable work as providing baskets of food, clothing, and other necessities for underprivileged children and adults; work for hospitals, maintaining story-telling hours for children of the town, collecting funds for flood relief, providing parties and picnics for poor children, and conducting a dancing class at nominal rates for high school students who had never had an opportunity to learn to dance.

Speakers at the morning meeting included Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., of Turners Falls, fourth vice-president of the Federation; Mrs. Charles R. LaRose, president of the West Medford Senior Club; Mrs. Jesse Wilson, director of the Eighth District; Miss Ruth Jenkins, of Brockton; Miss Sylvia Whitaker, Sharon; Miss Marjorie Sawyer, West Roxbury; Miss Hannah Campbell, Winthrop; Miss Geraldine Marshall, Medford; Miss Bertha Comeau, Gloucester; Miss Emily G. Hall, Framingham; Miss Phyllis Berling, Auburn; Miss Olive McCullough, Turners Falls, and Miss Ann Fisher, Roxbury.

Mrs. Stacy B. Southworth and Mrs. Harold M. Scheibe were in charge of the details for the Drama Contest. Miss Mary M. Miltenis of Brockton, was soloist; Miss Martha P. Wight, of Newton Centre and Miss Mary Cameron, of West Newton, were accompanists; and Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow led assembly singing.

Antique Exhibit And Demonstration Of Embroidery

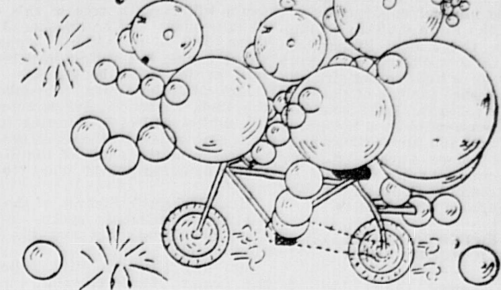

Three booths are being sponsored by the State Federation at the Leisure Time Exposition held from Wednesday, April 7th through Sunday, April 11th, in the Great Hall at Mechanics Hall, Boston. The exhibition will be open each day from 1 to 10 p. m., excepting Saturday, when it opens at 10 a. m.

A booth furnished in antiques will be in charge of the State division of the Preservation of American Antiques, and members of the division of the Preservation of American Antiques will act as hostesses, assisted by members of the clubs who have fostered the work of the division.

Miss Caroline Wade, of the Woburn Women's Club, will demonstrate embroidery stitches popular through the past six centuries. Mrs. John Madocks, of the Winchester Fortnightly, will do petit point. Members of the division will answer queries on organizing club groups. They will suggest programs and pleasant pilgrimages to historic buildings and museums, helpful books relating to antiques; hobbies; and the preservation and restoration of old buildings. Miss Bess Bartlett, of Lynn, adviser to the division, will be guest of honor, and hostesses include members of the division, assisted by the chairmen of thirty-three clubs sponsoring the work of the division.

NEWTON PAIR JOINS ZANESVILLE, O., CLUB

The best battery combination to show up at Newton High in late years, that of quiet Joe Green and wise-cracking Pete Morrison, who worked together in school in 1934 and were brought together again on the Newton Independents last season, has been signed by the Boston Bees and marked for shipment to Zanesville, Ohio, late this week. Jack Onslow of the Bees was favorably impressed by Pete Morrison's hitting in a workout last fall, and had singled Joe Green out as a pitcher worth developing when he saw him in a Twin-County League game last summer.

Joe Green was junior varsity material as a sophomore at Newton High, and became Jeff Jones' ace two years later. Newton tied for Suburban League honors in 1934, and Joe Green pitched only one losing game. Pete Morrison was first string catcher at Newton in 1932-33-34. As a sophomore, he broke up a tight Newton-Brookline game with a base hit, but it was not until 1935, when he abruptly changed from a right to a left-handed stance, that his reputation as a heavy hitter was established. Playing for the Newton Independents last summer, Pete hit two home runs in the Twilight League series against O. L. Alumni. Joe Green had a very good season on the mound, dropping only two games in the whole season.

Twin-County League Under Way

The Twin-County League will be a step ahead of all other New England baseball circuits this year. Plans formed in a meeting at the West Newton home of L. P. "Jeff" Jones Monday night call for the opening games of the season April 26th. Three new teams have been admitted to enlarge the circuit to eight teams. These three are the Saxonville Pals, the Framingham Braves, and the Brookline All-Stars, with the West Newton Colored Giants as alternates. The other five clubs are the Newton Independents, Wellesley Town Team, Needham A. A. Bemis Cardinals and the Harris Club of Natick, known last year as the Natick Cubs.

Entering its second year, the Twin-County loop is undertaking an ambitious program. Each team will play 21 games at the rate of three games each week for the first seven weeks of the season, when a championship series will be held to determine the winner of the first half. In September the two championship teams will play off a final series for the 1937 pennant, unless the second-half team champion was also the winner of the midsummer series. The Iver-Johnson ball was sanctioned, and Joe Green was re-elected president and treasurer of the league, as was Charles DeFazio of Needham, secretary.

Testimonial For Basket Ball Team

A testimonial dinner and dance will be tendered the champion basketball team of Our Lady's High School at the high school hall on Wednesday, April 14, at 7:30 p. m. Members of the team will be awarded sweaters and letters. The team was undefeated the past season, won 16 games and the championship of the Catholic High School League. The testimonial is under the auspices of the Athletic Association of Our Lady's High School. The speakers will include Monsignor Michael Splaine of Brookline, and Frank Keaney, coach at Rhode Island State College.

Newton Highlights

Newton High Progress Slow

Newton High baseball was making slow progress this week, with unfavorable weather until Wednesday, when a squad of fifty got their second outdoor workout. Jeff Jones put the varsity candidates through a practice game, while Howard Ferguson and Beverly Wilson worked with over one hundred other aspirants.

Ernest Colantonio, third base candidate, showed some accurate throwing and belted a home run to take the inside track for his position, and John Martin looked like the best of the catchers. Ed Paul of the Auburn-dale Club of the Twilight League last year is among the pitching candidates. Phil Green, veteran outfielder, will be lost through ineffectuality.

James L. Madden and Grace Madden of Centre st., Newton, took a prominent part in the Boston Skating Club's silver jubilee carnival, "Cracked Ice", staged elaborately last Friday and Saturday at the Boston Garden. A brother and sister team, they were runners-up in the senior pairs in the national figure skating championships at Chicago early in February, being outscored only by Maribel Vinson and George E. B. Hill, several times champions.

Table Tennis Match With United States Against Europe

United States versus Europe is the attraction that will have hundreds of table tennis fans flocking to the New England cities where the touring champions are appearing this week. The Boston match is booked for the gymnasium of the Boys' Club of Boston in Charlestown on Friday night.

Three or four years ago the announcement of a championship table tennis match would be regarded by the public as a joke. In fact to the uninitiated of the sporting public it still seems pretty silly. But to the rapidly growing number of table tennis fans this is the sporting event of the season.

The European team is composed of Standa Kolar, world's singles champion and Laszlo Bellak, Europe's most versatile player. They will be opposed by Sander Glancz of New York and 17 year old Bud Blattner of St. Louis, who was a member of the American team winning the world's team championship at Vienna this year.

This will be the first Boston appearance of Kolar, Bellak and Blattner and it is expected that a capacity crowd of a thousand will attend.

Alleged Tree Worker Arrested

David Larrabee, 22, of 299 Centre st., Newton, was arraigned in the Newton court last Thursday charged with obtaining money on false pretences from Newton residents. It was alleged that Larrabee went to Newton residents, obtained small advance payments for work done on trees, and then did not return to perform the work. The two specific complaints against him were—that he obtained $2 from Arthur Tucker, Temple st., West Newton; and $1 from John Zahos, Vernon st., Newton. Judge Allen found Larrabee guilty and imposed suspended sentences of 30 days and 10 days in Middlesex County prison, on condition that restitution be made.

He was also fined $10 for drunkenness. He appeared on Sunday, April 4, a car driven by Malumphy hit and broke a hydrant on Walnut st. near the Newton Cemetery, flooding the street. He and a woman companion (who was arrested for drunkenness) were taken from the car, which was under a seizer of water, by Patrolman Charlton. In court on Wednesday Malumphy denied that he was drunk, and claimed that the odor of liquor which the police said came from him really came from Mildred Pollock of 76 Hovey st., Watertown, who was riding with him. The Pollock woman testified to corroborate Malumphy's contention.

Bill Johnston Dies; Newton High School Mourns His Loss

Popular Student Dies From Blood Poisoning

Newton High school suffered a severe loss Sunday in the death at Newton Hospital of 18-year-old Bill Johnston, captain-elect of the football team. He had been at the hospital since Wednesday with blood poisoning, which developed after a scratch on his face became infected. Blood transfusions were made Saturday from two of his schoolmates, Guido Castoldi and Paul Forte, but he rallied only a few hours, and early Sunday afternoon died.

Hailed as a natural athlete and leader from the time he was made captain of four athletic teams at John W. Weeks Junior High School, Bill Johnston became a tremendous favorite at Newton High. He was class president as a sophomore, and was a member of H-Y. He played varsity football and basketball both years, and was elected captain at the close of the football season last fall.

For hundreds of classmates and friends, Bill Johnston's death was a very personal bereavement, but it was particularly so for Coach Ralph M. Sanborn and Mrs. Sanborn. They had Bill working and living with them all last summer in Maine, and he was with them constantly during the football season. Although he was not exceptional in his first year of high school football, Bill was a key man last fall, calling the plays, punting, place kicking and passing, and backing up the line. His coolness in the heat of a game was something to inspire confidence in his teammates, and he was a very logical choice for the team captaincy. His rivals for that honor were the first to suggest that no other captain be elected in his place, and that suggestion will very probably be followed. Bill's jersey, with the familiar Number 13, he wore for two years at Newton High, will be kept in a place of honor, and the number he wore will not be used again.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston, William Edward Johnston was born in Scituate, Aug. 16, 1919, and lived at 26 Knowles st., Newton Centre. He leaves a young brother, Albert, and three sisters, Lillian, Delene and Mrs. Paul Kennealy (Evelyn Johnston). At the funeral services Tuesday afternoon in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, ten members of his last football team were pallbearers, John Fitzgerald, Fred and Al Thomas, Paul Robey, Guido Castoldi, Frank Hines, Bernard Duffy, Robert Wheldon, Seth Fitchet and Paul Forte.

Newton Boy Wins Spelling Match

Anthony Finelli of 35 Melbourne ave., the ninth grade champion spellers who represented Our Lady's High at the semi-final came out victorious in a Spelling Bee held at Emmanuel College. Sixty ninth grade schools and academies throughout the Boston archdiocese competed to qualify six of their number for the grand parochial final at Faneuil Hall, Saturday afternoon, May 1.

A crowd of 1000 decupied every available seat in the Emmanuel College auditorium during the two hours and a half during which 683 words were spelled before the six qualifiers were selected.

Campaign Against T. B. In Newton

A FINE BODY MAY CONCEAL TUBERCULOSIS

But modern methods uncover it before it does harm

Let the Doctor be your guide

The above cut has become a familiar sight in the shops in Newton during the past two weeks. The merchants of the city have shown an excellent spirit in co-operating with the Health Department in assisting to publicize the early diagnosis campaign, sponsored by the Newton Health Department and the National Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Choche in a recent interview stated that "Although tuberculosis is considered by many local people to be a minor problem it is one of the ten most important causes of death to Newton citizens, and the care of persons sick with the disease constitute the largest charge for any single contagious disease which is made against the city. Any person showing any unexplained loss of weight, fatigue, chronic cough, loss of appetite and general listlessness, should appeal to their private physician, who in turn can make an appointment at the special diagnostic clinic staffed by chest specialists from the Middlesex County Sanatorium, where a complete examination will be given to the patient without charge to the physician or the patient."

During 1936, three hundred eighty seven individuals were examined in this clinic and over five hundred x-ray pictures were taken. With the outstanding facilities for diagnosing early cases of tuberculosis, it should be possible within the next decade to nearly eradicate tuberculosis from this city.

Stores To Close On April 19th

For the first time in several years, retail stores generally will close at 12:30 noon, on Patriots' Day, Monday, April 19. Residents of Newton who desire to co-operate in honoring the day which has so much significance to this country, and to Massachusetts in particular, should buy their food requirements on Friday and Saturday of this week. There has been a growing disregard of patriotic holidays in recent years. Owners of retail stores in Boston and outlying communities, men whose opportunities to live and prosper in this country were made possible by the Colonists who fought at Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill, manifest no appreciation for the American patriots who fought and died in this very country in 1775.

Aldermen Make Few Changes In Mayor's Budget. Figures Total $5,217,174.60

Six Additional Policemen; Five More Firemen—Welfare Aid May Cost More This Year

The Board of Aldermen at a special meeting on Friday night passed the budget for 1937 with practically no changes from Mayor Childs' recommendations. The total recommended by the Mayor was $4,921,734.26. The total voted by the Aldermen was $4,921,292.17. In addition the budget for the Water Department, financed from water revenue, is $295,882.43. The Mayor's recommendations for the water department expenses totalled $305,882.43.

The Aldermen added $800 to the Mayor's recommendations for the Executive Department. This was to provide for the annual immunization of licensed dogs. In the budget for the Accounting Department the Aldermen lopped $388 from the Mayor's recommendation for salary increase for clerks, and cut about $800 from the amount specified for laborers' pensions. The total of pension costs budgeted for retired city employees for the ensuing year is $91,768.05; this not including pensions for teachers. The budget for the Treasury Department was increased from $729,644 as recommended by the Mayor, to $740,198. The increases were to provide for more money needed on interest on funded debt, and serial bond retirements. The budget for the Assessing Department was passed just as recommended by the Mayor, $24,075. A small reduction of about $55 was made in the Soldiers' Relief Department budget; in the item for clerical hire. In the City Clerk's budget the Aldermen cut $1242 from the $35,076 recommended by the Mayor. This was from the item for increase in clerks' salaries, and for temporary clerks. The Law Department budget of $10,000 as recommended by the Mayor was not changed. This is a tentative budget, increased by claims for damages during the year. The Engineering Department budget was cut $250; the Mayor having recommended $43,848.88. The cut was made in the item for automobile maintenance.

In the budget for the Welfare Department the Aldermen approved all the recommendations of the Mayor except for reducing the item for clerical assistance from $6644 to $6132. Provisions for two additional clerks were allowed; one for work on old-age assistance, the other for dependent children's statistics. Chairman Bowen of the Finance Committee stated that in 1936 the cost of aiding poor (excluding those in the city infirmary) was $276,000; about $100,000 more than the Aldermen had anticipated at the start of that year. He predicted that the cost this year will be even more, and that the $225,000 appropriated will not be nearly sufficient. The total budgeted for the department is $411,553.71. The School Department budget, as usual the largest by far, was approved as submitted by that department. The Aldermen having no authority over salaries. The budget total is $1,538,005.99. A small cut of $450 was made in the item for rental of the garage for the vocational schools; as this building will not be occupied for several months later than was planned. Three items in the Playground Department's budget were cut—that for maintenance from $37,320.36 to $36,320.36; and the item for new equipment from $1700 to $900; the item for care of school grounds from $7100 to $6550. Provision was made to appoint a full-time assistant to the Superintendent. This assistant will be selected from one of the present Playground Directors and will be a Newton resident.

The Aldermen approved Mayor Childs' supplementary recommendation for an increase in Librarian Lucht's salary from $4000 to $4100. Alderman Floyd said, because Lucht's predecessor, Harold Daugherty received $4100, and the present Librarian had not received an increase in 12 years.

The Street Department's budget was accepted as recommended by the Mayor except for small reductions in a couple of items. That for care of stables was reduced from $36,000 to $35,000; that for care of Forestry Stockroom from $3700 to $3400. Chairman Hutchinson of the Public Works Committee expressed regret that the Mayor had reduced the recommendation of Street Commissioner Mahoney from $82,533 to $15,000, including the purchase of equipment for snow removal. He said that he fears we are accumulating trouble for the future by not purchasing the equipment. He commented it would be economy to get modern equipment for street maintenance.

In the Public Buildings Department budget the Mayor recommended that Commissioner Campbell receive the same salary as his predecessor, $4600. The Aldermen cut this figure to $4000. The Mayor recommended $15,900 for inspectors salaries; the Aldermen cut this amount to $15,150. The item of $57,000 for maintenance of school buildings was cut by the Aldermen to $55,550. In the Police Department budget the Aldermen approved all of the Mayor's recommendations except for cutting $200 from office expenses and $300 from incidentals. The Board finally passed broad enough to approve $250 to equip the office for the captain's use. The Board agreed with the Mayor that 6 additional patrolmen shall be appointed. All of the Mayor's recommendations for fire department expenses were approved, except that a cut of $600 was made on salaries for linemen in the wire division. The Board agreed that 5 additional firemen shall be appointed. The Aldermen approved all the Mayor's recommendations in the Health Department budget. Chairman Bowen of the Finance Committee praised the budget as submitted by Health Officer Choche, head of the department.

THE WAY OUT?

State and national governments are striving to eliminate many of the evils attendant to the disputes between labor and industry. Rep. Christian A. Herter has proposed to the legislature now in session a law which has much merit. Press reports indicate that the national administration is thinking deeply along similar lines.

Under the proposed law the right of labor to strike is not denied, neither is their right to collective bargaining. The right to seize property, however, is definitely outlawed. One step of greater importance than these, however, is the responsibility which labor organizations must accept in return for other rights guaranteed to them. Under the Herter bill a union labor organization will be set up on the plane of a corporation or voluntary association. As such it will not only have the right to sue but will be open to suit, whereas under the existing situation individuals alone may be sued for illegal acts and it is usually impossible to place the responsibility for such acts where they rightfully belong. The labor organization would also be required to file reports similar to corporate statements showing their financial condition open to public inspection. Such a requirement would make it possible for anyone, members of a labor organization as well as others, to know where membership dues are being spent and for what purposes. Further provisions of the proposed measure provide for the more definite interpretation of unfair practices upon the part of both labor and industry, for the supervision of the law by an industrial board, and for the denial of the right to strike unless by vote of four-fifths of the members of the union involved employed in the plant at which the strike is to take place and unless with approval of the industrial board.

Fundamentally it is reasonable to believe that industry will make various concessions if labor is willing to accept the responsibility for its acts. Give and take on the part of both is essential if conditions in the industrial world are to be placed upon a sound basis.

A HIGH SCHOOL TRADITION

Bill Johnston has passed on to the Great Beyond. He leaves behind a memorial to youth that to his friends and classmates will ever linger in their hearts. One of the realities of life is death. In every case it brings sadness, yet to youth somehow, it seems more poignant than in later years. Although Bill Johnston was an athlete of exceptional promise his personal qualities endeared him to his friends and classmates. Intelligent, cheerful, self-effacing, he made friends instinctively and that he held a high place in their esteem is recognized by his selection to places of honor. A class officer, a team captain, and a boy who exemplified American youth at its best, Bill Johnston, in the short space of time allotted to him, has become one of Newton High School's finest traditions.

WIDESPREAD EFFECT

That conditions in the motor industry affect many sections of the country is not generally realized. In a recent strike situation in Michigan it was revealed that some two hundred and forty factories were directly affected in New England. Many of these factories were virtually closed, while others ran on a part time basis of curtailed production of articles and accessories used in completing the automobile which the New England resident was expected to purchase. When it is further realized that this situation existed because of a strike in only one make of car it is easier to appreciate the effect that a continuation of the strikes in other automotive lines will have.

Fakirs Seeking Relief in Newton

It has come to the attention of the Social Service Index of Newton that several people have been going around the city asking householders and others for money, food and clothing to help them. Practically always such persons are "chiseling" and should be referred at once to the Social Service Index, Centre Newton 5121, a department of the Newton Community Chest, Inc. City Departments and Member-Agencies of the Chest handling welfare and relief, and the WPA, are taking complete and adequate care of all residents of the city who merit aid and also of transients making application for aid, after investigation.

He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday on charges of drunkenness, driving while under the influence of liquor and leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known. His case was continued until April 23.

On Monday, April 5, the crew of Ladder 2 went to Shea's home and gave him oxygen treatment for eight hours in an attempt to stop the hiccoughs. Mr. Shea has also had bronchial pneumonia. He caught a cold upon his recent return from Florida.

Excitement At Crystal Lake

Screams, apparently coming from Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, aroused persons residing near that body of water on Saturday night about 11:30. Police and fire departments were notified and cruising cars, together with Ladder 2 rushed to the lake. The firemen also used a boat recently added to the department's equipment. No trace of any drowning victim was found, and after a lengthy search the policemen and firemen ceased their hunt.

Newton Republican, April 24, 1875

The Boston & Albany Railroad is still reducing expenses. It has reduced the pay of section hands from $1.50 to $1.25 per day. It is rumored that pay of old hands will be reduced the first of May.

A regular session of the Board of Aldermen was held on Tuesday afternoon. Permits were granted to F. E. Hamblin to move a building in Ward 1, and to Timothy Walker to move a small building from Centre street to Institution Hill. It was voted to authorize the Committee on Highways to issue plans for a new stone bridge over the Charles River at Upper Falls and a new road to Needham, on order of the County Commissioners. There was much discussion over an order to pay Milo Lucas $500.40 for extra work on City Hall ordered by the architect in addition to original specifications. The main objection was that the architect had no right to make these changes.

Among the relics of Revolutionary times that had colors flying on April 19 was the old Whittemore Tavern in Auburndale, situated nearly opposite the bridge on Woodland avenue. It is now the property of W. & P. Bourne. This building was over half a century old in 1775, having been a tavern in 1742.

It is worth a visit to the fire engine house any day at quarter to twelve, noon, to see the horses obey the gong by coming out of their stalls on the trot and promptly take their places at the engine.

Claffing Guard, Company C, 5th Regiment, M. V. M. had 70 men in its ranks at the Centennial parade in Concord on April 19. They were obliged to march back from Concord to Waltham, the trains being so filled that transportation could not be obtained.

The Masonic ball on Wednesday evening was a grand success. The Knights Templar were in full regalia, and the toilets of the ladies were elegant. It was undoubtedly the most brilliant ball ever given in Newton.

Orthographic tournament No. 2 under the auspices of the Literary Club took place at the Newton Highlands chapel on Tuesday evening. H. N. Sheldon was schoolmaster and Rev. Mr. Dana and Dr. Deane were the judges, whereupon loomed unabridged volumes of Worcester and Webster that were the books of fate. The match was between ladies and gentlemen, 20 on each side.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, April 16, 1887
The watering carts have made their welcome appearance on the streets around the Newton depot.

The treasurer of Grace Episcopal Church at Newton reported at the Easter meeting that over $9800 had been received and expended during the year. Other special contributions amounted to $2050, so that the total for the year exceeded $11,850.

The latest news about the new Eliot Church building is that the committee is waiting for news from Rome. According to the deed by which the land was given by John Richardson, the church lot must be surrounded by a fence, and this fact was discovered since the old church was burned. One of the Richardson heirs is in Rome, and to prevent trouble an effort is being made to come to an agreement with the heirs. A fence would not be an ornament to the lot.

A large number of gentlemen representing every Ward in the city met at the residence of A. R. Mitchell, Walnut street, Newtonville on Tuesday night to discuss the formation of a Newton Social Club. The project seemed to meet with favor and it was decided to have nothing of a political nature connected with it.

The fire committee of the Aldermen inspected the hose houses and apparatus on Tuesday. It was found that two new horses are needed for Engine 2 at West Newton, one for the hose wagon at Newton, and that the doors at the hose houses at Newton and Newtonville should be widened.

At the meeting of the Newton Common Council on Monday evening Edwin O. Childs and other residents of Richardson street stated that the road had been filled in until it was in many places higher than the sidewalks, which were constantly flooded with water. They asked that the sidewalks be raised and the road macadamized.

A passenger train of 13 cars passed through Newton Sunday on the Boston & Albany railroad. The size of this train shows that Sunday trains are still popular.

Powers' Paragraphs

Going to see the blossoms on the Japanese cherry trees at Washington, D. C., has become a national diversion. Persons from many parts of the United States journey to the capital city to view the display. Last Sunday an estimated crowd of 213,000 persons thronged Potomac Park. The coming week-end Washington will be crowded with tourists from many States. Even two weeks ago and longer, most Washington hotels had ceased taking reservations for the April 17th week-end. This is what publicity does. Here in Massachusetts we will have within the next month or so displays of blossoms which will be far superior to that afforded by the cherry trees in Washington. The lilac blossoms at the Arnold Arboretum at Forest Hills, and the many thousands of apple trees in bloom at the Nashoba Valley district.

In our opinion the Aldermen were right in refusing to accept Mayor Childs' recommendation of a $4600 salary for the Commissioner of Public Buildings. Instead, the Aldermen set the salary for this year at $4000. This is no reflection on Arthur Campbell, who was recently appointed to the office. Mr. Campbell had been an inspector in the Buildings Department for about a dozen years. He had proved himself a competent official, and had won the respect of those who contacted him because of his unassuming, courteous personality. In the opinion of many, Mr. Campbell should have been made Public Buildings Commissioner when that office became vacant several years ago.

The office of Commissioner of Public Buildings has been a bone of contention in this city for many years. Former Commissioner Chadwick, who had been a plumbing inspector in the department, was made commissioner after Mayor Childs had the ordinance changed to make Chadwick eligible. The latter then received a number of salary increases during a few years, advancing him in salary over heads of other departments. When Mr. Chadwick resigned in 1931, Harry Hageman who had been associated with Stone & Webster Company as a hydraulic engineer, was appointed to succeed Chadwick. Mr. Hageman was an outstanding man in his particular line, but had not had much previous experience in building supervision. Nevertheless, he was appointed with the understanding that he would eventually receive a salary considerably above $4000. It was soon advanced to $4600, and during the years since the depression, when salary advances were given to no department heads, Mr. Hageman several times asked for, but did not receive further increases. Last year his ability as a hydraulic engineer was recognized by TVA officials and he was given a position in that big project with a large increase over the salary he received in Newton.

Mr. Campbell's salary as inspector was $2850. He, therefore will receive a considerable increase on a (Continued on Page 8)

What the Dogs Think

It was on my return from the Newton Free Library the other evening that I encountered a strange experience. Near my front gate sat a dog, a splendid specimen of German shepherd. I stopped to pet him, for I am a pushover for all kinds of animals, when a voice said, "I'd like to have you write something about dogs for the GRAPHIC." I looked about but saw nobody. My bewilderment was intensified when again the voice was heard, saying, "I am the one who is speaking." The sound seemed to come from the dog but I knew that could not be. Yet, as I looked down I saw the dog was laughing. "Yes," he went on, "I'm a talking dog. There are only a few of us in the world, so the dogs of Newton have sent me as a committee of one to see if you will help us."

Slowly recovering from my astonishment, I gasped, "What on earth can I do for you?"

"Well," he replied, "we don't expect you to take sides in this controversy that is going on in Newton about dogs but we would like it if you printed a few of our observations." "Go ahead and I'll do all I can," I assured him. "We don't blame people who complain when dogs damage their gardens but we do think that owners of dogs should teach puppies the difference between right and wrong as far as they can. We dogs are as sensitive as human beings and want everybody to like us. But families who own dogs are very often to blame. They leave us out all day and sometimes all night and we have to forage and no doubt make a racket doing it. We think if people own us they ought to give us a reasonable amount of care. We don't want to be babied but we need regular rations and plenty of water. People shouldn't make of us only when they feel like it and let us shift for ourselves the rest of the time. All we ask is a fair break. Nobody questions our loyalty but they kick about our behavior. Why on earth should they expect dogs to be perfect in their conduct when people are often bad tempered and do things that dogs would be ashamed of? Please put some of this in the GRAPHIC and maybe it will help." And here it is.

Serving the People

There appears to be no faster-growing peace-time army than that made up of candidates for the Mayoralty of Boston. It is inspiring to find almost a herd of noble men willing to make sacrifices for their fellow citizens. Naturally each one has heard the call or listened to some noise and assumed it to be popular clamour for his candidacy. Only time will tell whether his hearing in this regard was faulty.

Other municipalities, including our own, have been spared, thus far at least, utterances from those who admit their outstanding qualifications for the highest local political office. Possibly the citizens of Boston, who acknowledge themselves born leaders, look upon smaller burgers as too conservative or perhaps they feel that Boston has cornered the market on wisdom and greatness in governmental affairs.

With Best Wishes

The best I have to say to those who plan a double-header week-end, counting in the holiday next Monday, is that the Farmer's Almanac promises fair and sunny. This should be satisfactory if you're dressed appropriately. Remember, though, somebody is supposed to have said "Winter never rots in the skies." On that authorities disagree but most everybody knows that Oliver Goldsmith wasn't kidding when he wrote, "But winter lingering chills the lap of May." What I'm striving to convey is I hope my readers will not start out for a Spring ramble and find themselves taken for a sleigh-ride.

Question of Manners

It will be interesting to observe the results of the Boston Elevated's attempt to improve the manners of male passengers whose appetite for the "weed" is such as to cause the road to post signs in its cars, "Please do not smoke or 'light up' until you leave this car." Emphasis is placed on "Do not Smoke" as evidenced by the typographical arrangement, when really it belongs on "light up." Few men smoke on the trolleys, even surreptitiously, but there are those who, as they approach their getting-off stop, light cigarette, cigar or pipe and get it going nicely by the time they step out. Strong cigars and pipes are my favorites so I cannot be accused of unfairness. It isn't that I object to tobacco smoke in a public conveyance. What disturbs me is the lack of consideration for other people and the flagrant and not always fragrant violation of the company's rules.

Jarring Note

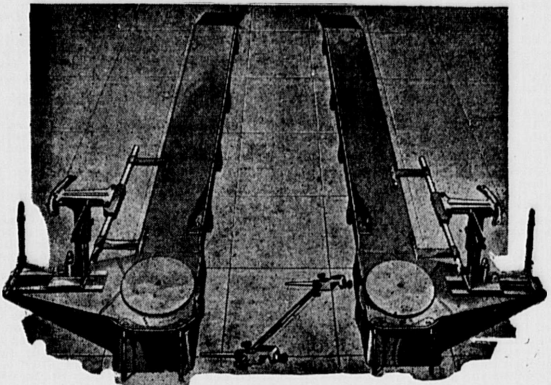

As I stroll the streets of Newton in pursuit of the advantages of pedestrianism I observe that gardeners have removed the Winter covering from the crocus, tulips, etc. As one who delights in the scent of flowers I was cheered at the sight of fresh, well-kept beds and the prospect of gay and radiant blooms. I have a deep admiration for those that come first. They seem so courageous. The hyacinth, especially brave, struggling to perfume the air already odorous with burning leaves, rug dust and accumulations from the city's collection trucks.

New Law On Savings Banks Home Mortgages

Savings banks will be permitted under the new law signed by Governor Hurley recently to write new types of mortgages demanded today by home buyers. Probably the most important feature of the new law is that which enables savings banks to write long-term mortgages with certain amortization provisions, savings officials state.

The past several years a savings bank was limited to a three-year mortgage. Although the banks have gladly renewed mortgages for clients who regularly met their obligations, there is a considerable public demand for mortgages written for a longer period, according to Rutherford E. Smith, President of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. There have also been many demands for mortgages greater than 60% of the value of the property. The new law meets this situation by allowing the banks to lend in certain cases up to 70% of the true value.

The new law is the result of long and careful study of the mortgage situation by several committees of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts and by members of the General Court. Under the new law, two new types of mortgages may be written by savings banks. First, a mortgage for 60% of the value of the property for a term not exceeding twenty years may be written with a provision for the amortization of the mortgage at the rate of not less than 2% a year paid in quarterly instalments. Second, a mortgage for 70% of the value of a property also limited to twenty years with a provision for amortization at the rate of 3% a year. The amount that may be loaned on this type of mortgage shall not exceed $25,000 per loan.

Fumes Nearly Kill Newton Centre Man

Joseph Spera, 34, of 14 Maple park, Newton Centre, was nearly asphyxiated last Thursday morning at his home. He was found unconscious in the kitchen by his mother about 7 a. m. He came home late the preceding night and lighted the hot water heater to get hot water for a bath. The heater exhausted the oxygen in the room and Spera was overcome by the carbon monoxide fumes. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He remained at the hospital until Friday.

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Irving Rubin of Bellevista rd., Brighton, was fined $50 by Judge Weston in the Newton court last Friday for driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. Rubin was injured and spent some time in a Boston hospital. He appealed the fine.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

COACH JONES' SQUAD TO HAVE PRACTICE GAMES

Coach L. P. "Jeff" Jones announced the first Newton High baseball shake-up of the year early this week, separating the Regulars from the Yannis, and these two groups will play against each other in practice sessions in competition for regular positions. Practice was suspended for a moment of silence Monday in memory of Bill Johnston, who only a week ago was one of the top three catching aspirants and who was also being considered for the third base job. The players sent flowers, and practice was cancelled for Tuesday afternoon, the day of the funeral.

Jones' Regulars include catchers John Martin, Bob McHarry, Hugh and Joe Palmieri; pitchers Guido Castoldi, Ed Paul, Bradford, John Fitzgerald, Chet Newey; 1b, Stan Bruber; 2b, Len LeSourd; 3b, Ernie Colantonio and Francis O'Hara. Outfielders are Henri and Cormier. The Yannis with several fresh recruits from junior high school ranks, have a pair of left-hand pitchers in Jim McMullen and Callanan. Daniel Costano is ready for these pitchers. Maguire at first base, D'Angelo, second and Fitzgerald, at third, are all sophomores, and Shorndon, at short, teamed with D'Angelo last year on the Nonantum Pals. Outfielders are D'Eugenio and Coletti, sophomores, and Stan Scholski, Trade School senior.

Next week being vacation week, baseball practice will be held every morning, starting Tuesday, and the windup will be a regulation game at 3 p. m. Saturday with the Newton Independents, Twin-County leaders last summer. The game will be played at the high school field. Coach Jones is trying to arrange another practice game during the week with some college freshman team.

Newton Man Gets Salmon In Maine

Several Newton residents were members of a party which left Boston last Friday for a week-end fishing trip to Thompson's Camp at Sebago Lake, Maine. The group included former Aldermen Phil Jamieson of Newton and Harold Young of Auburndale; and Clinton Brown of Eliot Memorial rd. The salmon were not biting freely and catches were small. Mr. Young won second prize for catching the largest fish.

Midnight Fire At Newton Centre

A fire which apparently started from cigarette butts in a waste receptacle in the kitchen at the home of Arthur Bulling, 483 Boylston st., Newton Centre, caused damage estimated at $500 shortly after midnight last Thursday morning. The fire was discovered by Patrolman Thomas McCormick of the Newton police, a neighbor of Bulling. McCormick observed flames in the kitchen of Bulling's house and hastily donning an overcoat over his pajamas, rushed to arouse his neighbors. Mrs. McCormick phoned an alarm to fire alarm headquarters at 12:35 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. Bulling had left their residence shortly before in their automobile to take home a couple who had been visiting them. So when McCormick rang the front doorbell, he got no response. Rushing to the rear of the house, he broke the glass in the back door, went in and aroused two sons of the Bullings who were asleep upstairs.

W. C. T. U.

Frances E. Willard was honored when well-known and little-known facts were presented by the officers and directors of the Newton W. C. T. U. at a meeting in the parish house of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre on Thursday.

It was brought out that her vision of fifty years ago was reality now; that organization, education and legislation are fundamentals; that Scientific Temperance Instruction (S. T. I.) must be taught the children and young people; that there must be a great International Peace Movement. Giving up all else including her position as instructor in a great university with the promise of a wonderful career, this young teacher started on a tour of the country to bring together all the little Christian Temperance organizations of the churches (and there were many) into a National Woman's Christian Temperance organization and later a world's W. C. T. U. which is to have its convention in Washington this June. Representatives from 52 nations will foregather there to tell the story of the outstanding work accomplished in their own land. To meet these world leaders, including Lady Aurea, younger daughter of the late Countess of Carlisle, Mrs. Forrester-Paton of Scotland and Frances Willard Wang Liu of China and many other notables from the far-flung reaches of the globe will be a rare pleasure and a liberal education. Representatives from the Newton and West Newton W. C. T. U. are planning to attend.

The Newton Figure Skating Club will hold its annual meeting Friday evening, April 16, at 8, at the Newton Centre Playground House on Tyler terrace.

The business to be transacted will include election of officers and members of the executive committee for the coming season.

So economical that it actually costs less to own than many cars of lower price

Look at La Salle!

OCCASIONALLY, someone says to us—"True, La Salle is low in price, but what about upkeep cost and operating expense?"

This is a question we like to answer—because the facts all point to La Salle.

La Salle's great V-8 engine is extremely economical. Chances are you will notice no increase in gasoline at all when you step up to La Salle. And no car is more sparing in its use of oil.

Too, La Salle service costs are extremely reasonable. And don't forget this—La Salle is built by Cadillac, to Cadillac standards, and it does a great job OF STAYING OUT OF THE SERVICE STATION.

It is a literal fact that La Salle is likely to cost you less to own, all things considered, than cars that would cost you even less to buy.

Come in today—and LOOK AT LA SALLE!

New Music Program Beginning Next Year

The program of the music department has been changed. The new department head, Mr. Hayden Morgan, believes that interest in music will be stimulated by standard credit value courses, and so has brought forth the new program.

For grades X, XI, XII the following electives are available, with the annotated credit and eligibility periods:

History and Appreciation of Music, Theory of Music, and Voice Culture... 4-5; Mixed Chorus one (class X), two (classes XI and XII), Orchestra and Band (classes X, XI and XII)... 2-1; Glee Club, 3-1½. Pupils may take only one full-time or two part-time courses. All who plan to take Chorus, Glee Club, or Voice Culture must pass a voice test. Glee Club members are selected from the honor pupils in the choruses or the voice classes.

The History and Appreciation course is designed to develop appreciation of composition, the lives of their composers, and a knowledge of the tones of the various instrumental types of voices. The Theory of Music course is for the more serious minded. It includes ear training, melody writing, and harmony; written and extemporaneous. The voice culture course aims to develop proper vocal habits, assuring resonance, breath support, pleasing tone quality, intelligent phrasing, and correct diction.

Orange Book

Robert Myers, John Arend, and Henry Kendall as editor-in-chief, business manager respectively for the "Orange Book" for 1937-38 were approved by the Publication Board at a meeting on April 12. The following pupils will have prominent positions on the staff: Eva Aukstolis, George Black, James Brickett, Virginia Brown, Marjorie Everts, Harry Barrows, Irene Butchart, Sylvia Eaton, Sylvia Pierce, Grace Ver Planck, Hugh Van Rousen, and Lorraine Stickney.

Alumni Notes

The school is proud to note that Adele Goldfine, Charlotte Paul, Louise McKinney, Margaret Borg, Lois Rogers, and Barbara Phinney, all graduates of Newton High, have received academic distinction at Wellesley College.

D. S. McLellan, Newton High School alumnus, has been elected president of the class of 1937 at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In the annual midnight ceremony of Sphinx, one of the three senior societies at Dartmouth, Maurice C. Hallett, 2nd, former Newton High School student, was recently pledged to membership. He won his numerals in freshman hockey and baseball and has been a member of the varsity baseball squad for the past two years.

Emily Abbott of West Newton a freshman at the University of Vermont, was recently pledged to the Delta Delta Delta Sorority.

Marguerite McConnell, a graduate of Newton High School, was recently admitted to membership in the Freshman Players, a dramatic organization for first year students at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio.

Mechanical Drawing Teachers Hold Meeting

The Mechanical Drawing Association of New England held its spring meeting at Tufts College, April 10th. Mr. Carl Swan of Newton High School's faculty is the secretary-treasurer of the Association, and has been active in its work from the very beginning of the organization, which now has a membership of twelve hundred teachers. Mr. Swan, who was also a member of the committee making the arrangements for the meeting, is the secondary school representative on the committee on college entrance requirements in mechanical drawing.

Annual Prize-Speaking Contest

The large, enthusiastic audience which gathered at the high school auditorium on Friday night, April 3, to hear the annual Junior-Senior Prize-Speaking Contest, was well rewarded by an excellent group of speakers.

Jane Dealy, president of the English Club and Chairman of the event, presided. Rev. Herbert Hichen announced the decision of the judges and presented the awards to the victorious competitors, Natalie Salter and Leon Lipson.

Natalie Salter gave Browning's Andrea Del Sarto with a keen feeling and sympathy for his mood and atmosphere. Her facial expressions were excellent also. Leon Lipson's presentation of The Boy in Armor by Hagard was very expressive and done with the usual Lipson skill. Both had excellent voices and commanded attention throughout.

Lois Currie, first on the program, started the ball rolling with Tennyson's Guinevere. The choice of such a difficult subject made her achievement great.

Evelyn Waddell showed competence in her rendition of Benet's John Brown's Body as she cleverly changed her whole attitude as well as her voice for the conversation of the spirit. Jerry Harvey had the audience in stitches with her amusing and expert interpretation of The Decline of the Drama by Leacock.

Bruce George, the first of the boys, presented The Creation by Johnson admirably and deserves much credit for the fine shades of meaning which he put across so well. His, too, was a difficult selection which required ability and dexterity. Malcolm Hardy and Robert Myers both chose essays of Leacock's, How Soon Can We Start the Next Year? and A Herd in Home-spun, which, although they are amusing, take a great deal of effort to bring out successfully the ironic theme in each.

Boys' Glee Club Sings

While the judges were making their decision the audience was entertained with selections by the Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Hayden Morgan. This group sang "Stout-hearted Men," "All Through the Night," and "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp."

The English Club play, "The Tannum," completed the evening's entertainment. Between the Prize-Speaking Contest and the English Club Play, Mr. Green awarded Newtonite Charms to the following for outstanding work on the school paper: Hugh Tomb, Barclay Feather, Jane Dealy, Stanton Loring, Theodore Barnett, Alan Gordon, Rosamond Simpkins, Stuart Stern, Leon Lipson, Evelyn Waddell, Elmer Ross, Richard Massell, James Martin and Earle Carlton.

Microphone Club Broadcasts April 8

With music supplied by Kenneth Grinnell and Phyllis Ellis and vivid sketches written by June Nesbitt and John Wright, the Microphone Club presented its second broadcast of the season over WBZ on April 8th, on the origin of Civil War songs. The dexterous fingers of Kenneth Grinnell on the xylophone and Phyllis Ellis on the piano formed a musical background for the brief, informing dramas on the songs' origins.

Norman Ross, Frank Scheel, Miriam Cronin and June Nesbitt skillfully portrayed the famous characters. John Wright was the announcer.

The Aviation Club, ably directed by Mr. Daniel Willard, is now planning for 1938 a state-wide model airplane meet under the sanction of the National Aeronautic Society. Recent recognition of the club was made in a two hundred fifty page book, "Progress Report of Aviation Development in Massachusetts," prepared as a Works Progress Administration Project. This report said in part: "The Aviation Club of the Newton High School is not a part of the regular school curriculum. It is, rather, an activity open to all boys and girls passing in every subject, to learn more about aviation from those actively engaged in its various fields and to learn to fly, if they care to do so. The instructor for the Newton High School Aviation Club is Mr. Daniel P. A. Willard. Mr. Willard is obviously well qualified for the position as his connection with aviation dates back to 1917 and his experience covers many phases of the industry. He is, also, well versed in the academic arts, having been connected with adult education since 1916 and is at present a member of the faculty at Newton High School. The Aviation Club was started in 1928 with ten boys. Last year the membership reached one hundred, with as many more on the waiting list. This year there are seventy-five members. There are over thirty different extra-curricular activities at Newton High School; hence club membership shows wide variation from year to year. The Club meets once a month at the school on the first Thursday of the month, and it has been the practice to fly at some airport on the following Saturday. Guests at the Club discuss both theory and practice. The study of meteorology is emphasized. Model building is given for those who desire it. Flying training is given under trained supervision. Last year seventeen leaders of aviation addressed the Club, including the Director of the Bureau of Air Commerce, Eugene Vidal. Five student-pilots were licensed and four flew solo. The meteorology instructor is a former University of Maine professor.

Glass-Blowers' Language
Glass-blowers speak a language of their own, says Literary Digest. Blowers are known as "gaffers." They are assisted by "gatherers." The small amount of glass they work with is called "gather," and a "punky stick" and a "glory hole" are important aids in the difficult process.

HEALTH IN THE MENU

by Margaret Fossitt

HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR
BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

So many young housekeepers have asked me, "How can I manage when preparing a meal to have everything done at the same time?" Casserole dishes seem to be one answer to this question. They are usually inexpensive, may be prepared in the morning and kept in the refrigerator until time to put in the oven. They are served from the dish in which they are cooked and are a good way to use up leftovers.

Fruit Betty
1 c. butter
2 c. bread crumbs
1/2 c. sugar
2 apples
2 bananas
1 c. diced pineapple
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. salt
1/2 c. pineapple juice

Melt butter, mix with the bread crumbs and add the sugar. Slice the fruit, sprinkle with lemon juice and seasonings. Arrange in alternate layers with the crumb mixture in a greased baking dish. Moisten with the crumbs and bake in a 400° gas oven for 1 hour. Serve with whipped cream, garnish with sliced bananas. This recipe serves 6 persons.

Chocolate Princess Pudding
3 c. milk
2 squares chocolate
1 1/2 c. soft bread crumbs
3 eggs

The Encyclopedia Britannica says that 1745 is the earliest date assignable and that both words and music had been evolved out of earlier forms; also that Bull's is the earliest form of the air. Prussia, Denmark and other countries used this tune, but whether they took it from England or from older sources cannot be determined.

Amphioxus First Known to Have Had a Backbone

About 400,000,000 years or more ago Nature created the Amphioxus—the first animal that is known to have had a semblance of a backbone. Nature was a good craftsman in this work, for the Amphioxus has come down to us, through all these millions of years, in almost unchanged condition. It is found throughout temperate and tropical regions in just as primitive a form as it was eons ago, according to a scientist in the New York Herald Tribune. In American waters it is found as a slender, wormlike creature about two inches long, but in Japanese waters it reaches a length of ten inches.

Out of the Amphioxus came the sharks, the fishes, the reptiles, the quadrupeds, the mammals, the primates and finally man. If Amphioxus had failed in its duty as a link in the chain of evolution or had differentiated itself in some other fashion, the human race might never have eventuated out of its primal protoplasm. Some other animal form might today be reigning as lords of this terrestrial ball. Amphioxus, therefore, holds a key position in the evolutionary process of vertebrates and in the early days carried heavy responsibility for starting the whole group of beings with bones toward their ultimate destiny.

Although the Amphioxus is classed with the vertebrates, it has neither backbone nor cranium. Where these bony structures are found in the more advanced types of animals, the Amphioxus has only a cartilage rod. It is but a routine step from the cartilage to the bony structure.

Did Not Know "America" Tune Same as "Save King"

When Samuel F. Smith wrote "America" in 1832, he did not know that he was writing a song to the same tune as "God Save the King." He found the tune in a German music book brought to this country by William C. Woodbridge and turned over by him to Lowell Mason, states a writer in the Detroit News. Mason had asked Smith to translate the verses or to write a few original poems to go with the music. As he glanced through the collection, he was struck by one tune which seemed to him simple and spirited and he noticed that the German words were patriotic. This gave him the inspiration to write a hymn for this country.

The origin of the words of "God Save the King," as well as of the tune is in doubt. Henry Carey and John Bull are both mentioned in this connection. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that 1745 is the earliest date assignable and that both words and music had been evolved out of earlier forms; also that Bull's is the earliest form of the air. Prussia, Denmark and other countries used this tune, but whether they took it from England or from older sources cannot be determined.

Naming Days and Months

Religion and romance, as well as considerable ingenuity, entered into the first naming of the days and the months. Although in more modern times we accepted the Roman names for the months, the names of the days of the week are, with one exception, directly derived from our Saxon ancestors, observes a writer in London Answers Magazine. Their days were dedicated to leading gods of the time. For sheer poetic descriptive titling of the months it is impossible to do better than those old Anglo-Saxons. Translated their month names meant, beginning with January: Chilly month, vegetation month, spring month, grass month, flower month, summer month, hay month, harvest month, autumn month, wine month, slaughter month (when cattle were killed and dried for winter larders), and winter month.

Two Things Certain

Our Ancestors

You have billions of ancestors. First you had a father and mother. Each of them had a father and mother. That makes six ancestors already. Again, each of them must have had a father and mother, and that makes 12. So we go on, back to the time of Christ, which works out at about 58 generations of 33 years each. The calculation shows, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly, that 144,207,695,790,946,939 births must have taken place to bring you into the world. And all this since the birth of Christ only, not since the beginning of time.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, April 18.

The Golden Text is: "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. . . . For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise" (Psalms 51: 10, 16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Every pang of repentance and suffering, every effort for reform, every good thought and deed, will help us to understand Jesus' atonement for sin and aid its efficacy; but if the sinner continues to pray and repent, sin and be sorry, he has little part in the atonement,—in the at-one-ment with God,—for he lacks the practical repentance, which reforms the heart and enables man to do the will of wisdom" (p. 19). Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by the Old Colony Trust Company, a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in said Boston, Trustee under the will of Frank T. Cram, to register and confirm its title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land rights or easements as follows: rights to enter upon, pass over and use the land and ways owned by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts set forth or referred to in the above mentioned deed.

Petitioner admits the above described land is subject to the right of City of Newton to lay, maintain and repair a main drain and common sewer in a portion of said premises shown in blue on a plan recorded with said Deeds in Plan Book 304, Page 33.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

HOME MODERNIZING & GENERAL BUILDING PAGE

GEORGE P. STUART, Consulting Architect

Questions and Answers

Mr. Stuart will be pleased to answer questions relating to home modernizing and building. Inquiries may be addressed to him c/o Newton Graphic.

We have a Colonial house with a sun room at one end and an open porch at the other end. They have flat decks with tar and gravel roof which has only been on a few years and both leak. Will you kindly advise how long a roof of this kind should last?

A flat tar and gravel or composition roof is built up with so many ply of felt and hot pitch. A 5 ply roof is the customary roof and when properly laid with best grade material should last 15 years or more. The flashings also play an essential part in a good roof. Some builders will try to save a little money by having a cheap roof laid and the owner later pays the bill. These inferior roofs are generally only 3 or 4 ply. In buying or building a house it is customary to receive from the builder a guarantee on the roofs. The surest way to guard against leaky roofs is to employ a reliable roofer.

I would like a stone fireplace in living room of house we are building and the contractor says we must use yellow fire brick on inside. Is it not possible to use stone as it would look better.

Most stone would be very satisfactory in place of fire brick providing they are laid up well with good mortar. It would be well, however, to test the stone under fire first as certain type of stone will crack or explode when subjected to excessive heat. Care should be taken to select stones that do not scale off. Sometimes laying up stone with the grain perpendicular will have a tendency to scale.

What height would you suggest making window sills from the floor? Window stools in the first story should be lower than in bedrooms. Living room sills should be kept as low as 16" to 18" while bedroom sills might be placed from 24" to 30" depending upon the design of house and space required under stools.

Economy in Automatic Heat

Economy in automatic heat is, of course, governed by both the type of heating equipment installed and the proper running of the system. Wasting of fuel is not always noticeable. The first cost of a good heating plant is secondary to the comfort and economy in running the system over a period of years.

Drunken, Hit-Run Drivers Fined

A youth and a young man were tried in the Newton court last Thursday on three similar charges—drunkenness, driving while under the influence of liquor, and leaving the scene of an accident without making themselves known. Both were found guilty.

Rosario Rizzo, 17, of 32 Bolton st., Waltham was fined $50 for driving while under the influence of liquor, given a suspended prison sentence of 90 days for his hit-run stunt, and fined $5 for drunkenness. He was tried by Judge Murray of Milford. On the night of March 23 a car driven by Rizzo hit a car driven by Edward Veducchio of Riverdale ave., Nonantum. The crash occurred at California and Jasset sts. Rizzo then fled and was pursued through several Nonantum streets by Veducchio. As Rizzo emerged onto California st. again from Dalby st., his car hit another automobile, injuring two occupants of that car.

Samuel Forsyth, 27, of 1243 South st., Needham was fined $25 for driving while under the influence of liquor, given a 30 days suspended prison sentence for hit-run, and a drunkenness charge against him was placed on file. He was tried by Judge Weston. Forsyth was arrested on Sun day, April 4 after the car he was driving had hit two other cars on the Worcester turnpike at Newton Highlands. When he continued to drive after the collisions Forsyth's car tipped over as he tried to turn onto Woodcliff rd.

High-Priced Fuel
 When Thomas Carlyle had completed, after three years' work, the first volume of his classic history of the French Revolution, he sent it to John Stuart Mill to read. Mill's housekeeper, looking for waste paper with which to start a winter fire, picked up the manuscript and used it to copy her blaze going. Carlyle had no copy or notes, and had to do the entire job all over again.

Stained Glass Windows Can Increase Reverence

Down through the centuries stained glass windows have told their story in a quiet way. The early Christian Churches were in the form of Basilicas, adapted from Pagan Temples, often erected with the very stones of which they were built. As reading was not universal, the walls were covered with paintings interpretive of the Theology of the day and these served as constant reminders to the people of the doctrines of the Church. When the more Ecclesiastical style of architecture was adopted, the vast wall spaces were designed for windows.

In the earlier centuries mosaic was largely used in Ecclesiastical buildings and it was a natural adaptation of mosaic work to its use in stained glass windows. Many early windows are pieces of glass leaded together, giving a kaleidoscope effect of color and the rare beauty of the juxtaposition of these colors achieved a jeweled effect.

Gradually the colored windows produced symbolic representation; the artist was called in to introduce the animate and inanimate through his delineation of the forms, outlined in the design of the glass from the cutter's bench. These early drawings in some cases seem grotesque but in many medieval windows a monumental grandeur and dignified proportion was obtained when at the proper distance and right setting.

Today a controversial subject is the interpretation of these masterful medieval figures in so-called modern terms or the almost frank reproduction of the medieval figures. It hardly seems as though we have improved on the rich colors of the early Gothic glass or the delicacy in tonality of the later periods. Therefore, with our heritage of academic and cultural training in making the figure, is it not a retrograde tendency to be too much influenced by these old world figures. Is it not possible that ugly, distorted and unreal figures can have their influence of retarding spiritual development, whereas windows designed with color and ornament in harmony with architectural surroundings and in their making kept loyal to the proportions, attitudes and expression that characterize the effort towards the beauty and serenity achieved by serious artists, may be uplifting.

44000 basis. Moreover, there are several department heads of this city who have been receiving $4000 for years, who have many times more subordinates to supervise than has the head of the Public Buildings Department, whose department budgets are several times larger than that of the Public Buildings Department. How does Mayor Childs reason that it would be just to these department heads to start Mr. Campbell with $600 more yearly than they receive? The Mayor is showing an economic trend. With a welfare burden of nearly $500,000 facing taxpayers of Newton for the coming year, with huge welfare expenses apparently a permanent responsibility, does the Mayor favor salary increases for well paid officials when economic conditions are as they are. He refused the request of one department head this year for a $500 increase, then softened and recommended a $100 increase. In justice to the heads of the departments in the City of Newton, with two exceptions, none has asked for a salary increase during the depression years.

A few years ago the city built an incinerator at Newton Highlands at a cost of about $175,000. This expensive plant was built to end the nuisance of dumps, with their accompanying fires and vermin nuisance, to stop paper being scattered from dumps over wide areas. Now, we understand, there is a move under way to have the city sell the rubbish to a private party who will salvage waste paper, which now is in demand and bringing good prices. Before the city enters into any contract on this proposition, it had better consider if by so doing it will create another nuisance. If there is profit in reclaiming waste, the city should take advantage of it. There is room at Eliot st. to erect a sorting shed.

This feature section is designed to help readers with problems pertaining to home modernizing and general building. During the past few years there have been many improvements made in building products, furnishings and construction methods that make for comfort, attractiveness and permanency, and we hope to present articles along these lines from week to week.

Most homes need improvements of one kind or another, and people are interested in bringing their residences up-to-date. Modernizing of various kinds can do much to make the home more enjoyable. The field for new building in Newton has steadily increased with over four million dollars expended last year for building construction. At present many fine estates are being developed in various sections and for those planning to build we hope to be of service.

Churches throughout the City require more or less attention. Masonry walls need repointing and waterproofing to stop further deterioration. New painting, decorating, windows and furnishings are needed. Much can be done to other buildings to make them of more value. Improved store fronts and renovations are continually in demand.

We trust the articles presented will be helpful and that readers will feel free to call for information and estimates upon companies who make this section possible. Requests for advice on modernizing and general building may be sent to the consulting architect.

Building Specification Aids

The purpose of this column is to present general specifications for building and modernizing. Readers might like to save this series for future reference.

Drains and Connections
 The contractor is to furnish and set cast iron sleeves in foundation walls where plumbing and service pipes or conduits enter the building through walls. Sleeves to be at least 1" larger in diameter than the service pipes or conduits. Waterproof and caulk around same after the service pipes are in place.

Contractor is to have Akron pipes of proper sizes connected with sewer side, use iron sleeves in foundation walls and connect with lumber's pipes outside foundation walls. Drains to have cemented joints and water tested and inspected in accordance with building requirements.

The water supply is to be of sufficient size to allow an adequate supply of water for entire building. The contractor is to pay for running all supply pipe and for making all connections. Also make all arrangements with the gas and electric companies for running in service and have all necessary connections made. Where rain water conductors do not enter surface drain the contractor is to provide dry wells as indicated on the plans. Dry wells to be built of loose stone, diameter given and to be connected with Akron pipe sizes as shown. Akron pipe to be laid with good pitch with protected open joints and where connected with conductor pipes are to run up with cast iron pipe and caulked.

Knotty Pine Paneling

Knotty Pine is as effective in the living room or den of a modest home as in a club lounge or the directors' room of a large corporation. Its beauty does not depend upon intricate designs or sumptuous furnishings. Either random or even widths of Knotty Pine boards may be machined to a tasteful pattern and applied vertically to the walls of a room with a minimum of hand labor. This keeps the cost down but gives the same interesting pattern of grain and knots found in more expensively moulded and shaped paneling. Your selection of a pattern, type of knots and finish gives you a distinctive and individual effect without the rather high cost which many people expect to pay for fine wood paneling.

Care of Evergreens and Pruning

Proper watering of evergreens is essential in order to have healthy plants. The ground should be watered thoroughly so that the water reaches the bottom roots. Meticulously sprinkling the foliage or soil is worse than no water at all. Thorough watering twice a week is usually sufficient, but this depends on weather and other conditions. After watering, stir the soil to a depth of one inch, as this preserves the moisture.

In late fall it is well to cover the ground around the plants with a mulch of two or three inches of well-rotted stable manure or peat moss. The manure should be allowed to remain over the winter, and worked into the soil in the spring.

Where it is desired to keep plants small it is necessary to "root prune." This is done by pushing a spade the entire depth of the blade into the soil in a circle around the plant. The size of this circle should be determined by the spread of the branches. The foliage of the finer foliaged plants should be sheared and the coarser foliaged plants, such as pines and spruces, pruned with a knife. This root pruning with the shearing makes it possible to keep plants low and compact for a long time. The best time to shear or prune is in June, but it may be done at any time.

Annual Meetings and Other Programs

West Newton Community Service Club

The Annual Meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton will be held at the Second Church on Wednesday, April 21st. Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson and her committee will be in charge of the Luncheon, which will be served at 1 o'clock.

At 2 o'clock the business meeting will begin. Short reports of the various activities of the Club will be given, followed by the election of officers.

The Program committee, of which Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg is chairman, will present as the speaker of the afternoon Alice Howland Macomber, who will describe her interesting and thrilling "Deep Sea Stroll," illustrating it with moving pictures of her adventures under the water in a bathing suit and diving helmet, and with beautifully-colored slides of Bermuda sea life. All who have heard Mrs. Macomber speak have commented on the delightful quality of her voice and enunciation, and the humor of her account of this dangerous adventure.

On Wednesday, March 31st, the Club gave a very successful Card Party for the benefit of the Club charities at the homes of Mrs. Norman H. Bingham, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. George F. Earnshaw, Mrs. Charles L. Hathaway, Miss Caroline A. and Miss Louise W. Lovett, and Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie.

On Monday, April 5th, the Glee Club members were entertained by Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, of Otis street. Mrs. George S. Fuller, president of the Community Service Club; Mrs. Clarence S. Marden, publicity chairman; Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr. and Mrs. George H. Fernald, Jr. were guests of honor. All present were very enthusiastic over the arrangements for the Spring Festival, which will be given at the Warren Junior High School on Friday, May 14th. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Dort served refreshments.

Social Science Club

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held in the Parlors of Channing Church on Wednesday, April 21st, at 10 a. m.

Dr. Donald Wyman, of the Arnold Arboretum will speak on "The Great Garden of Them All." This will be a Guest meeting.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Fred A. Gay and Mrs. C. K. Reiman.

Newton Community Club

The International Relations committee will hold its final group meeting for consideration of the topic "Is Our National Defense Adequate?" at the home of Mrs. Chester C. Smith, 54 Shorncliffe road, Newton, at 2:15 p. m., on Monday, April 26th.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club met Friday morning, April 9th, at 11:30 o'clock, for the Annual business Meeting and election of officers. The chairman of the committees gave reports of the year's work. Mrs. Harry R. Marshall, chairman of the Education committee, announced that Ann Hitchcock, outstanding in her High School ratings, had been awarded The Jennie C. Harwood Scholarship for the next year. This was received with prolonged applause. The treasurer gave an itemized report for the year. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock; first vice-president, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather; second vice-president, Mrs. George H. Crosbie; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Harry Hutchinson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eleanor B. The morning closed with a group of songs by the Club Chorus, directed by Madame Apolline Blair, "Grace Before Singing," "Waters Ripple and Flow," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Auf Wiedersehen."

Leonard, the charming Charter member still living in Newton was presented with a birthday cake, with lighted candles. Mrs. Leonard was a member of the table where were seated the former presidents of the Club, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Mrs. Henry H. Kendall, Mrs. William E. Shedd, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Miss Edith Gammons, Mrs. Frank N. Nathan, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. Willard Dalrymple, Mrs. Frederick M. Gibson, who came from New York for the occasion, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. Alden H. Speare, and Mrs. George Willard Smith.

The Club House was fragrant with spring flowers, many being the gifts of friends and relatives of early Club members. The Exhibit of Programs, Photographs, Year Books, and Documents pertaining to the growth of the Club was in charge of Mrs. Sidney R. Porter and Mrs. William E. Shedd. For months Mrs. Porter had gone through the records and files of the Club from the first meeting, including the files of THE NEWTON GRAPHIC, to obtain the material for both the Pageant-Playlet and the Exhibit of documents. In a prominent place was the shovel with which the first shovelful of dirt was dug for the Club House. A beautiful gold and white program for the afternoon performance was the gift of friends who desired to remain unknown. On the frontispiece of the program was the poem entitled "A Toast to Fifty Years" written by Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr. and photographed.

Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock was the dramatic coach for the Pageant-Playlet. Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, Mrs. H. Nelson Hartstone, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Noetzel were in charge of the stage and lighting. Mrs. Emily Coolidge Reid, of Cambridge, wrote the text. Frank and Chester in Newton Centre gave fringed dolmans and bustled dresses of fifty years ago.

Nominated To Serve State Federation

The Nominating committee of the State Federation has presented their list of candidates for election at the Annual Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Swampscott, May 17th, 18th, and 19th. This is always awaited with keen interest. Newton has the pleasure of learning that our own Mrs. John F. Capron, of Newton Centre, has been nominated to serve as clerk. To clubwomen of the Twelfth District Mrs. Capron is well-known, as she endeared herself to them during her service as director of the District, which office she gave up in 1936. Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, of Waban, who succeeded her at that time, will continue as District director next year. Mrs. Capron also was president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club from 1931 to 1933.

Mrs. John H. Kimball, who has served the State Federation one year, will continue as president. Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, first vice-president; Mrs. David A. Westcott, second vice-president; Mrs. Herbert F. French, third vice-president; Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., the fourth vice-president; and Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, treasurer, have been nominated also to continue in office.

Besides the change in clerk, new names are given for recording secretary and corresponding secretary: Mrs. John R. Dallinger, of Canton; and Mrs. A. Wilson Atwood, of Worcester.

In eight of the sixteen districts of the State there will be changes in directors. Those nominated are: Mrs. George N. Allen, of Provincetown; First district; Mrs. Edgar Tregoning, of Attleboro; Third; Mrs. Edwin Troland, of Malden; Eighth; Mrs. Joseph T. Moulton, of Gloucester; Ninth; Mrs. Charles W. Putnam, of Amesbury; Tenth; Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood, of Clinton; Eleventh; Mrs. Percy N. Osborne, of Longmeadow; Fourteenth; and Mrs. Robert O. Harper, of Great Barrington; Sixteenth District.

In keeping with her slogan, "Dare To Be Different," Mrs. John H. Kimball, president of the State Federation, has many suggestions and innovations for the Annual Meeting at Swampscott that are most intriguing. Juniors will assemble on Saturday, May 15th, and division Round-Tables will be held for them at the afternoon session. Sunday evening vespers service will be held. President, Directors, and Chairmen will march in a Recessional on Tuesday evening, May 18th, and each is requested to wear a corsage instead of carrying the usual armful of flowers. No flowers will be given on the platform at the last session; instead a surprise feature has been planned.

On Tuesday morning there will be a Conference of Presidents; a Club Institute and Department and Division Forums, with a break in the program at mid-morning so that meetings will be available to more people. Musical programs will include the Worcester Woman's Club Chorus, on Monday afternoon, May 17th, and the Andover Male Choir on Tuesday. Garden walks will be directed by Mrs. George T. Hart, Jr., ninth District director, and outstanding speakers upon subjects of current interest to clubwomen will be presented.

Winners for Massachusetts in the General Federation Press Contest sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune have been announced by Mrs. Grace Allen Bangs, director, Bureau for Clubwomen: First Prize: Mrs. Blanche D. Sampson, of the Holyoke Woman's Club; second prize: Mrs. William Elliot, of the Methuen Woman's Club. Eighteen entries were received by the State Press division, and the six best have been forwarded to New York. State Prize winners are entered in the National Contest; the winner to receive an award of $50 at the Council Meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Tulsa, Oklahoma, April 27th to 30th.

and the wearers adopted the mincing footsteps of that decade. Each Episode portrayed the highlights of a decade from the Club's formation down to the present year. Mrs. Willard Dalrymple gave the Prologue, and Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock the Epilogue, in which she handed "the light" to Miss Lisbeth Hill Shafer, the president of the Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club, that the Juniors may carry on in the future.

The conversation of the ladies who entered into forming a Woman's Club with trepidation, it would seem of what husbands and the Minister would say of neglect of housewifely duty, was very amusing.

Ann Hitchcock, wearing a green taffeta with voluminous skirt, trimmed with pink rosebuds, gave a graceful rendering of The Minuet of Grandmamma's Day, as an example of early programs enjoyed, taking the character of Miss Lillian Harrington, who appeared before the Club at one time. The great event of having Julia Ward Howe (Elizabeth Nathan), Hezekiah Butterworth (William Noetzel), and Joseph Cook (Leland Arnold); with Mrs. Howe a real "character" of surprising remarks, and the two authors, adorned with burlesques and chin wipers, was very real. A delightful touch, and one that stirred emotion, was hearing unexpectedly the beautiful chimes of the Baptist Church across the street, rung by Kathryn W. Ford, just at the close of the recital of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," by "Julia Ward Howe."

Restoration Of Gov. Gore Mansion Open Lecture

The Newtonville Garden Club is offering to the residents of Newtonville and neighboring cities the worthwhile opportunity to hear Mr. Bradford Williams, Landscape Architect, speak on "The Romance of Gore Place." It is to be an illustrated lecture designed to acquaint his audience with the work of restoration that is being done to the mansion and estate of former Governor Gore in Waltham. It is surprising how few people know of this undertaking which will restore not only the house but also the gardens to their original splendor. A great deal of research is being carried on so that the restoration may be authentic. The lecture, which will take place on Thursday morning, April 22nd, at 10:15 o'clock, at the Club House of the Newtonville Woman's Club, obviously should be of interest to members of Historical Societies as well as to Garden Club members. Tickets may be obtained from Newtonville Garden Club members or at the door.

made even more entertaining by the remarks, as the Groups departed, of two portraits of presidents, Mrs. Robert R. Bishop, the first president, and Mrs. Alvah Hovey, the third, who found some things to approve, but who, hardly knew what to think of the garb and antics of the Conditioning Class. They decided, however, that on the whole the future of the Club was safe in the hands of these newer generations, and that they would not need to come back so often to watch what was going on!

A most artistic arrangement of music was rendered during the entire program. The music played by Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather during the afternoon was especially selected for each Episode. Several numbers were given by the Ladies Double Quartette, Martha Wright, Marion Merrill, Dorothy MacKillop, Marcia Wilder, Gertrude Cunnier, Grace Chandler, Elsie Bishop, and Beatrice Eastman. Two violin selections were rendered by Marguerite Estaver, accompanied by Mrs. Mather. The finale was a number by Mrs. Mather and Mrs. Ford played on the two pianos.

The eight o'clock ceremony took place in the Union Church of Waban and was performed by the rector, Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald and by the bride's uncle, Rev. Miss Elizabeth Roe of Waban was maid of honor, and in the group of bridesmaids were Miss Gertrude (Gwin) Coffin of Brookline, Miss Laura Nelson, of Atherton, Calif.; Miss A. Perry Gibson of Leesburg, Va.; Miss Mary Wyatt Scott of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Annette Philbrick of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Marian Thomas of Winnetka, Ill. District Nursing Asso

The Newton District Nursing Association held its regular monthly board meeting on April 12, 1937, at Headquarters, with Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, president, presiding.

Committee chairmen gave interesting reports of work carried on during the past month. Mrs. Brown, Publicity Chairman, announced the gift of many beautiful bouquets of flowers, contributed by a member of the West Newton Garden Club. These will be distributed among patients now cared for by the Association. These flowers mean a great deal to those who are confined in their homes.

Miss Nelson, Executive Director, reported statistics of work during the month of March which showed a consistent increase over that of last year. The Preschool Physical examinations carried on in the four Well Baby Conference Stations have proved conclusively the very definite value of these examinations, since many preventable conditions have been disclosed and treatment can be started early.

After the business meeting adjourned, Miss Emily Hickey, Newton Probation Officer, gave a most interesting and illuminating talk about the work of the probation officer in Newton. She mentioned the basis of co-operation between the District Nursing Association and her department—and then spoke, at length, of the functioning of the juvenile court in Newton. She stressed the importance of complete understanding between the parent and the court.

Annual Meeting of New. Ctr. Imp. Asn.

The annual meeting of the Newton Centre Improvement Association will be held on Wednesday, April 21, at 8 p. m. in the Newton Centre Library. George E. Rawson, chairman of the Newton Board of Aldermen will speak on "What the Zoning Ordinance Means to You as a Home Owner." Mr. Rawson has been making an excellent record as chairman of this important committee, and has given especial attention to the question of zoning. He has been responsible to a considerable degree for changes in zoning which now give added protection to home owners.

The regular meeting of the Lucy Jackson, D. A. R., was held at the Chapter house on Monday, April 12th, at 2:30 p. m.

Previous to the meeting many of the members and their guests visited old St. Mary's Church next the Chapter house and were delighted with its beautiful Colonial architecture and many items of interest.

The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Amos Wells, the chaplain, who also read an inspiring poem and recited a very beautiful prayer.

Reports showed the recent card parties and rummage sale were highly successful.

A number of the members were dressed in the quaint and beautiful gowns and bonnets of days of yore and still others wore charming pieces of antique jewelry.

The afternoon was one of rare pleasure as Mrs. Enid Louise Fairbairn, a direct descendant of Gov. Bradford, described her great, great grandmother's kitchen and the daily activities there. So vivid were her descriptions that we readily pictured her great, great grandmother, busy from morn till eve among her gleaming pewter dishes and heavy iron and wooden utensils, making huge quantities of food for present and future use. But with all her culinary duties she still found time to make exquisite hand-run lace, piece quilts and embroider beautiful and artistic spreads, some of which Mrs. Fairbairn displayed. She also showed many antique kitchen utensils and explained their use.

Among our guests was Mrs. Gertrude Barnard of Worcester, a member of the State Board. Mrs. Leigh M. Nisbet and her committee served dainty refreshments from a table decorated with fragrant pink and yellow roses. Mrs. Frank A. Day in very beautiful rose pink brocade silk with lace bertha and an antique bonnet (not so very different from the new spring styles) served coffee and Mrs. Edward K. Titus, in a most attractive and becoming plum colored silk gown with bonnet to match, served sherbet.

Long after the meeting was over, many of the members remained to examine, admire and ask questions about the various articles exhibited.

This is Newton's first big choral and instrumental ensemble for the Junior High Schools. Parents will find a real treat in the performance.

On Friday, April 9th, Mr. Paul Carmack, cartoonist and comic strip writer of the Boston Transcript, was the central figure in an instructive and amusing assembly period. Mr. Carmack sketched several of Mr. Thomas Nast's immortal creations, including the G. O. P. Elephant and the Democratic Donkey, and then went on to explain with the aid of a piece of charcoal the cartoonist's ideal character, a person with some outstanding characteristic of face or form which makes it easy for the artist to make his character unmistakable. John Fairfield introduced the speaker of the day and was assisted on the platform by Eben Blackett.

Many of the pupils of the F. A. Day together with boys and girls from the other Newton schools are preparing to take part in a musical program given by the first ensemble chorus of junior high school units in Newton. Mr. Morgan, the head of the music department in Newton, is directing the chorus and has already had a rehearsal. The four-part singing of the chorus and the music of the ensemble orchestra as well as of the brass and wood wind ensembles promise to be a noteworthy event.

The F. A. Day has entered another record of a radio broadcast in the competition which is to be judged at Ohio State University early in May. The second record is of the recent broadcast over WBZ which was presented by the members of the ninth grade Latin divisions of the school.

This season for the first time the seventh grade will organize a seven team soft ball league. This game is rapidly becoming popular with all age groups; in many of the smaller schools and in various organized groups it has taken the place of the hard baseball.

The seventh grade home rooms, under the direction of Mr. Thornton, will play a total of twelve games, two games with each team. These games will be handled by boy umpires and score keepers, who will be trained and assisted in their duties.

Since there are only six boys in Room 9, they will be allowed to choose one boy from each of the other home rooms in order to bring their squad up to twelve. They will play under the name of Brown and will be captained by Tony Panagallo. Home Room 27 as the Yale team will be led by Robert Higgins and Joe Hayes. Room 12, Columbia, has chosen George Norcross as captain. Room 13 playing under the name of Harvard has Wayne Underhill and Charles MacDonald as co-captains; Neal O'Hara will lead Penn State, Room 24; Dartmouth from Room 20 also has co-captains in Billy McMahon and Jerry Gelsler; while Room 17 playing as Princeton will be captained by Gus Blanche.

The Camera Club, under the guidance of Mr. Morse and its officers, Janet McEwan, Bill McCormick, and Helen Marks has had a very busy season. Pictures of the Red Cross Club and the Boys' Hobby Club and the stage setting and the cast of the characters of the "Mikado" have been on display.

Speeder Wouldn't Stop, Fined $30

Robert Hurley, 20, of 100 Chestnut st., West Newton, a high school student, was fined $25 in the Newton court last Thursday by Judge Allen for refusing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman. He was also fined $5 for speeding. He appealed. Patrolman McDonough testified that he signalled Hurley to stop on Washington st., as the latter came speeding along, but the West Newton young man ignored the signal. McDonough commanded a car and gave chase, but Hurley escaped, detouring through Bacon st. The policeman, however, had observed the registration numbers on the car driven by Hurley.

Strike at Mill In Nonantum

Some of the young men and girls employed at the Futurity Thread Company, 59 Chapel st., Nonantum, went out on strike on Tuesday. They have since been picketing in front of the factory on Chapel st., some of them carrying hand-printed signs bearing their demands for higher wages and less hours of work. According to the strikers, they want a minimum of $18 a week pay for 40 hours work. Among some of the alleged grievances they stated are: that some of the girls have received as little as $7 for a week's pay on piece work, that at times some of the girls have worked after having punched out on the time clocks, and that some of the young men have worked as long as 60 hours per week. Complaint was made that a bonus system which had been in effect at the factory was abandoned, and that a raise in wages offered as a substitute had not been definitely settled. The strikers claimed that a majority of the employees had quit work.

The management of the Futurity Thread Company states, that of 150 employees, only 35 went out on strike and none of these are skilled employees. The management states that the Futurity Thread Company has been operating under the rules of the Cotton Textile Institute, which compel a minimum wage of $13 a week, that no girl employees have worked more than 48 hours, as the inspectors of the State Department of Labor carefully supervise the conditions at the mill, and that any of the employees who worked 60 hours did so of their own volition, making more wages by so doing. There are two shifts employed at the mill. The management of the mill says that the strike was caused because the bonus system was stopped. Each three months, one week's extra pay was given to employees as a bonus. Instead it is planned to increase wages and piece work rates to offset the discontinued bonus. The management claim that the strikers are composed of the younger employees at the mill, led by a few malcontents.

Playground Dept. Wants Buildings

The Newton Playground Commission at a meeting held last Thursday night voted to recommend to Mayor Childs and the School Committee that in the future when new school buildings are planned, provision be made for a semi-detached wing to each new school. The purpose of such additions to school buildings is so they may be used for game and crafts work purposes during school periods, and as community recreational centers at night. The Commission voted to establish recreation centers at the Bowen School in Thompsonville and at the Emerson School in Upper Falls, similar to the centres at the Stearns School, Nonantum, and the Davis School, West Newton.

It was stated at the meeting that residents of Duncklee st., Newton Highlands are objecting to the use of that street as an approach to the new Cold Spring playground.

Must Work In Return For Aid

Former service men who have been obtaining soldier's relief from the City of Newton will have to work in the future if they are physically able. This rule has applied for years to men who have been on the welfare relief rolls. It was put into effect this week by Edmund Dungan, who is director of Soldier's Relief in this city, after he had conferred with State officials. Single men will have to work two days each week, and married men (who receive more aid), three days. About 30 men will be affected. There are 120 persons who receive soldier's aid from the city. Many of these are women, widows of former service men. After Mr. Dungan announced the new rule, four men who had been obtaining this type of relief, gave information that they had procured employment.

Labor Laws Broken By Newton Firm

The Bradley Boston Company, a concern doing a mail order business at 392 Centre st., Newton, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday on four charges of violating the State labor laws. Miss Agnes Power of the Department of Labor was the complainant. It was charged that on March 5 several of the girl employees of the company were employed over 9 hours. Other charges were that some of the girls worked more than 48 hours in one week, and that education certificates were not filed for two minors. Judge Allen continued the case until October 23. He said that on that date a finding of guilty would be made and the case filed. A condition of this ruling was—that none of the girls involved will be discharged from their employment by the company during that period.

Asks Day Off in 6 For Policemen

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night Alderman Cronin moved that the city ordinance be amended so that Newton policemen shall receive one day off in each six days. The matter was referred to the Claims and Rules Committee.

Alderman Temperley offered a resolution suggesting that Mayor Childs consider a plan to have city employees salvage waste paper at the city yard on Eliot st. near the incinerator. Waste paper now is bringing high prices and private parties have made offers to the city for its purchase.

Newton League Of Women Voters Meets

A regular meeting of the Newton League of Women Voters was held on Friday, April 16, at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Gerrity, 69 Farlow Rd., Newton Corner. The meeting was especially interesting as showing the sort of work done by League members.

Three papers were read by members of the study group on High Lights of the State Government, carried on during the winter under the direction of Mrs. Robert T. Bushnell. Each member of the group took a subject for investigation and these papers were the result.

Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen spoke on the State Department of Public Health. From the many interesting activities of this Department probably less familiar than most of the others are the free State aided cancer clinics. Of these there are 18 in different parts of the state. To any one of them a person who fears the possibility of cancer may go for free consultation. The need of such opportunities is shown by the fact that to a single clinic 5000 persons applied in one year.

Information about this—one of the chief causes of death in Massachusetts—is carried over the State by bulletins, health forums and radio talks, aided by co-operative cancer control committees. Thus a systematic war is waging on this terrible disease which in its early stages is so easily cured.

State Public Welfare work was described by Mrs. Harold R. Keller. The Department not only supervises corrective institutions like the reform schools, but looks after juvenile offenders and those who have been paroled. It oversees as well the administration by cities and towns of Mother's Aid, which enables a mother to keep at home the children who would otherwise have to be cared for in an institution. It is also concerned with low-cost housing and slum clearance. One Division, the State Board of Housing, created in 1934, advises cities and towns on their problems of community planning and in general looks toward improvement of conditions for the underprivileged.

Movies and their effect upon our children was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Bushnell. Too many mothers send their children to the movies to get them out of the way. "It amuses them and they don't remember anything." Such mothers should know that according to the investigation of experts, the young child after weeks or months remembers 90 per cent of what he has seen. Exciting scenes cause wakefulness or disturbed sleep, in extreme cases producing effects akin to shell shock among our soldiers.

An earnest appeal was made to urge upon our Congressmen support of the bill abolishing Block Booking and Blind Buying. At present a manager is required to take the entire year's output of a company and has no means of knowing in advance what he is getting. He is thus unable except at ruinous expense to keep his theatre as clean as he would wish and as suitable for child patrons.

There is not only room, but a crying need for musical activity in any community. Most towns have at least one orchestra, which, even though it may fall short of professional standards, gives to those who love music and enjoy playing, an opportunity to do so. Newton is fortunate in having as fine a men's chorus as the Highland Glee Club, not to mention the several women's choral societies. Little provision is made, however, for the numerous players of instruments who go every week to Melrose, Milton and other outlying districts in order to enjoy ensemble playing.

This year a group of musicians with the assistance of a very able committee and under the direction of Minot Beale, violinist in the Boston Symphony Orchestra, has succeeded in organizing an orchestra in which some of the best talent of the Newtons is represented. Weekly rehearsals have been faithfully attended and with excellent results. This orchestra is giving a concert on April 29 at the Newton Center Women's Club.

It is up to every citizen of Newton who has any interest whatever in music, whether actively or otherwise, to take it upon himself to attend this concert or tell his friends about it and let them see for themselves what an able organization it is and has a chance of becoming. The success of any venture, however, is dependent upon the interest shown by the public.

It somehow seems as if Newton, supposedly one of New England's most intellectual and progressive communities, is entitled to as active a musical life as any other and who is there who prefers driving from ten to twenty-five miles to a concert when he can hear just as good, and perhaps better, within walking distance?

City and Lasell Make Compromise

The controversy which has been under way for several years between the City of Newton and Lasell Junior College at Auburndale over the question of the educational institution paying taxes on a number of its buildings has reached a settlement. Formerly Lasell Seminary paid taxes to Newton on real estate valued at about a quarter of a million dollars. About a score of years ago a new law went into effect in Massachusetts exempting educational institutions not conducted for profit. Lasell, in common with a large number of other colleges and schools, ceased to pay taxes, as a result. Lasell had reorganized, and obtained a new charter as an educational institution to be operated without profit. All of the property of the old institution was conveyed to the reorganized corporation and most of the land and buildings so conveyed were used for the purposes of the seminary, later changed to a junior college.

Disagreements arose from time to time between the Newton assessors and Lasell officials as to whether, or not, certain parcels of property should be exempt from taxation. One such parcel was the former Woodland Park Hotel property which had been acquired by Lasell. In 1932 and 1933 the hotel property was not used by Lasell. It was taxed by the assessors and an appeal was taken to the State Board of Tax Appeals. In answer to the petition for abatement on the Woodland Park Hotel property, the City Solicitor raised not only the question as to whether this parcel of property should be taxed, and certain other parcels of property owned by Lasell, but also, whether or not the whole institution should not be taxed, as not being within the meaning of the statute exempting charitable institutions from local taxation. The case was tried at considerable expense to both Lasell and the city. Two or three other cases involving questions which might be decisive of the case between Newton and Lasell had been decided by the Board of Appeals on divided opinions and were taken to the Mass. Supreme Court. The Board held its decision in the Lasell case until the court should rule on the similar cases.

Since then several events have changed the situation. None of the present members of the Board of Appeals were members when the case between Lasell and the City of Newton was heard, except one member, and he did not sit on the case. These changes would require a new trial at much expense to both the city and Lasell. Lasell is again suing Woodland Park Hotel, so that eliminates the contention that the building has been abandoned for educational purposes. The court decision in the case of the Assessors of Boston versus Garland School of Home Making, has convinced City Solicitor Bartlett that the former contention of the City of Newton regarding the taxability of all of the Lasell properties is untenable. In view of these changes the Assessors and Lasell officials have agreed to a settlement whereby the city will continue to tax certain properties which in the opinion of the assessors are not devoted to educational purposes. These properties include the residences of Guy Winslow, principal of Lasell, on Woodland road; and Walter Amesbury, treasurer of Lasell, on Berkeley place, Auburndale.

Game Conservation Old
Game conservation is an ancient practice in America, according to Dr. W. C. MacLeod of New York, writing in the Scientific Monthly. He says: The Choctaw of the Southeastern United States had laws governing the amount of game which might be killed by each family. Every month each band chief had to report to the head chief just how much had been killed by each family under his control. The more northern Algonquins practically farmed the beavers. Censuses were taken every year, and only the young or very old animals were slain for use. Disregard for conservation principles is believed to have been the cause of the war in which the Iroquois exterminated the Eries. The latter trespassed on Iroquois territory and acted contrary to the customs of all Indians, for they left none of the beavers alive to continue the stock.

Rotary Club

At the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held on Tuesday Rabbi Leo Shubow was introduced as the speaker by Lyscom Bruce. He talked on the Zionist movement and Palestine, past and present. Starting the story with the coming of Abraham he spoke briefly of Moses—the Lost Tribes of Israel and the descendants of Judah and Benjamin. Leading up to modern times he mentioned the trial of Captain Dreyfus 1894—the contributions of Baron Rothschild and others towards the restoration of Palestine to the Jews and the favorable attitude by the British government sponsored by Balfour and the United States government, sponsored by Senator Lodge. Much progress has been made in the Palestine movement, there being 400,000 Jews living in Palestine today.

Mr. Floyd E. DeGroat will present the case of the old line companies with regard to savings bank life insurance at next week's meeting.

More Persons Bitten By Dogs

On Thursday and Friday of last week eight complaints against dogs were received by the Newton police. Most of the complaints resulted from the dogs biting persons. Among the dogs ordered restrained was that of Herbert Chesley, 3 Sagamore rd., Newton Highlands, on complaint of a resident of that street; a dog owned by Constantine Lupo, 236 Linwood ave., Newtonville, on complaint of William Boudrot of Melbourne ave.; a dog owned by Thomas Joyce, 1591 Washington st., West Newton, on complaint of Mrs. George Hallett, Henshaw st.; a dog owned by Henry DiMichele, Sullivan court, Upper Falls on complaints by Kenneth Lenk and Walter Babbitt; and a dog owned by Aubrey Boynton of Holden rd., West Newton, on complaint of Paul Johnson of 74 Edwy st.

Burglars Enter Newton Stores

Two stores in the block at 343-349 Washington st., Newton were broken into by burglars last Friday night, and an attempt was made to enter a third store. That the burglars were bold was evidenced by the fact the breaks were made early in the night while a drug store in the block, at the corner of Channing st., was still open. Entrance to St. Jean's Tailor Shop at 343 Washington st. was made by jimmying the rear door. Four suits of clothes were stolen from this store and the pay telephone box on the wall ripped off and taken away. At Woodward & Tyler's insurance office, 345 Washington st., the rear door was jimmyed. A cash box containing a small sum of money was stolen there. At the First National Store, 349 Washington st., the rear door, reinforced by a metal plate, resisted the jimmying attempt. The burglars then bored several holes through the wooden door in an effort to open it, but the metal thwarted them. The building is owned by Bernard Burke of the Hudson Drug Store.

Music Lovers Club Season Closes April 29

The Music Lover's Club of Boston, of which many residents of Newton are members, closed its musical season by an especially attractive concert of Tuesday, April 13th, at the Conkey Plaza Hotel, by the following well-known artists: Mildred Taylor Shaw, violinist; Blanche Haskell, soprano soloist; Ethel Demmon Clark, pianist; and Carl Lamson, accompanist.

Following the wishes of the founder, Mrs. Edith Noyes Greene, the club sponsored at each concert, some young artists, who gave real pleasure to the musical audience who heard them.

LASELL NOTES

Miss Marjorie Gilbert, daughter of Mrs. Jessie W. Gilbert of 325 Lowell ave., Newtonville, and Miss Ruth Fulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Fulton of 55 Hillside ave., West Newton are members of the Lasell committee making arrangements for the Spring Formal Dance to be held at the Hotel Sovereign on the evening of April 24. Many of the students are awaiting this interclass event with much enthusiasm. Miss Gilbert is a senior at Lasell.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley on Crescent st., Auburndale. Among the guests were Mrs. Maude Simmons, president of Middlesex County W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Mabelle Groves of Newton Centre and Miss Mildred Yates of Reading, vice-president of the Youth Temperance Council. They each gave remarks on their lines of work, and Miss Yates spoke very interestingly of temperance work among the young people. A social hour with refreshments followed the meeting. Mrs. Florence J. Allen was the assisting hostess.

Tibet's Tea-Drinkers
The natives of Tibet are the heaviest tea drinkers in the world, states a writer. The average is about 40 cups per day for each Tibetan. Theirs is a queer mixture, for they add salt, butter and soda to their tea. After churning all these ingredients together, they drink the brew with unmistakable relish. The world's largest tea bush, at Badulla, Ceylon, is 24 feet in diameter and 67 feet in circumference.

Oddest Shoe in World
A flat block of wood with a large knob which slips between the first and second toes, is the oddest shoe in the world. It is commonly worn in India.

Concert of Newton Centre Orchestra

The Newton Centre Orchestra will present its initial concert at the Newton Center Women's Club on Thursday evening, April 29th, under the direction of Minot Beale, violinist in the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The program selected is as follows:

Overture to Goethe's "Egmont," Beethoven; Symphony No. 13 in G. Major, Haydn; Intermezzo, Barcarolle, Mac-Millan-Baile; Hejre Kati, Hubay-Baile; Le Chantant Oiseau, David; Nel Cor Più Non Ni Sento, Parsiello; Return, Guion; Up From My Tears, Weaver; The Dainty Damsel, Novello; Valse Triste, Sibelius; Seville, Albeniz.

Under Mr. Beale's thoroughly capable and vigorous direction, the orchestra has developed so rapidly as to encourage the hope that the time is not far distant when Newton will have the best amateur symphony orchestra in greater Boston.

The Committee has been extremely fortunate in being able to secure a soloist for this occasion, Maria Conde, formerly a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and in private life Mrs. David Beyer of Newton Centre. Mme. Conde has written six poems which have been set to music by Frank La Forge and others by Mrs. Gulesian of Chestnut Hill. She will be accompanied by Priscilla Merriman at the piano and also by the orchestra.

The personnel of the orchestra consists of many Newton players of real ability. Violinists well known in this community are Mary Pucclerelli Scipione, who has long been associated as teacher and conductor at the All Newton Music School. Other violinists are Sigmund Romaskiewicz, Anna Kovitz, Charles Goddard, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, Mrs. E. A. Estavay, Nancy Parsley, Mrs. Harold Bates, and a dog owned by Aubrey Boynton of Holden rd., West Newton, on complaint of Paul Johnson of 74 Edwy st.

In the viola section are Frank O. Hurter and Philip Woodbridge. Everyone knows Norma Olson, talented young 'cello soloist, as well as Mrs. William Walker, A. H. Thompson, Esther Parsley and Lillian McMullen.

Familiar faces among the wind players are: W. W. Parsley, first flute; Charles Boyden, flute; William Dun, oboe; Nicholas Marro, clarinet; Nicholas Richardson, bassoon; and James Stevenson, trombone.

Many newer Newton players and a large number of capable musicians from neighboring communities, including Gustav Gerhardt, formerly of the Boston Symphony and young Bernard Valkenier, its youngest French horn player, bring the present roster of the orchestra up to fifty or more players.

The executive committee consists of Nicholas Richardson, Frank O. Hurter, Mrs. A. Phillip Gulesian, Lillian McMullen, Charles Boyden, Mary G. Ballard, Minnie Belle Brewer, Secretary; W. W. Parsley, chairman; and Nancy Parsley, Librarian.

It is hoped that a large audience will appear for what promises to be a well worth while concert.

Village Players Present "Double Door"

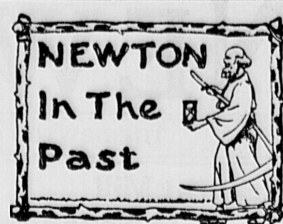

On Friday and Saturday evenings, April 30th and May 1st the Village Players of Newton will present "Double Door" by Elizabeth McFadden, at the Unitarian Parish Playhouse at Newton Centre. Mrs. William H. Brackett will direct. Mrs. H. Thaxter Spencer is production and stage manager. The cast contains Messrs. Harold E. Billings, Robert R. Reed, John H. Haddock, Donald L. Gibbs, Donald Stimson, Daniel L. Smith, Harry D. Swisher, Mrs. Wesley Dymers, Mrs. Willis E. Pattison, Miss Muriel Pearce, Miss Hannah Bond and Miss Doris Gilbert. The production staff is composed of: Mrs. William C. Noetzel, stage settings; George F. Brewer, scenery; C. Rodrick Clifford, lighting; Mrs. James Mitchell, make-up; Mrs. George F. Brewer, properties; Mrs. Mabel M. Webber, auditorium; Mrs. Lawrence C. Farwell, programs; Mrs. Frank A. Mason, tickets; William M. Blatt, publicity.

The play is one in line with the policies of the Village Players, being a good example of a modern metropolitan success, yet containing real meaning for thinking audiences, and being a commentary on current American life. It has been fortunately cast and the rehearsals have been enthusiastic.

Newton paid $12,000 last year for discounts in taxes for which no provision was made in the annual appropriations. No discount is given this year, but 12% interest is charged to all delinquents.

The auditor's report is in the hands of the printer and will soon be issued. It will be the most complete showing of the finances of Newton ever issued. Mayor Hyde presided at the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening. Mr. Speare called attention to the manner of conveyance of pupils to and from the High School. Boys and girls were closely packed in the carriage and parents had taken their children from the school rather than have them ride that way. He thought there should be separate conveyances for boys and girls. The committee from District 1 was authorized to provide such separate conveyances.

Mr. Allen submitted an order that the portion of the school report relating to promotions of pupils from class to class be referred to the Committee on Rules. He thought that examinations preparatory to admission to high school would have a better effect on the scholars than the present system. It would prove a stimulus to them through all the lower grades. Mr. Hardon said the scholars now have in the last year in grammar school ten monthly examinations by the Superintendent, and upon the average result of these examinations they were advanced. The plan is working well. The plan proposed had been tried and failed. Mr. Speare favored the plan as it would keep the standard of admission to a higher point. The order was adopted.

Mr. Hardon offered the following order, which was adopted—that the committee on school houses consider the expediency of providing two open fireplaces in the main room of the addition to the high school building for purposes of ventilation and warmth.

About 3 o'clock Thursday morning an alarm of fire from Box 73 was pulled for a fire in an unoccupied house on Centre street, near Clinton place owned by W. F. Curtis. The 1000 feet of hose on Steamer 3 was not sufficient to reach the fire from the nearest water. Before more hose was obtained the fire gained rapidly and the building was doomed. Steamer 1 was called but the fire alarm telegraph did not work correctly. The fire was not checked until four houses and a barn had been destroyed and another partly destroyed. Four of the houses were owned by Patrick Cummings. Seven families were made homeless. Steamer 3 pumped through 1800 feet of hose, much of which was poor and burst.

Newton Graphic, April 23, 1887
It is rumored that Mr. E. H. Cutler, headmaster of the high school, has resigned his position, to take effect at the end of the year. If true, we know of no announcement that would create more general regret among the parents of past and present pupils at Newton High School. It is due to him that Newton High School now ranks with the best in New England, that parents have come here from all points to reside, while their children have been fitted by him to prepare for college and the Mass. Institute of Technology, and that pupils have taken such high rank at entrance examinations.

The mere rumor that some of the school committee were inclined to favor his resignation has started dozens of petitions of protest into circulation. It is rumored that some of the best teachers will withdraw with Mr. Cutler as it is impossible for a teacher to maintain self respect and continue under the present condition of things that prevail at the high school. It is difficult for citizens who know the facts to restrain their indignation when commenting upon the political juggle which oils the school machinery.

James W. Gerard, special ambassador from the U. S. A. to the coronation of King George VI at London on May 12 has been undecided (according to a press despatch) as to what he will wear. The Forsythia shrubs have been in full bloom the past week. Those along the embankments of the Boston & Albany Railroad are particularly attractive. We have seen children, mostly girls, and old enough to know better, breaking off large quantities of the blooms from the bushes along the railroad and at Boyd Park. The police should take action to stop this depredation.

A few weeks ago a meeting was held at the West Newton Savings Bank to discuss the traffic lights on Washington street in the West Newton business district. The meeting was presided over by Alderman Gaddis of Ward 3. Among those present were the members of the Traffic Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, Traffic Engineers O'Hare and Williams of the State Department of Public Works, and about 15 or 20 West Newton business men. The meeting was called as a result of many protests against conditions which followed the installation of the traffic signals last year. Traffic moved without interruption through West Newton before the signals were placed in operation, except during the peak periods, about an hour and a half mornings and evenings, was delayed at all hours of the day and evening; lines of cars and trucks extending at times 100 yards east of Chestnut street, or west of Waltham street. The traffic signals comprised five separate units, operated electrically by means of push buttons in the streets, and by push buttons operated by pedestrians. The multiple signals caused much longer waits for motorists than ordinary signals. One of the special grievances of the West Newton business men was the elimination of angle parking on Washington and Watertown streets in the vicinity of the signals, and the substitution of parallel parking. This lessened the number of parking spaces.

As a result of the meeting at the Savings Bank, the Traffic Committee decided to temporarily stop the operation of the signals and permit vehicle traffic to proceed through the West Newton business section as it formerly did. It was intended to have the signals just blinking for two weeks; and then to have the signals in operation during the heavy traffic hours for a two-weeks period, and have only blinking lights during the rest of the day and night. But, so satisfied are the West Newton business men and automobile owners with the relief afforded by the non-operation of the signals, that the lights will continue to blink until further notice. Changes will be made in the mechanism of the signals so that pedestrians can operate the push buttons to cause red and yellow lights to show. Since the lights were stopped operating automatically, it has not been possible to use the pedestrian lights.

We have been asked to comment on the prevalence of solicitations for contributions from Newton residents for alleged charities and for purposes that by the widest stretch of the imagination cannot be considered charitable. Newton people are constantly receiving telephone calls from persons who state they represent some alleged charity, or some organization that is raising money for one purpose or another. Many of those who solicit contributions over the telephone, or by calling at homes or business places, are not residents of Newton. They are professional contribution seekers who get a percentage of any money thus obtained. It is an easy, and a cheap way to obtain funds. But, organizations with any pride will not descend to it. One man who has recently been asking contributions for an alleged mission, uses the title "Reverend" and is said to have a criminal record.

Certain organizations in Newton and elsewhere allow their names to be used by the professional contribution seekers who get a percentage of any money thus obtained. It is an easy, and a cheap way to obtain funds. But, organizations with any pride will not descend to it. One man who has recently been asking contributions for an alleged mission, uses the title "Reverend" and is said to have a criminal record.

When there are so many persons in Newton in need of the necessities of life, food, clothing, fuel and when such needy are being cared for by well organized Newton philanthropic bodies such as the Community Chest, Catholic Welfare Committee and the Central Council, why should Newton people be imposed upon by giving contributions to unknown individuals or groups who solicit donations. Why should Newton people contribute for non-essentials or luxuries to individuals or groups, some of which are composed of people who themselves have steady work and good salaries, when so large a number of Newton residents require assistance to obtain necessities. If you have any money to give to charity, donate it to reputable, established Newton welfare organizations. Don't be easy marks for the chisellers.

No Fond Recollections

An educator told a gathering of his colleagues the other day that he did not like the fact that children have no home "chores" to perform and added that in his opinion the ease of modern life is a handicap. No doubt many of his hearers agreed with him, and furthermore, if one were to set out on a canvass one would find a majority of people readily indorsing his sentiments.

To doubt the noted speaker referred to inventions that have simplified household tasks. Offhand we think of a system of refrigeration that makes unnecessary the regular emptying of the pan under the ice box; the heating plant that dispenses with the sifting of ashes, the cooking scheme which eliminates carrying the coal-hod and the sundry other ways boys and girls escape toilsome and fatiguing duties.

It's not a complex problem to the young people even if it is to their parents and elders. But then these youngsters don't know the pleasures of which they are sure to be deprived in years to come. When white hairs have started to creep in and they have children of their own they won't be able to brag, "When I was young I had to bring in the wood and carry the coal-hod, sift the ashes, sweep the floor and wash the dishes, etc." I used to help my father and mother. No, they can't say they did any housework in their youth but probably they'll have other things to emphasize their importance.

Which Do You Choose?

On the eve of Arbor Day the practical man and the dreamer meet on common ground. The former turns his spade to dig a place wherein to plant that which enriches mankind. He knows the value of the forest, how closely bound it is with the source of water supply and how we must have wood or we may not build. The dreamer, standing by, admires Nature and all it signifies. Trees of which poets have sung are many—the tall oak that grew from a little acorn, the spreading chestnut under which the Village Blacksmith swung his hammer and the tree the woodman was urged to spare.

The practical man is alert to the opportunities of economic profit; the dreamer hears the melody of poets' musings. Thus the world goes on—conservation and conservation.

Book-Marking Fiends Irritations are to be avoided, of course, if one desires, as one should, to attain and keep the proper mental attitude towards everything. There are times when it is most difficult. One of them invariably arises, in my case at least, when I pick up a volume from the Newton Free Library and find some previous reader has marked numerous passages. Not to disfigure the volume but for some personal reason they place pencil marks here and there.

One of the weightier publications, over which I found myself pouring with considerable interest, had been in the hands of a reader who, throughout the pages, checked passages that had impressed him. That is, I assume, what he had in mind. It would not have mattered much to me had I not required all my faculties of concentration. It seemed that whenever I found myself going right ahead, absorbing the author's observations, there would appear a mark. Almost each time I paused, wondering what it meant. "Is there something important here that I have missed, a deeper significance than appears?" I asked myself. "Why all these pencillings and who could have done it?" Foolish, no doubt, to allow such distractions but nevertheless almost unavoidable. It strikes me that if a borrower must mark a book from end to end he should have the grace to erase them before he returns it. Either that or use an invisible lead, if such a thing exists.

Courting the Spotlight

Every few years there comes before the public a proposal that something should be done to Boston Common whereby idle space may be utilized and downtrodden humanity thereby uplifted. History will show that for generations, possibly once, or maybe twice a decade, somebody bobs up with an idea that is so unusual and startling that vigorous protest is aroused. Soon the defence of the Common becomes so earnest that we all feel ready to shoulder a musket.

The point is that the man behind the outrageous suggestion has resorted to the surest method known of landing on the front pages of the Boston daily newspapers. There is no more effective method known locally of obtaining a maximum of free advertising, if not altogether favorable. It calls to mind the words of the old-time politician, who, in his greed for power, said, "I don't care what the papers say about me as long as they print my name."

Tax Rate for 1937 Up 40c to $28.40

The Newton tax rate for 1937 was announced last Saturday by the Board of Assessors. It is $28.40, an increase of 40c over the tax rate of 1936. The raise was necessary notwithstanding an increased valuation in real estate of about $2,000,000, a slightly lower budget, and a huge savings in the cost of snow removal and sanding of streets from that of the past three winters, because of a new ruling made by the State Tax Commissioner. Herebefore unpaid taxes due the city, and on which tax title liens were held, could be used as an asset in determining the tax rate. Because of the large increase the past few years in tax titles held by cities and towns, the Tax Commissioner now will not permit the use of unpaid taxes as available funds.

In past years, balances accruing from unexpended appropriations for the various departments in Newton's city government totalled to large amounts; several years ago it reached nearly a half million dollars. It was known as the Excess and Deficiency Fund. The past few years this fund was amalgamated with the profits obtained from water revenue and has been known as Surplus. Available from the Excess and Deficiency Fund or the Surplus Available fund, large sums were diverted in recent years to keep down the tax rates. Last year, for instance, $170,000 was used for this purpose. This year there is about $225,000 in the surplus fund but only $13,451 could be used as a receipt item, as a result of the tax commissioner's ruling. The balance, about $200,000, has to be used as a reserve against the tax titles.

In former years, appropriations recommended by the Mayor and passed by the Board of Aldermen, after the annual budget and before the end of a year, were financed from the Excess and Deficiency or Surplus Funds. If such funds are not available, appropriations made after the budget must be charged to the tax rate of the succeeding year.

MOTHERS' AUXILIARY

The next regular meeting of the Mothers' Auxiliary of the Sixth Norumbega Group of Cuba and Scouts will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Thomas, 35 Calvin road, Newtonville, on Wednesday evening, April 28.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. Thelma Larkins, who is a Simmons graduate, and was formerly food consultant for a large Boston restaurant. Her subject will be "Editing a Woman's Page."

Appoint Six New Policemen

Six new policemen were added to the Newton force last Friday as a result of provisions made for this added number by Mayor Childs and the Board of Aldermen in the annual budget. Chief Hughes had asked for 15 additional men. Those appointed include John J. Powers, 21 Crescent st., Auburndale; John J. McArdle, 15 Maple ter., Newton; Leo Gagnon, 78 Dalby st., Nonantum; Martin L. Greeley, 14 Nonantum pl., Newton; Thomas McEneaney, 1075 Washington st., West Newton; Francis H. Barry, 256 Webster st., West Newton. These men had all been members of the reserve force of the police department.

Free Swimming Campaign

Newton Y. M. C. A. will hold its Annual Community Swimming Campaign next week, beginning on Monday, April 26th, and ending on Saturday, May 1st. The instructor will be Jack Manning of the Massachusetts Humane Society, who has been instructing in swimming for this organization for the last seventeen years. The free class swimming lessons are given to the school boys of Newton and Watertown especially, although they are open to any school boy in the vicinity of Newton. The boys will come to the Newton "Y" this Saturday morning at 9:30 when they will be examined by a doctor and assigned to a period for each day of the following week. Each year two to three hundred boys who cannot swim are reached by the campaign, and at least one half of the group succeed in passing a test at the conclusion of the lessons. Boys who have made the most progress are awarded a Humane Society medal.

Track Meet

The first outdoor Track Meet of the season for the Newton Y. M. C. A. team will be held this Saturday afternoon when Newton and Boston Y's, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology come together for a triangular meet at the Tech field. Coach Henry C. Pierce of the local team has had his men outdoors for the past week. This will be one of several meets preliminary to the "Y" Two State Track and Field Championships to be held at the Newton High School field on June 19th.

Baseball

Baseball practice for the men's team will start this Saturday afternoon on the "Y" field. A team will be entered as usual in the Newton Twilight League. Saturdays are open for games with other teams.

SALTONSTALL TENNIS TROPHY

Five Young Men's Republican Clubs scattered through Massachusetts have already entered teams for the competition for the newly donated Leverett Saltonstall Tennis Trophy, donated by Leverett Saltonstall, former speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

To facilitate competition for the trophy, the state is being divided up into sections, with an equal number of Young Men's Republican Clubs in each. It will be awarded to a bona-fide club team each fall, until one team has been able to win it three times, when it will become the permanent property of that team.

Edgar White, of Auburndale, president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Newton, has charge of arrangements for the matches.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

Dr. Laura Hooper, director of elementary education in Newton, spoke to about 100 members of the Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association and parents of Hamilton School children at a joint meeting held in the school April 13th.

Dr. Hooper's subject was "What Parents May Expect from the Elementary School." She said that parents co-operation was essential to the development of the child's education. Music was furnished by a Newton Civic Orchestra, and refreshments were served by members of Troop 19, Newton Girl Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. John E. Corcoran. Preceding the meeting, parents visited and inspected class rooms. Francis Tanner, President was in charge of the meeting.

By JACK MORRIS

FIRST BASEBALL GAME TOMORROW AT N'VILLE

Two baseball teams directed by a single coach will open their home seasons at Newtonville tomorrow afternoon when the Newton High varsity takes on the Newton Independents. The Schoolboys are coached by L. P. "Jeff" Jones, who is also player-manager of the fast Twin-County League nine. The game will start at 3 P. M.

For the Independents, Tucker Rhodes and Phil Andres will be the starting battery, and for the high school, John Fitzgerald is the likely starting pitcher, John Martin or Bob McHugh catcher. The high school varsity squad has been working out mornings during this vacation week, and will have the jump on the club veterans, who have had limited opportunities to work together this year. Yesterday the school outfit, perennially the dark horse of the suburban league, were scheduled to play the Harvard seconds at Allston.

Newton Stronger This Year

Coach Jones considers his present high school team a stronger one than last year's. Stan Gruber is fairly well settled at first base, but DiAngelo and LeSourd are almost an even choice for second. Bert Marrazzo is the top shortstop again this year, and third base is now a toss-up between Shordone and Colantonio. Clarence Cormier, veteran outfielder, has competition for a regular berth from Al Coletti and a pair of new boys, Maguire and D'Eugenio.

Also stronger than a year ago, when they won the first-half pennant in the Twin-County League and led the field in the Newton Twi League, are the Newton Independents, the high school's first opponent. Jeff Jones has procured two new players to offset the loss of Joe Green and Pete Morrison. Bill E. "nnefeld, a veteran of several campaigns in both American and National leagues, who played last year with the Miller Oil club of Waltham, will be the Independents' shortstop, and Les Shatzer, former New England League player with the Watertown club, will play left field. Manager Jeff Jones will hold down the center field area, and Phil "Mucker" Green will patrol right field.

Big Herb Berry, home run artist of the Independents last year is back at first, and Howard Ferguson at second. Neil Mahoney will alternate as third baseman and relief catcher, and Tommy Ryan, an import from Auburndale of the Twi League, will be used at third base or in right field, in case Phil Green is called in to pitch. Two changes in the Twin-County league were effected during the week. Framingham Braves withdrew in order to play again in the Paul Revere league, and were replaced by the Woodward-Tyler club, Waltham Industrial league champs last year. Brookline, unable to secure a home field, withdrew in favor of the Dedham A.C., and Dedham will be welcomed into the new eight-team loop in an exhibition game with the Newton Independents Sunday afternoon at Dedham. Bun Ryan and Phil Green will be the Newton pitchers and Phil Andres, catcher.

EVERTS LEADS TENNIS INVASION OF MILTON

Coach Walter M. Taylor of Newton High tennis is working with a bumper crop of no less than seventy-two boys, and finding it no small task to cull out the likely players. The season opens tomorrow at Milton Academy for both first and second teams. Last year Taylor's team upset the Milton applicart and went on to win the state interscholastic championship.

For the first time in many years, Newton's No. 1 player will be a sophomore. Albert P. Everts, Jr., ranked first in 1936 in New England boy's play, and has proved his top rating at Newton High by defeating several of Newton's veterans. Of these veterans, Don Manchester, Art Pearson and Clayton Mosher rank next to Everts in that order. Lyman Robinson of the 1936 intermediates, and Les Lowery, sectional table tennis champion of last winter, complete the singles list. Doubles teams will be largely made up of players not in the singles matches, and many juniors and sophomores are in the running for doubles ratings. Sophomores Baker, Kreuger, Daley and Harrington look particularly good at this point.

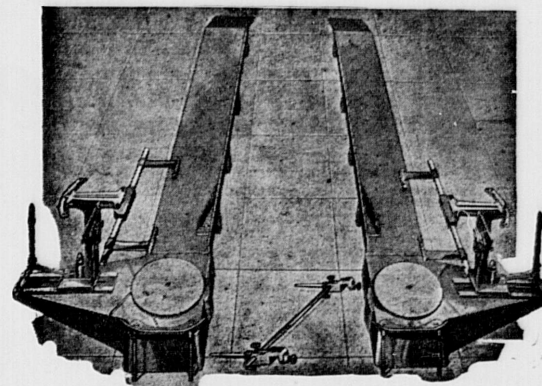

Newton has scheduled matches with the leading teams of the state, excepting Worcester Commerce, whose sophomore star, Bill Power, was interscholastic champion last season. Now that Longwood has washed its hands of the interscholastics, and Harvard has been unwilling to resume the sponsorship of the tournament, there is some doubt that the event will be run off this year at all, after nine years of competition. The playground departments of Newton and Winchester have come to the rescue, however, and are working out a solution with

NEWTON HIGH RELAY AT HARVARD STADIUM

The school and college outdoor track season opens tomorrow at the Harvard Stadium with the first running of the New England Relay Carnival, an event similar to the Penn and Drake Relays. Combining college and interscholastic competition for the first time in a New England meet, the event will have 14 college varsity teams, 12 college freshman teams and 21 high school and prep schools represented. There will be fourteen team races and some special events, including a college varsity mile run and college and school 100-yard dashes.

Newton High will enter two relay teams, passing up the shuttle relay for lack of two high hurdlers. In the sprint 440-yard race, Don Enoch will run probably Paul Forte, Bud Hines, Elmer Ross and Jerry Allen. In the distance event Joe Gallant, Bill Kelly, Basil Babcock and Bob Muther are scheduled to start. Because Newton's entry blank was lost in transit, Newton's runners will not be listed on the program, but chances are they will be well known when the meet is over. Paul Forte will very likely run the 100-yard dash special for high schools, an event in which he was unbeaten in the state last year, and for which he holds the Newton High record of 9.9s jointly with Bob Ewing.

MR. VENGROW ANSWERS A QUESTION

When asked by a GRAPHIC representative recently why, when so many other Fur Storage companies were charging 3% for fur valuation for storage, he was asking only 2 1/2%, Mr. Vengrow said, "We use considerable care in planning the expenditure of our advertising budget. We use only newspapers of high standing. We do not use the radio and other more expensive forms of advertising, and our storage warehouse, with a capacity of fifty thousand, is so modern and so completely equipped that unnecessary handling, etc., is eliminated. All this results in a saving that we are pleased to pass on to our clients."

IN MEMORIAM

WAS NOT

"And Enoch walked with God; and he was not; for God took him."
—Genesis 5:24

She walked with God throughout the span
Of all her earthly days,
And in divine companionship
Were fashioned in all her ways:
And then—was not, for to Himself,
Like hoary saint of yore,
God took her, to preserve her life
In Him forevermore.

We, still in the reflected wake
Of holy atmosphere,
With yearning tenderness reach out Beyond the now and here
To that unseen reality,
By faith sensed ever nigh,
When soul transfigured shall proclaim:
She only seemed to die.

With God, or here or there, to walk
In blessed company
Affirms earth's "Not" but obvious sign
Of finite fallacy:
With Him, the source of life, to dwell
Now and forevermore
Binds soul to soul eternally,
On near or farther shore.
Grace Elizabeth Cobb.

The King's Jewel House

One of the last acts of King Edward III in 1377—the year he died—was to acquire from the Abbey of Westminster a tower which became the King's Jewel House. This tower is perfectly preserved, but, being hidden by buildings on all sides, few people have ever set eyes upon it. Just to the west of the Jewel House, in a canon's garden, are some still more ancient remains, which very few people have seen.
 They comprise a wall, windows and parts of columns which belong to the Chapel of St. Katherine, built about 1150, as the chapel of the abbey infirmary.

Trees Sleep in Winter

Trees may be said to be sleeping in winter. They are alive, breathing, and slowly consuming their stored food supplies; but are not growing or manufacturing any food.
 In these respects a tree is very similar to the woodchuck which is napping in some well-protected den.
 Both will become active again when warm weather returns, although the tree probably will be at work first.

Makes Steel "Springy"

Silicon makes steel "springy." It is used to make car springs. Nickel steel is hard and tough and is used for the armor plate on battleships. Tungsten and other metals are added to make it hard. Such steels are used in high-speed cutting tools which retain their hardness even when red hot.

Keeps Mouth Closed

We are told that the Indian mother of the past watched her baby boy at sleep, carefully closing his lips, if apart, that he might acquire the habit of keeping them shut, day and night, as audible breathing might, some day, betray him when in hiding.

Genius Is Intensity

Genius is intensity of life; an overflowing vitality which floods and fertilizes a continent or a hemisphere of being; which make a nature many-sided and whole, while most men remain partial and frag-

Invented Railroad Ticket

The railroad ticket owes its origin to Thomas Edmondson of Lancaster, England, who in 1836 was station master and booking clerk at Milton on what was then the Newcastle & Carlisle Railway.

Where the Rain Goes

Tests show that whereas as much as 96 per cent of rain falling on open fields runs off, less than 1 per cent of the rain that falls in an oak forest wastes away.

Thames River Is "Temz"

The Thames river has been pronounced "temz" since time immemorial. This pronunciation is a survival of the time when it was spelled "Temze," also "Temesse."
 The Romans spelled it "Tamesis" or "Tamesa." The "h" in the name does not appear until about the year 1377, and it was not regularly inserted until after 1500. The original significance of "Thames" is lost in obscurity.

Many Uses for Palms

In all tropic and subtropic climes the native peoples depend upon palms for shelter, clothing, food, and a variety of other conveniences and utensils. Houses, forts, stockades, war rafts and weapons are made from palms. A few articles of commerce derived from such material reach our country and are far more common in their home territory.

Freaks of Lightning

Lightning is one of the most freakish phenomena of nature. Sometimes it takes the form of a ball, many of which are 40 feet in diameter. These fireballs explode with a deafening sound. Some have even entered homes through open windows or chimneys and exploded inside.

Music Hath Lambs

Lamb chops in Luxembourg suggest the city's annual festival, the March of the Muttons, when snow white lambs pass through the streets in a gay procession, followed by a band of musicians playing the ancient Mutton March.

Named for John Hancock

Hancock county, Ohio, organized March 1, 1828, was named for John Hancock. One of the military roads of the War of 1812 passed through this county and Fort Findlay, named for Colonel Findlay, was established.

 rus, the name of the material upon which ancient books were written.

Object to Dunklee St. As Approach To Playground

A hearing was held before the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night on the proposal to have a strip of land taken by the Newton Playground Commission from Beverly rd., Newton Highlands for the purpose of affording an entrance to the new Cold Spring Playground. President Floyd of the Aldermen suggested that Albert P. Carter of the Playground Commission explain the object of the taking. Mr. Carter said he had come to listen, rather than to speak. He remarked that when the Commission decided on asking for the taking, it was not known that there would be any opposition to it. The taking is for the purpose of adding 12 feet to an existing right of way owned by the city which is only 8 feet in width.
 This will be the shortest and natural way to have access to the new playground.

Clarence Luitwieler opposed the taking of the land. He said he has lived on Dunklee st. for 47 years and has been responsible for all the improvements obtained for this street. He said that 40 years ago he had options on practically all the land in the Cold Spring swamp area, and abutting properties. It could be purchased at that time for $110,000, according to Luitwieler, and the State, he said, would then have contributed half of the cost for its acquisition for park purposes. He argued that there are two or three other roads which will make just as good approaches to the playground as will

Red Honey Produced

Even reddish-brown honey can be produced, Paul Griswold Hayes writes in an article in Nature. Logwood blossoms on the island of Dominica in the West Indies produce a singular tasting variety, but the color comes from the sap of the tree, that contains a coloring principle much used in dyeing. Most famous of the dark honey of Europe is that from the Scottish heather, with a cheaper type being derived from the English heather. In Southern Europe the favorite honey is probably the Roman, derived from the rosemary, and the Mt. Hymettus variety from the wild thyme of Greece. Although most ordinary honey crystallizes in six months after bottling, the white tuepelo on main liquid after ten years. On the other hand, the blue-curl nectar granulates almost at once in the wax cells.

Crocodiles and Alligators

A crocodile can't stick out its tongue. It can only move it up and down. People once thought crocs were just big, lazy lizards, but we know they are not even closely related to lizards. Except for alligators their nearest kin died out millions of years ago, says a writer in the Washington Post. The chief difference between a croc and alligator is that the latter's snout is shaped like a shovel while the former's resembles a trowel or arrow head. Most crocs, unlike alligators, are very vicious. Sea crocs are invariably man-eaters. So are African, or Nile crocs. There is but one animal able to conquer the African croc—the orang-utan. This Samson of the jungle is strong enough to hold a croc's jaws open while he tears out its tongue. Yet crocs do not hesitate to attack orang-utans.

Rafflesias, Parasitic Plants

Rafflesias are remarkable parasitic plants of the East Indies which attack various vines of the grape family. The only visible part of the plant consists of a large flower. A species native to Sumatra bears a flower three feet in diameter which has the appearance of decomposing flesh and exhales a carrion-like odor which attracts carrion insects.

Open House At Newton North Tel. Exchange

Over 4500 people visited the Newton North-Middlesex Exchange telephone building on Elmwood st. during the past week when the employees of the exchange held "Open House."

Miss Cornell, Chief Operator, Mr. Canty, Wire Chief, and Mr. Campbell, Manager, were very pleased with the number of visitors and the interest they displayed in the various machines set up for demonstrations. The visitors were surprised at the size of the switchboard rooms and the rapidity in which the calls were completed both on the local switchboard and the switchboard handling incoming calls from other exchanges.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton and the Board of Aldermen visited the exchange and were shown the various operations necessary to complete a call.

Most of the visitors were surprised at the amount of wiring and the protection given each individual line before it reached the switchboard and they found the operation of the switchboard itself most fascinating. A delegation of the Board of Selectmen of Watertown, headed by Mr. Shaw, Chairman, was shown through the entire plant.

The independence of the telephone exchange in the event of power failure, a remote possibility, was demonstrated.

The first visitor to the "Open House" was Mr. Sidney Smith of 124 Hunnewell ave., Newton, who mentioned that he was present at a lecture given under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association in 1888, shortly after the discovery of the telephone itself. Mr. Smith, at that time, noted on the program the claim of Professor Bell that he would be able to talk across the Atlantic Ocean. This boast was made good approximately 50 years later when the trans-Atlantic service was opened.

Many of the older residents of Newton and Watertown recalled the changes that had occurred within the past 30 years. Many business concerns of both communities sent their office employees in to visit the office so that they might see how their telephone calls were handled. Special group were made up for the individual firms.

The teletypewriters, similar to those used by the state and suburban police, were demonstrated by two young ladies in the exchange. The telephone for people with impaired hearing excited many surprising comments. This telephone enables the people who are not totally deaf to hear and speak over the telephone in a natural, normal manner. Manager Campbell recalls several visitors during the week who stated that they had impaired hearing, and that they could hear equally as well on the special telephone. In fact, one visitor was willing to wager before the demonstration that he would find it impossible to make him hear out of one ear, but Manager Campbell refused to take the wager and went on with the demonstration.

The man admitted that he could hear perfectly well, but that he was impaired, while using the hard of hearing telephone.

Most of the visitors did not realize the exchange was so large and that so many people were working within the building. There are 150 operators, 1 chief operator, 1 assistant chief operator, 1 instructor, 3 clerks, 2 cafeteria help, 1 matron and nurse, 10 supervisors, 5 junior supervisors, 1 wire chief, 1 assistant wire chief, 2 custodians and 5 repairmen.

Sixty thousand to seventy thousand originating calls are completed on the incoming switchboard. These figures vary from time to time according to the weather, so states Manager Campbell. There are some 2000 calls intercepted each day because of special handling, such as telephone removed, customers going away for the summer, number changes, etc.

There are 53 sections on the local, 18 positions on the incoming boards and 4 positions on the intercepting desk.

There are 10,000 subscribers equally divided between Newton and Watertown, serving 13,000 telephones.

Pair of Dog Tongs Held as Welsh Church Relic

The church at Clynnog Fawr, a few miles down the coast from Carnarvon, Wales, preserves as one of its curiosities a pair of dog tongs, used in the old days for seizing fighting dogs and throwing them out of church.

In the past it was a common thing for Welsh sheep dogs to follow their masters to church and curl up in the pew, sleeping through the service. Occasionally, as the Welsh used to say, "the devil would enter into them" and there would be a fight, until the dog tongs, shaped like coal tongs with large teeth, were taken down from the wall and used to eject the fighting animals.

One Welsh parson, it is said, used to take his dog Tango to church, where it would sleep in front of the lectern while its master conducted the worship. One day the dog spied an enemy, a farmer's dog, in the congregation and a terrific fight began.

The dog tongs were useless and the fight became so exciting that the church service was suspended and everyone gathered round to watch. Above the noise of the battle, visitors to this region about Mount Snowdon are always told, the parson's voice could be heard shouting, "Three to one on Tango!"

Formerly a pair of dog tongs could be found in most of the churches in this section. They are now quite rare and those at Clynnog Fawr are one of the curiosities to see in Wales.

Influenza, Ancient Malady

The Italians invented the term influenza, meaning "influence," in the Seventeenth century, and attributed the disease to the influence of certain planets, according to a writer in the Literary Digest. The disease itself has been recognized as catarrhal since 1323, and a plague in 412 B.C., described by Hippocrates, is supposed to have been influenza. The disease has swept Europe, Asia, and Africa many times, and is thought to have reached America first in 1557. In President Jackson's day, his opponents called the disease, "Jackson's itch," and Tyler's opponents called it the "Tyler gripe." Russians call it Chinese catarrh; Germans call it the Russian pest; Italians refer to it as the German disease, and the French call it Italian fever or Spanish catarrh.

—Bassoon Reaches Deep Tones

The bassoon is the low voice of the wood-wind group and great skill is required to make it deliver the effects of which it is capable. It has possibilities as an orchestral clown, but is also capable of warm and passionate expression. It is valuable in the orchestra to increase the body of tone and infuse it with warmth. The contrabassoon is a larger instrument with still deeper notes. About sixteen feet long, it is folded six times upon itself.

According to Arthur Dasent, writing in the Daily Telegraph of London, toward the end of Charles' reign Sir Thomas began to speculate in London real estate, particularly in the West End, in the Parish of St. Martin-in-the-Field. His first transaction as recorded in the local Rate Book was when he acquired in 1683 Clarendon House in Piccadilly from General Monk's son, the second Duke of Albemarle, pulled it down and laid out both Albemarle and Bond streets through the property before he rebuilt.

During the Seventeenth, and Eighteenth and the first half of the Nineteenth centuries the Bond street of New York and the Bond street of London had a similar aspect—both were lined with the residences of the well-to-do. Here those of bankers and merchants, there the homes of the landed nobility. Later in both streets merchandising prevailed.

The origin of the New York name is obvious; that of the London street came from Sir Thomas Bond, a Seventeenth century courtier attached to Queen Henrietta Maria, who was always persona grata at the Court of Whitehall in the reign of Charles II, to whom she is said to have advanced large sums of money.

Planting Hints

NUMBER 5

Potted Evergreens

Most houses and gardens can be made more attractive by use of evergreens planted in composition stone pots or tubs at entrance steps, vestibules and along garden walks. In caring for them it must be remembered that it is essential that they have proper food, light, air, exposure and moisture. They should be planted in well-drained containers, as large as possible, using rich garden loam. Give them plenty of sunlight and fresh air but do not expose to drying winds. They should at all times have plenty of moisture, though excessive moisture, which causes "waterlogging" of the roots, is just as harmful as excessive dryness.

Potted Evergreens that have gone through the winter need special attention. The earth around them should be loosened and new food added. As far as possible they should be kept in sheltered places where they do not get the reflected mid-day heat from masonry walls. This is particularly necessary in early spring before the soil in the container thaws out. Freezing does not harm the roots of evergreens, but great damage is done when the sun and drying winds of early spring cause too rapid evaporation of moisture from the leaves before the roots have a chance to provide a fresh supply.

When Potted Evergreens are used only for summer decoration they should be removed from the container not later than October and planted in the ground. Here again care should be taken that the plants enter the winter with sufficient moisture in the roots and protected with a mulching of leaves or peat moss. In the spring the plants may again be lifted and planted with fresh soil in their containers. If the right care is given to potted evergreens they can be extremely decorative and last for many seasons.

Church Windows Installed During Depression

During the depression years, the studio of Arthur Dallin has executed stained and leaded glass windows in thirty-two New England churches. These include small and large Memorial Windows; also the entire glass areas in large and small churches, in simple and intricate patterns of Romanesque, Gothic and Renaissance design.

The studio is so organized that the designs and full size drawings are the work of this individual; those engaged in the painting, cutting and glazing the glass have not only spent their lives as craftsmen, but those engaged in the painting were competent Old World craftsmen before working in this country.

An earnest effort is made to express the color and design in keeping with the Architectural requirements; if there are figures, to adhere to our heritage of traditional beauty in proportion, attitude and esthetic expression.

Facts Regarding

Window Cord

Until 1866 twisted cord of various fibres was used for window cord. In that year a machine for making solid braided cotton cord was invented. This cord soon proved vastly more durable than other kinds, and has now practically supplanted other window cord. Metallic and mechanical devices for hanging windows have been tried, but have been shown both by tests and actual experience to be less economical and satisfactory than good solid braided cord with suitable pulleys and weights. Good cord of this kind is firm and round, with a smooth, hard surface which permits easy, noiseless running over pulleys and gives long resistance to wear. It will last at least a generation under average conditions, yet its first cost is but a few cents per window more than the cost of cheap, short-lived sash cord, and considerably less than the other devices referred to, which are noisy and more apt to get out of order.

Samson Spot Cord is the most durable sash cord made. For more than 40 years it has been specified by leading architects and used by good builders everywhere because of the certainty it gives of trouble-free service. It is made of extra-quality, uniform, 3-ply cotton yarn, firmly braided, smoothly finished, carefully inspected, and guaranteed free from imperfections of braid or finish.

To prevent substitution, Samson Spot Cord is marked with the trademark, the colored spots, used only with this extra quality.

Spot Cord is made in a wide range of sizes from 3/16 in. to 5/8 in. diameter, suitable for use with different weights and pulleys. It is sold by the leading hardware dealers, lumber dealers, and sash manufacturers. To save annoyance and expense of replacing broken window cords, specify Samson Spot Cord and see that you get cord marked with the colored spots. The difference in cost between this and the cheapest cord for a whole house is often less than the labor cost of replacing a single broken cord.

Questions and Answers

Mr. Stuart will be pleased to answer questions relating to home modernizing and building. Inquiries may be addressed to him c/o Newton Graphic.

Our cellar ceiling is open with floor joist exposed and I am wondering if we do not burn more fuel than necessary because of draft that comes through first floor. It is also annoying at times because you can hear everything that goes on in basement. Can you suggest a remedy?

The cellar ceiling is one of the important places that many builders overlook. In building a house it is only a small item to insulate the first floor but in order to save this little that does not show, he makes the one who lives in the house pay for it later, else suffer.

A new house can be easily insulated between the under floor boards and finish floor so as to eliminate all drafts, keep the floor warm and deaden sound. In a house already built one method is to use insulating or deadening quilt in between the floor joist. Another method of course is to apply insulating board on bottom of joist but it would be more satisfactory to place deadening quilt between joist also.

We have a slate roof house, not very old, but I notice a number of slate have come off and wonder what causes this.

The chances are the slate were a poor grade or improperly put on. Occasionally changing weather conditions will cause slate to crack and work loose but in a case where many slate come off it is generally due to unsatisfactory workmanship and poor slate. Other things to be considered are the nails and roofing felt. It is well to remember that a roof is no better than its nails and oftentimes the cause of roof trouble is because the roofer saved a little money on cheap nails. There is a big difference in roofs and roofers and this is one place where it pays to have the best. Always employ a reliable roofer.

I would like your advice in regard to building a sun room one step lower than the other rooms. If you desire to have the sun room lower than other rooms it should be more than one step lower as one step is dangerous.

The Vital Element

for the Perfect Roof

When you buy a roof for your new home, or re-roof your present home, three questions will interest you most: Service, Beauty, Cost. And Barber Genasco Asphalt Shingles answer all three.

There's a lifetime of protection built into Barber Genasco Shingles. For they're made with one vital element that man cannot duplicate in uniformity and quality—Nature's own Trinidad Lake Asphalt. The base of each shingle is select, long-lived felt, saturated with asphalt. This is then coated with Trinidad Lake Asphalt Cement, and surfaced with a layer of fine mineral granules. Neither rain, snow, sleet nor the parching rays of the sun can penetrate this barrier. And the mineral granules render the shingles "fire-safe."

Barber Genasco Shingles offer a wide range of beautiful, non-fading colors. They offer an initial cost that is low. And they can be easily applied.

TRINIDAD LAKE ASPHALT— "THE VITAL ELEMENT"

Year-in, year-out, for millions of years, the natural asphalt lake on the southern Caribbean island of Trinidad has felt the fury of tropical tempests, the scorching heat of a year-round summer sun. But even this tortuous test has failed to crush the vitality of Trinidad Lake Asphalt. Instead it has been "tempered" to a degree that man-made processes could not achieve.

There's one sure way to have the protection of Trinidad Lake Asphalt on the roof of your house. That is—specify Barber Genasco Roofing Products. They . . . and no others . . . are guaranteed to contain Trinidad—The Vital Element.

COOKING OF VEGETABLES

"A small scrubbing brush, and two small pointed knives for preparing vegetables should be found in every kitchen. Vegetables should be washed in cold water, and cooked until soft in boiling salted water; if cooked in an uncovered vessel, their color is better kept. For peas and beans add salt to water last half hour of cooking. Time for cooking the same vegetable varies according to freshness and age, therefore time-tables for cooking serve only as guides." — The Boston Cooking-

Clubs Elect Officers

Auburndale Woman's Club

A successful and interesting Club Year ended on April 13th for the Auburndale Woman's Club, when the Annual Luncheon and Meeting was held. Due to the co-operative efforts of several committees, namely, the Art committee, headed by Mrs. Edgar O.
Butz; the Garden committee, led by Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr.; the Hospitality committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Silvanus Smith; and the International Relations committee, headed by Mrs. Charles E. Valentine;
the Auditorium of the Auburndale Club House had been transformed into a beautiful banquet hall, with an international air. Shields, which had been made by husbands of the Art committee members, featuring flags of all nations, adorned the walls, and carrying out the same motif, tiny flags of all countries waved at the individual places. These were the inspiration of Mrs. Butz, as well as the result of her clever handwork. Mrs. Butz was assisted in the fashioning of these many tiny flags by her two young daughters, the Misses Gloria and Serena Mae.

Each table represented a different country, and these were: United States, British Isles, Italy, Belgium, Japan, Argentina, Sweden, Spain, Russia, France, China, the Netherlands, Germany and Mexico. Paper streamers, carrying out the colors of the various flags, also adorned the tables.
The Garden Club had secured flower containers that were typical of the various countries, and had arranged lovely bouquets of flowers for each table; for example, the table featuring the Netherlands had a large wooden shoe as the flower receptacle.

Members of the Hospitality committee served the luncheon most efficiently. Those seated at the head table were Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president; Mrs. James Dunlop, first vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Farrier, second vice-president; Mrs. George W. Armstrong, recording secretary; Mrs.
Frederick Y. Briscoe, corresponding secretary; Miss Anne E. Bunker, treasurer; Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr., chairman of the Garden Club; Mrs.
Henry F. Keever, director; and Mrs.
Arthur T. Freeman, chairman of the Membership and Visiting committee.

Mrs. Herman Krueger, who is both vice-chairman of the Drama committee, and Senior Advisor to the Junior Group, officiated as Day chairman, and introduced the cast and play,
"Mother's Cooking." Mrs. Krueger's talents in coaching, directing, and acting in dramatic presentations are well-known to both Newton and Boston residents. The play was light in theme and amusing, and the actors performed their parts excellently. These were Mrs. Helen Brown, Mrs. Benjamin H. Goodkin, Mrs. Clifford W. Rust, Mrs. Quinn, and Mrs.
Edwin E. Nash.

Directly following the play, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president, officially opened the annual business meeting.
The chairmen reviewed the work achieved by their various committees throughout the year, and in every instance the results were noteworthy.
Co-operation and good fellowship were the keywords expressed by each one, working toward a definite goal.

Finally, all the reports having been read and accepted, Mrs. Edward B.
Gray, president, brought her very successful term of office to a close. One of the most outstanding achievements of the Club during Mrs. Gray's presidency, was the reestablishment of the Scholarship Fund, which benefits a worthy Auburndale girl student.

Mrs. Gray read the results of the voting, declared the officers elected, and graciously welcomed the new officers. A dramatic moment was reached when she officially passed the gavel to Mrs. James Dunlop, the new president, who had been, together with the other new officers, unanimously elected.

Other newly-elected officers were Mrs. Austin Fisher, first vice-president; Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo, second vice-president, who has acted in the capacity of Press correspondent and vice-chairman of the American Home committee for 1936-37; Mrs.
George W. Armstrong will continue as recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur J.
Burns, as corresponding secretary will succeed Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe.
Miss Anne E. Bunker has filled the office of treasurer for fifteen years, and in the Workshop, Newton Highlands, on Saturday evening, April 24th, to be enjoyed by the members of the Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club and their guests. Appropriate costumes will be worn, and the hall will be decorated to resemble a true farm, including animals. The dance is under the direction of Miss Lois Woodworth and her committee composed of the following Juniors, Miss Ellen Jane Cooley, Geneva Brown, Dorothy Drew, Marion Hessler, Esta Woodworth, Helen Dearing, Lorraine Cot-

Plant Life Shown

Moving Pictures with Sound will be the novel and informative feature of the next regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club, to be held on April 27th, at 8 p. m., in the Workshop on Columbus street.

These Erpi and Harvard University films cover the subjects of "Plant Life," "Flowers at Work," and "Plant Growth," showing time-lapse and micro-photography.

This meeting, as usual, is free to members, and a limited number of guest tickets is available at 50 cents, which may be secured from Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver, telephone Centre Newton 1999, or from Mrs. Emil F. Hab-erstroth, Centre Newton 3758.

There will be also an Exhibit of arrangements of any spring flowers or branches.

Annual Meeting;
Other Programs

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will be held at the Congregational Parish House on April 27th, at 2:30 p. m., following a Luncheon at Brae Burn Country Club.

Madame Toumanoff, a member of the former Imperial Family of Russia, will resume her story of personal experiences which Club members found so interesting when she spoke a year ago. Madame Toumanoff terms this period of her life "Civil War and Exile." Though still in Russia she was on the anti-Bolshevik side with her husband, taking active part in the struggle.

Plans are rapidly being formulated for the Street Fair to be held on May 22nd, all-day, on the Hyde School grounds.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The election of officers will take place at the Annual Meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, April 27th. Voting hours are 12 to 12:45 and 2 to 2:15 o'clock in the rear of the main Auditorium. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard R.
MacMillan. At 2:30, Frank Dahl, noted Cartoonist, of the Boston Herald, will show how he creates his wit and humor. His subject will be "Art from the Viewpoint of the Cartoonist." The Glee Club will furnish music. Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols is chairman of this group.

The American Home committee, Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman, is looking forward to another Cookout on April 28th, at 12:30 p. m., at Middlesex Fells. The group will assemble at the sheepfold where there are several fireplaces. It is suggested that the most convenient entrance to the Reservation is off the Stoneham road, about one-half mile beyond the Metropolitan District Commission police station.

Following the Cook-out there will be an opportunity for those who care to take a short nature walk, conducted by a well-known naturalist.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its Annual Meeting at the Abner Wheeler House, Framingham, on Tuesday, April 27th, at 11 a. m. Mem-

Club at its meeting on April 26th,

West Newton Community Service Club

The Glee Club of the West Newton Community Service Club takes pleasure in announcing that Mary Pumphrey Tower, Pianist, and Hortense Croede Ralsback, Dramatic Reader, are to be guest artists at the May Festival, which is to be given at the Warren Junior High School on Friday, May 14th.

No introduction is needed for either of these talented artists, of whom Newton is justly proud. Mrs. Tower, well-known throughout New England as a soloist of outstanding ability, has been accompanist for Ruth Possett, the Violinist, during the past winter.
Mrs. Ralsback is a member of the faculty of the Lee-Bishop School of Dramatic Art in Boston, and is a reader whose charm and artistic appeal reach deep into the hearts of her audience.

The Glee Club is fortunate in being able to offer such unusual and gifted artists to the many friends who are looking forward to the annual Glee Club Night, which has become a greatly anticipated community event.

Honey Bees' Cells

Into small hexagonal wax cells the queen honey-bee deposits eggs which will develop into worker bees (partially developed females). Into slightly larger hexagonal cells go the eggs which will become drones (males). Yet a third type of cell is prepared for the incubation of queens; it is circular rather than hexagonal, observes a writer in the Literary Digest. The cells are made from beeswax, secreted in paired pockets on the under-side of the last four segments visible on the abdomen of the bee. Secreted wax hardens as it comes in contact with air, is used to form the marvelously precise hexagons of the comb which bee engineers ages ago developed as the strongest and least space-consuming structure known to geometers.

Fresh Water 200 Miles at Sea
The outflow of fresh water from the Amazon river into the ocean is more than 1,000,000 cubic feet in a second.

First to Cross Great Desert
The great southern desert of Arabia, about 300,000 square miles, was crossed for the first time by a non-Moslem in 1930-31.

Fashions in Early Days

Fashion played an important part in the early social life of this country. At exclusive dances and parties, called "assemblies," the fashionable gentlemen wore "Bolivar" frock coats of some gay colored cloth, blue, or green, or claret, with large lapels and gilded buttons. Their linen was ruled; their "Cossack" trousers were voluminous in size and were tucked into high "Hessian" boots with gold tassels. They wore two and sometimes three waistcoats, each of different colors.

The "China Apple"

Originally called the "China apple," oranges came from the Orient. Spanish explorers took them to South America, and missionaries carried them to California and Florida. It is claimed the United States produces more oranges than any other country. An orange tree is about 30 feet high and sometimes lives and bears for centuries, although the usual age is about 80 years. The wood is highly esteemed by cabinet makers. It takes a high polish. Besides being used as food, perfumes are manufactured from the orange peelings. In southern Italy, orange growers cultivate a variety exclusively for making Eau de Cologne.

Candid Photography

The phrase candid photography was coined to describe indoor instantaneous shooting with modern miniature cameras.

SALE IN OAK HILL SECTION

Alvord Bros. report the sale of a house in one of Greater Boston's most beautiful developments, Newton Countryside, located on high land in the southern part of Newton Centre, Mass. This development has been subdivided into large rustic lots with beautiful shade trees. At a high point, at 54 Brush Hill road, Newton Highlands, there has just been completed an architect designed house of Colonial architecture. The exterior is of painted brick with slate roof and two-car garage. There are ten rooms and three baths all heated by the latest type of American Radiator Pressure System fired by oil. The master's bedrooms on the second floor command a beautiful view of the distant hills. The property including 14,000 square feet of land has recently been completed by Hugh A. MacDonnell and Margaret M. MacDonnell, trustees, of Newton, and has been sold to Margaret Peakes of Newton. The purchaser will occupy as a home. The property is assessed for $18,600.

Naming Days and Months

Religion and romance, as well as considerable ingenuity, entered into the first naming of the days and the months. Although in more modern times we accepted the Roman names for the months, the names of the days of the week are, with one exception, directly derived from our Saxon ancestors, observes a writer in London Answers Magazine. Their days were dedicated to leading gods of the time. For sheer poetic descriptive titling of the months it is impossible to do better than those old Anglo-Saxons. Translated their month names meant, beginning with January: Chilly month, vegetation month, spring month, grass month, flower month, summer month, hay month, harvest month, autumn month, wine month, slaughter month (when cattle were killed and dried for winter larders), and winter month.

Significant Accuracy

Accuracy is of much importance, and an invariable mark of good training in a man: accuracy in observation, accuracy in speech, accuracy in the transaction of affairs.

Walls of Ancient Forts

Stand Guard Over City

Early in its reign as the Queen City of the Caribbean, Cartagena was strongly fortified. Historians have estimated that the walls about the port cost half a billion dollars in time, labor and loss of life. When Ferdinand VI of Spain was presented with the accounts of the building of the great fortifications he is reported to have climbed to the top of the tower of his castle and to have peered long and wistfully toward the west. When courtiers inquired as to what he was seeking he replied:

"I am trying to see the walls of Cartagena, because such a tremendous expenditure should have created such a conspicuous architecture that it ought to be visible from here."

The old forts of San Jose and San Fernando guard the mouth of the river leading up to Cartagena, while those off Manzanillo and Castillo Grande are attractive old sentinels closer to the city. All these ports were effectively used against pirates in the olden days. The channel from the sea runs a zigzag course for several miles through low jungle-grown banks to a beautiful land-locked bay, where Cartagena looms beyond a lagoon, compact within its encircling ramparts and topped by mosque-like domes and Moorish towers, looking much as it did in the days of the buccaneers. Many of the buildings date back to 1533.

Sea Lions Use Sense of

Smell by Touching Noses

Sea lions, like dogs, use their sense of smell by touching noses to identify one another at close range, but fail to react to distant odors. They are adept at spotting moving objects from considerable distance. Except when off on fishing excursions, they are gregarious by nature, collecting in large groups on favorite rocks or rookeries and generally making a big fuss and noise over nothing. About the only time they ever become hostile is when their pet place in the sunshine is challenged.

The cows have only one pup a year. If anything happens to the mother the pup will die, because no other mother would adopt it. They are not like dogs or cats or other animals in this respect, says a writer in the Los Angeles Times. A peculiar habit of the cows approaching pupping time is to form "rafts" by lying belly-side up in the water with their flippers protruding above the surface. From a distance a string of eight or ten cows floating end to end this way resembles the charred remains of a boat that has burned to the water's edge, with only stubs of the ribs left showing. This is probably a means of absorbing beneficial rays from the sun.

Game Conservation Old

Game conservation is an ancient practice in America, according to Dr. W. C. MacLeod of New York, writing in the Scientific Monthly. He says: The Choctaw of the Southeastern United States had laws governing the amount of game which might be killed by each family. Every month each band chief had to report to the head chief just how much had been killed by each family under his control. The more northern Algonquians practically farmed the beavers. Censuses were taken every year, and only the young or very old animals were slain for use. Disregard for conservation principles is believed to have been the cause of the war in which the Iroquois exterminated the Eries. The latter trespassed on Iroquois territory and acted contrary to the customs of all Indians, for they left none of the beavers alive to continue the stock.

Early Printed Books

Oswald's "History of Printing" begins by stating that Fifteenth-century books printed from movable type are considered to be of sufficient importance to justify their designation by a special title, that of "incunabula," "cradle books" or books produced in the infancy of the art. During the fifty years comprising the latter half of the Fifteenth century, probably 30,000 editions under various titles were printed, of which about 25,000 editions have been identified and described. These early editions appear to have numbered not more than a few hundred copies.

Kangaroo a Broad Jumper

A kangaroo is a broad jumper, rather than a high jumper. Some of the biggest ones are said to cover from 10 to 20 feet at a leap, while claims have been made of leaps of 30 feet and more. He does not jump high from the ground. The largest kangaroos weigh nearly two hundred pounds. The long tail aids the animal in leaping and helps it keep its balance.

The Symphony Orchestra

The four choirs which comprise the symphony orchestra are the strings (violins, violas, violoncellos and contrabasses); the woodwinds (bassoons, clarinets, flutes, English horn and occasionally the French horn, oboes); the brasses (French horns, trombones, tuba, trumpets); the battery (instruments of percussion such as drums, triangles, bells and tympani).

Drove Car Onto Lawn, Fined $50

Paul Colby of 393 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre was fined $50 in the Newton court by Judge Allen last Friday for leaving the scene of an accident without saving his identity. Colby was also ordered to make restitution of $3 for damage done to a box on an Edison pole. He was found not guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. On the night of April 2 an automobile driven by Colby went over the curb and across the sidewalk at 50 Putnam st., West Newton. It hit a pole and all four tires on the car were burst by the impact with the sidewalk. The car became mired on the lawn of Dr. David Wells. The police were notified, found the abandoned car on Dr. Wells' lawn, and from the registration numbers learned that Colby was the driver. The police then went to Colby's home. Colby and his wife testified that they were engaged in an argument in the car, and Colby stated he did not notice that Winthrop st., down which he was operating the car, ended at Putnam st. So the automobile crossed the sidewalk and went onto Dr. Wells' yard.

Horse Show To Aid Newton Ctr. Parish

Arrangements are being made for the Horse Show and Festival which will be held on May 15 at "Ard Righ", Dover, for the benefit of Sacred Heart Parish, Newton Centre. This location is the country estate of Mrs. Edward C. Donnelly and a similar event was held there last year for the same purpose. This year's show promises to be as successful as was that of last year.

Annual Meeting Oak Hill Imp. Asso.

The annual meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association will be held on Monday evening, April 26 at the Charles River Country Club. There will be a speaker from the Massachusetts Tax Payers Association. The annual election of officers will take place, current problems will be discussed and refreshments will be served.

Two Things Certain

Benjamin Franklin is credited with being the first to make the statement that only two things are certain—death and taxes. Franklin mentioned this certainty in a letter to his friend, M. Leroy of the French Academy of Sciences, in 1789. He stated: "Our Constitution is in actual operation. Everything appears to promise that it will last, but in this world nothing is certain but death and taxes." Whether the expression was original with Franklin is unknown but it was natural for him to contrast the uncertainties of the newly adopted Constitution with these two certainties. Charles Dickens in his "David Copperfield," written 60 years later, has Barlow say: "It was as true as taxes is. And nothing's truer than them."

Glass-Blowers' Language

Glass-blowers speak a language of their own, says Literary Digest. Blowers are known as "gaffers." They are assisted by "gatherers." The small amount of glass they work with is called "gather," and a "punty stick" and a "glory hole" are important aids in the difficult process.

"NOW WE'VE GOT A GREAT BIG NASH—AND IT COST ME ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE* THAN ONE OF THOSE SMALLER CARS!"

NASH

Actual photograph of Nash LaFayette "400" 4-Door Sedan with trunk

... Read why J. Harry Schlanser stepped out of the "all three" class!

Yes, people are amazed when they check DELIVERED prices. The Nash LaFayette "400"—much bigger than any of the "all three" small cars—DELIVERS for just a FEW dollars more.

You get a more powerful motor, much larger hydraulic brakes, stronger steel body, wider seats, more headroom and legroom. A car anybody can be PROUD of. And the difference in price? Just a few dollars—that's all.

*FOR AS LITTLE AS $1 OR $2 A MONTH EXTRA you can get out of the "All Three" class. A check-up recently made in ten representative cities shows that the Nash LaFayette "400" 4-Door Sedan with trunk DELIVERS for just a FEW dollars more than the similarly equipped 4-Door sedans of the "All Three" small cars. In many places, the SLIGHT difference in price amounts to just $1 or $2 a month extra on your time payments.

Ask about convenient terms, low rates available through Nash C. I. T. Budget plan. Automatic Cruising Gear available on all Nash models at slight extra cost.

Newton Girl Feature Artist At Spring Band Festival In Rhode Island

Jeanne Budding Outstanding Baton Twirler—Director Spaulding Serves As Judge Of Senior Bands

During the past several weeks Miss Jeanne Budding, well-known drum major of the Newton High School band, has been receiving invitations as a guest artist at numerous music festivals. In March the annual combined music festival of the New England Music Festival Association was held in Hyannis. This festival was conducted by a combined band repre-on April 16th, as the guest of the Rhode Island School Bandmasters' Association.

Last Saturday she was invited to participate in the annual spring festival of that organization in Pawtucket. During the four-mile parade in the afternoon she served as head twirler. As the parade passed the city hall interest in her performance sented sixty different high schools throughout New England. Miss Budding was selected by Mr. Paul Wiggin, director of Pawtucket, R. I., as the foremost twirler in New England. Her performance at that time caused special comment by the radio announcer on the national broadcast of the event.

Since that appearance the Newton girl has appeared as guest artist with the combined Pawtucket, R. I., and New London, Conn., bands at New London, on April 2nd, and Pawtucket was so keen that the crowd gathered around the crack Pawtucket band and halted the march until Miss Budding had concluded her twirling. In the evening she made two appearances at a concert connected with the day's program, first in a soft shoe dance and later in a twirling exhibition, including the use of two lighted batons. The Providence Sunday Journal speaks of her as the hit of the evening.

In addition to conducting her duties as head drum major of the Newton High School band, she is also serving this year as assistant instructor in the drum major classes in the Newton Public Schools.

At the festival in Rhode Island last Saturday one of the judges was Mr. Charles R. Spaulding, director of instrumental music in the Newton schools. Mr. Spaulding served as sole judge of the senior band class which comprised a group of about 10 bands. No marking was made on competition but sealed constructive criticisms were given the directors of each band. Other judges, all from other parts of New England than the State of Rhode Island, and outstanding in instrumental circles, acted in a similar capacity in the junior band and orchestral classes.

For the annual combined music festival of the New England Music Festival Association in Hyannis in March Mr. Spaulding was selected from all the band directors in the region to head up, drill, and be responsible for the clarinet section of that band. This section numbered eighty made up from the pick of players from sixty different high schools. Two of these from Newton were Miss Jane Elwell and Miss Patricia Spaulding.

Newtonville Youth Killed By Train

Edward D. Confrey, 22 of 17 Highland Park, Newtonville, was killed by some train on the Boston & Albany railroad Monday night or early Tuesday morning. Confrey's severed body was found at 5:30 Tuesday morning on Track 1, the West bound express track, a short distance West of the Walnut street bridge. It was discovered by Patrolman Purcell. Confrey was seen near Newtonville square about 11 o'clock Monday night and told an acquaintance about a position he had obtained and at which work he was to have started Tuesday. The body was taken to the Newton Hospital morgue and identification was made from an automobile driving license found in the dead man's clothing.

Confrey was born in this city, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Confrey. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Paul and Phillip Confrey, and a sister, Helen Confrey. His funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at Our Lady's Church.

Day Off In 6 For Police Stymied

The efforts of the Newton police to obtain one day off in each 6, instead of a day off in 8 as they now receive, have been halted for the present as a result of a ruling by City Solicitor Bartlett. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Alderman Cronin asked that the city ordinance be amended by the Board so that the policemen will receive the day off in 6. Mr. Bartlett ruled that the matter is not within the province of the Aldermen, that it is an executive function. Mayor Childs stated that the conduct of the police department and the question of time off, is up to Chief Hughes. The Chief by replying to simple arithmetic stated that to give the policemen one day off every 6 days instead of every 8 days, would require 20 additional men in the department to maintain existing schedules, and give the city equal protection to what it now receives. The Chief's reasoning seems correct although it had been argued by some that a 25% increase in time off to over 130 members of the police department could be accomplished by the addition of only 5 men to the force.

Conference Today On Nonantum Strike

A conference will be held today at the State House in Boston before the State Board of Arbitration in an effort to settle the differences between the Futurity Thread Company of Chapel st., Nonantum and employees who have been out on strike since April 20. A hearing was held on Monday before the Arbitration Board between a committee of the strikers and officials of the thread company. The strikers have been organized by Oliver Haskell, a CIO worker and have had pickets on Chapel st. in front of the factory. Haskell endeavored last week to negotiate with the company, but was not successful as company officials claimed less than half the employees are out on strike. Windows were broken at the factory last Thursday, but the strikers disclaimed responsibility and stated the damage was done by boys.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 a stone was hurled through the window of the office at the mill. Patrolman Joe Lyons arrested Louis Lochiatto, 23, of 26 Court st., Newtonville, and John Marsh, 21, of 21 Hovey st., Newton for malicious destruction of property.

The strikers are demanding $14 minimum weekly wages for 40 hours work; an increase of 7½% over the rate now paid. They also demand one week's vacation with pay for all employees of over one year's service; overtime to be paid for at the rate of time and a half; restoration of jobs to all strikers; and recognition of the newly formed union. The Futurity Thread Company offers a minimum weekly wage of $14.30 for a 40 hour week to operators, and a weekly wage (Continued on Page 5)

School Committee Member Resigns

F. Marsena Butts of Franklin st., Newton, School Committee member from Ward 7, tendered his resignation at the meeting of the committee on Monday night. He stated that pressure of private business caused him to take this action. Mr. Butts is serving his third term as a member of the committee. He was last elected in 1935 and his term would not have ended until January 1, 1939. The School Committee and Board of Aldermen will hold a joint meeting next month to elect his successor.

The committee approved the reappointing (or election) of 515 teachers in the Newton schools. A new teaching position, that of an additional teacher of music in the high school was created. Superintendent Warren informed the committee that two bands and two orchestras are to be maintained at the high school. To the new position was appointed a man from Pennsylvania, James H. Remley, who has taught music at New Florence, Blaisville and Indiana, Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of a teachers' college at the latter place. Another new teacher appointed is Charles F. Chase, who will teach industrial arts at Newton High School. Mr. Chase comes from Vermont, where he has been teaching at Bellows Falls the past 6 years. Two teachers' resignations were accepted; those of Elleen Daziel, Levi Warren junior high school, and Catherine Rolster, Emerson School. The resignation of Lois Smith, librarian at the Day Junior high school was also received.

Committee Member Kirtley Mather submitted a report favoring the use of land adjoining the Hyde School at Newton Highlands as a site for a branch library. A petition was received asking that the new school, to replace the Franklin School at West Newton, be located nearer the present school than the location which has been proposed near Cherry and Derby sts.

Takes Legal Action Against Aldermen

Israel Nesson of Boston, and Julius Nesson, his son, have filed a bill of equity in the Middlesex Superior Court seeking to compel the Newton Board of Aldermen to reverse its decision relative to the zoning of land owned by the Nessons. Each of the 21 members of the Board of Aldermen, and City Clerk Frank Grant, are named as defendants in the action. City Solicitor Bartlett refused to accept service of papers in behalf of the entire Board.

Recently the Nessons presented a petition to the Board of Aldermen asking that land bounded by Commonwealth and Lakeview aves., and Walnut st., be changed from single residence to business zone. The land is opposite City Hall. When opposition from nearly all the improvement organizations in the city developed, as well as opposition from nearby property owners and other citizens, the Nessons modified their plans so that a huge apartment structure would be erected on their land. This building, however, would also contain stores. The Planning Board and the Aldermen turned down the petition following a largely attended public hearing at City Hall.

Israel Nesson formerly owned part of the site where the City Hall group of buildings is now located. Mr. Nes-

Suspend License For 30 Days

The common victualler license of Philip Grobman, who owns a store at 273 Centre st., Newton, was ordered suspended for 30 days by two of the three members of the Newton License Commission at a hearing held on Monday. Several weeks ago a raid was made at the place by Newton police. Obscene pictures and lottery tickets were seized. Grobman's son, Abraham Grobman, who managed the place, was convicted in the Newton court. The police asked that the common victualler license be revoked. The place is a variety store and not a restaurant, and the serving of food is not its principal business. By having the common victualler license, it can be kept open on Sundays. Grobman purchased the store last year from Morris Kaufman.

Hugh Boyd, attorney for Grobman, argued that his client was not aware of the son's illegal activities, and that the latter is no longer connected with the store. The members of the License Commission who officiated at the hearing were Chairman William T. Glidden and A. Leslie Moriarty. The third member, John V. Spaulding, of Newton Centre, had served as the younger Grobman's attorney, when the latter was tried in the Newton court.

Free Dog Clinic May 3 to May 7

A free dog clinic will be held in the shed behind Newton High School on Walnut st., Newtonville, from May 3rd to May 7th. Dogs licensed in Newton will be vaccinated for immunization against rabies. Owners must present the 1937 license of each dog. Dogs whose owners names begin with the letters A to D inclusive will be vaccinated on May 3, E to I inclusive on May 4, J to Q inclusive on May 5, R to T inclusive on May 6, U to Z inclusive on May 7.

The number of dogs licensed to the 24th of this month was 2938. Last year to April 30 only 2656 dogs were licensed. The total number licensed last year was 4014. At the present rate it is expected this total will be considerably increased this year.

Canoeists Saved From Drowning

The first canoe accident of the starting season at Riverside occurred on Sunday afternoon when a youth and his girl friend were pulled out of the Charles near Norumbega Park by Patrolman Carton of the Metropolitan police. John Looney of Brockton could swim, but his companion, Madeline Williams of Brockton could not. She clung to the capsized canoe until rescued.

Judge William Bacon Resigns. Several Actively Working To Become His Successor

Governor Hurley States He Will Not Accept Resignation Until Pension Bill Is Acted On

Judge William F. Bacon of 52 Hyde ave., Newton on last Friday tendered his resignation as presiding justice of the Newton District Court. He informed Governor Hurley that he had hopes of being able to resume his duties as judge, but a physical setback recently influenced him to resign. Mr. Bacon was born in Newton 73 years ago, the son of Joseph N. and Sarah (Woodward) Bacon. He graduated from Harvard College in 1885 and Harvard Law School in 1889. He was appointed judge of the Newton court in August 1917 and served with honor until poor health compelled him to relinquish his duties in the Newton court. The latter part of last year former Governor Curley attempted to retire Judge Bacon, but abandoned the effort.

Among those prominently mentioned as candidates to succeed Judge Bacon are Associate Justices W. Lloyd Allen and Thomas W. Weston of the Newton district court, and James P. Gallagher, clerk of the court. Mr. Allen was appointed an associate justice in 1917 by Governor McCall. Mr. Weston was appointed in 1918 by Governor McCall. Mr. Gallagher was appointed clerk in 1932 by Governor Ely. Mr. Allen and Mr. Weston are Republicans. Mr. Gallagher is a Democrat and a number of active members of that party are supporting his candidacy. These include Edward F. Dalton and James A. Waters, who were erroneously mentioned as candidates for the position in Boston papers last Saturday. Edward O. Proctor, also mentioned as a candidate, states he is not seeking the office as he was recently appointed to a responsible position on Attorney General Dever's staff.

Governor Hurley announced on Wednesday that he would do nothing about naming Judge Bacon's successor for several weeks, nor will he accept the judge's resignation until action will have been taken by the Legislature on the Judges' Pension Bill, now pending. Governor Hurley says that if this bill is passed, Judge Bacon will receive a pension amounting to three-quarters of his salary, and that he is entitled to this. If the judge were retired now, he would receive a pension of only half his salary.

A rumor is current that the Governor is considering the appointment to the position of one of his political entourage, who is not a resident of Newton.

Pension Dues May Be Increased

George Buck, actuary for the pension system of the City of Newton, has completed his 8th annual report and as a result recommends that the contributions of the city employees included in the system may have to be increased, as well as the city's contribution. The reason is—that the retired employees receiving pensions have been living longer than anticipated. While the financial condition of the pension fund is now sound it may be necessary to raise the rates of contributions in the future to assure continued financial stability for the fund. City laborers, firemen, policemen and other city employees are included in the system.

DOG OWNERS HAVE PUBLIC DUTY

A free dog clinic will be held on four days of next week when all dog owners will be given the opportunity to have their pets immunized against rabies. The vaccination of dogs against the outbreak of this dreaded disease should be a matter of public duty. The recent court decision affecting dogs has aroused considerable local interest in the situation and has brought many to the realization that in keeping dogs there is a real obligation on the part of the owner. There can be no question that dogs are useful and desirable pets and there can be no question that every owner should respect and obey the dog laws pertaining to license and restraint as it affects others in the community. It is unfortunate that many dogs in Newton are kept without licenses and in the final analysis it is from these unlicensed pets that any outbreak of rabies is more apt to come than from those who realize the public duty involved. For the sake of the betterment of the community all dog owners should secure licenses for their pets and then have them immunized against rabies.

ONE DAY OFF IN SIX FOR THE POLICE

Although the attempt of the police to secure one day off in six has been stymied for the present it is quite possible that the voters of Newton will eventually decide the question. Under the terms of a bill passed by the legislature this year ten percent of the voters of any community may petition to have the matter put upon the ballot at the next state election. Thus it is conceivable that within another fifteen months the question will be brought up. There is much to be said in favor of such a proposal but unless it can be shown that there will be no undue burden placed upon the taxpayers through the necessary increase in the number of police it would seem that there is a difficult path ahead for the measure.

Newton Red Cross Appeals For Workers

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has been established in Newton for a number of years and since 1918 has been an independent Chapter with its own office and officers. There are nine activities of this Chapter, of which the Motor Corps should perhaps be fully explained to our Newton residents.

About thirty ladies cheerfully volunteer, without remuneration, their time, services and cars to the carrying of the sick and helpless to the different hospitals, not only in Newton, but also in Boston. This work could not be done if these charitably inclined women did not co-operate with the Chapter and give their time and services. The sick and poor we have always with us and it is the Red Cross Motor Corps that is on call, not only in flood and fire times, but throughout the whole year. These Red Cross drivers are readily recognized by their uniforms and by the flags on their cars.

Last month (March) will show you the hours which these women voluntarily have given to the sick of Newton—204 hours, 1,957 miles driven, 216 patients transported, 69 attendants with the patients. In addition to patients transported, necessary errands for the Red Cross were also attended to—sewing materials left for church groups, or finished articles collected; books to be donated to Veterans' Hospitals collected and left at the office; articles for the newspapers taken there at emergency times.

This Corps, as you can see, is not large enough for our rapidly growing city, and these same thirty drivers are not always available. This responsibility, naturally, rests on the younger generation—young women who can well give a few hours to the Red Cross. The office at 12 Austin st., Newtonville (Newton North 2757) will give all information; the necessity for more drivers is very great; let our Newton women give a few hours each week to the Red Cross.

"Iolanthe" To Be Presented by Singing Guild

Operettas By Children Receive Growing Recognition

Despite four years of local and Boston performance and recognition, there are still many in Newton unfamiliar with the work and aims of the Children's Singing Guild, which was incorporated last year under the state laws as an educational and philanthropic institution. After due investigation, the state decided that the guild was preeminently fitted to carry on, and entitled to its charter, as a club doing very beneficial work, both as to the children participating and the children's homes and institutions benefitting by the performances, for all proceeds are devoted to some children's charity. Thus far, the guild has made donations to the Peabody Home, the Pomroy Home, the John A. Andrews Home, and the J. W. Wilbur Health Home for Girls, in addition to contributing to the Newton School milk fund and donating to the local churches. This is an above average record for a club made up of boys and girls between the ages of four and twelve, and wholly without financial backing or sponsorship. In addition to presenting four performances of H. M. Pinafore, one of the Mikado, one of the Sleeping Beauty, one of Alice Terhune's fairy operetta, "The Woodland Princess," the guild has presented several in the auditorium of the R. H. White's store, one in Arlington, one in Wellesley, given seven radio presentations, and gave a delightful concert in the Hotel Statler last season, before the National Campers Association at their annual banquet, this by special invitation.

The guild will offer Gilbert and Sullivan's charming fairy opera "Iolanthe," in the Newton Centre Women's Club, on Friday evening, May 14th and on Saturday afternoon, May 15th, in aid of the Natick home for anemic and undernourished little girls. A number of parents of club children visited this institution last Sunday afternoon, and were deeply interested in the place and the children there. The home is entirely dependent upon donations, not being supported by any Community Chest or endowments, and is in need of many improvements, some of which the Children's Singing Guild hope to supply by their "Iolanthe" performance. Among the directors of the Children's Singing Guild are Mrs. Donald Walsh, Mrs. Charles Wilbur, Mrs. William McAdams, Ernest E. Hornum, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Thomas H. Russell of Brookline, Hon. Sinclair Weeks, and Mrs. John A. Russell, who is also musical director.

District Nursing Asso

On May Day—"National Child Health Day"—a program entitled "Health protection for every child" will be broadcast from coast to coast over the Columbia Broadcasting System from a luncheon in New York at 2:30 to 3:00 p. m., E. D. S. T. (Massachusetts listeners may hear this program through WEEL over a national hookup).

As a measure of cooperation in the celebration of May Day, now under the auspices of the U. S. Children's Bureau, the Child Welfare League of America has arranged this broadcast luncheon in which are joining the national councils and associations for health, social work, safety, the churches, educational groups, civic and service groups, whose activities contribute toward protecting the children of America.

Newton District Nursing Association is co-operating along these lines and urges the importance of frequent physical examinations by a doctor in order that any defects may be checked early. Another important issue is the protection of the child against any such contagious diseases such as diphtheria, smallpox, and scarlet fever. It is hoped that very soon medical science will give us immunizing agents against other contagious diseases such as whooping cough and measles.

Camp Mary Day Plans For Coming Season

Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout Camp on Nonesuch Pond near Cochituate, will open for its 15th season on July 1st. Copies of an attractive folder, including information for both parents and Girl Scouts have been distributed to all troops this week. The folder is decorated with photographs of last year's camp activities.

Camp Mary Day will offer a program of outdoor adventures—swimming, boating, canoeing, campcraft, dramatics, nature study, sketching, crafts—to Girl Scouts during July and August. The camp is beautifully equipped, through the generosity of Mrs. Frank A. Day. Girls live in small screened cabins, have meals in a large airy dining room, and may enjoy a large recreation cabin when rainy days force them indoors.

Miss Margaret E. Adams, Director of the Newton Girl Scouts, will again be in charge of the camp. Miss Kathleen Twombly, Newton Field Captain, will assist her. Serious Fire In Newton Ctr. House

The home of Michael Thornton, 92 North st., Newton Centre, was badly gutted by fire last Thursday night, the damage amounting to several thousands of dollars. The fire started when Mrs. Thornton accidentally dropped a jug of fuel oil on the kitchen stove. Particles of flying glass cut Mrs. Thornton, but she was fortunate to escape the flare of flames which ensued. She and other members of the family rushed from the house. When the firemen arrived the fuelled flames had spread widely. The alarm was pulled from Box 263 at 10:41 and it was nearly two hours before the firemen returned to their quarters.

Boy Bicyclist Collides With Car

Warren Strange, 15, of 20 Jefferson st., Newton, became the owner of a bicycle last week. Warren was riding around the circuit formed by Jefferson, Galen and Williams sts. last Friday afternoon about 5, when he was in collision with an automobile driven by Mrs. Herbert Mayer of 5 Tonia st., Auburndale. The boy was cut on the face and received a shoulder injury. He bled profusely and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Herman Ricker of 25 Shirley st., Everett, was arrested Monday night by Patrolmen Kelly and McArdle after the truck he was driving had hit a parked automobile. In the Newton court on Tuesday Ricker was fined $50 by Judge Allen for driving while under the influence of liquor.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, May 8, 1937

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday afternoon a petition was received from Frank Edmonds and 32 others, residents in the vicinity of Crystal Lake, for prevention of annoyance by disorderly persons during the summer months in that vicinity. Petitions were received from W. F. Wood, W. N. Miller and H. N. Hyde, Jr., to sell ale and beer in Ward 1; from C. F. Rogers, Centre st., Newton, to sell liquors as medicine; G. H. Ingraham, Ward 2, to sell liquors for medicinal purposes; J. B. Murphy, Ward 2, for grocer's liquor license. The petitions of McKellisher and others for the acceptance of West and Chapel sts., and the extension of Cook, Green and Middle sts., at North Village, were not granted because these streets are not of the proper width, and not graded and gravelled.

Alderman Keith offered the following resolve: Whereas the city charter provides for the arranging of Ward lines this year, and not again until 1880, therefore be it—Resolved, that His Honor the Mayor be and hereby is authorized to petition the Legislature for permission to amend the city charter so that the city may be divided into 7 Wards instead of 6, as at present.

Alderman Pratt submitted an order that the city grant licenses of the second, third and fourth classes. Alderman Pette was not in favor of laws for selling liquors. He moved an amendment that only apothecaries be licensed to sell liquors for medicinal purposes. Alderman Keith did not see how they could draw the line. If any were licensed, all respectable dealers should be. He thought nearly as much liquor will be sold if no licenses were granted. Alderman Pratt said if the amendment was carried the city would lose control over the sale of liquors. Liquor will be sold in violation of the law. The amendment of Alderman Pette, restricting the sale of liquor to apothecaries for medicinal purposes, was put to a vote. Alderman Barnes, Edmonds and Pette voted yea. Alderman Keith, Pratt and Rice voted in the negative. Mayor Hyde announced the vote tie and said he was happy it gave him a chance to cast the deciding vote, as he had all his life been opposed to the licensing of the sale of liquor or any sin. He would accordingly vote "yea" and declared the amendment carried.

For a number of years a large area of dirty, filthy water has been allowed to remain between Dabys' mill and Chapel st. at North Village, Nonantum, to breed smallpox or any other disease liable to start from such places. The people of the village think the city government has neglected it long enough. Last summer when the wind blew from the West, it was very unpleasant to walk down Chapel st.

The May day festival at City Hall in West Newton was largely attended. The children were as happy as could be in their new spring dresses. We could but think and wish their mothers better understood the necessity of making children's clothing more in harmony with childhood, something simple in style, giving them more freedom in locomotion. Much trimmed drapery about little children not only hinders enjoyment in their childish sports, but it destroys the grace and beauty of their forms.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, April 30, 1887

The Legislature has voted to admit the petition of Wm. Clafin, Robert R. Bishop, R. M. Pulsifer and Henry E. Cobb for the incorporation of the Newton Club, and the act will probably be passed next week. It will allow the club to maintain a club house and reading room and hold real estate to the value of $100,000. The success of the project is assured. The Roberts house at Newtonville will be used for the club house.

Mr. William F. Kimball of Newtonville very narrowly escaped a serious accident while driving in Somerville a few days ago. Two children playing tag suddenly ran in front of his horse, and Mr. Kimball in quickly pulling on the reins was thrown head foremost onto the street. He was bruised and scratched but not seriously injured. The carriage passed over one of the children, who was not injured.

At the meeting of Common Council on Monday evening, Councilman Ricker said that street lights are needed after midnight. He said the chief of the fire department had told him that between midnight and daylight it is dangerous for a fire company to go from West Newton or Newtonville to Newton Corner, as heavy teams, with their drivers asleep are coming out from Boston along Washington street in the darkness, and the greatest care must be taken to avoid collisions.

One of the most successful installation of electric lights is that started on the Boston & Albany railroad. They use the Julian system of batteries. Each car has 16 batteries and after being charged they run from 14 to 16 hours. Each car has 24 incandescent lamps, including one on each platform. The success of this system is so satisfactory that the railroad intends to erect a power plant this fall, using waste chinders from locomotives for fuel. In a few years electric lights will be used on all railroads as a matter of safety. In case of accident the light goes out and will not cause a fire.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

For years we have been insistently urging the reestablishment of the motorcycle squad of traffic policemen which formerly was a part of the Newton police department. For some years Newton had six or eight policemen assigned to motorcycles. These men patrolled our streets and did effective work in curbing speeders and reckless drivers. Several years ago this squad was abolished. In the meantime, two high-speed traffic arteries have been constructed in Newton, Washington st. and the Worcester turnpike; automobiles have become more numerous and are operated at much higher speeds. Even many women now drive with reckless abandon, although a few years back few of that sex were observed either speeding or driving cars in a dangerous manner. Partly because of the abandonment of the motorcycle squad in Newton, accidents and fatalities caused by motor vehicles have increased alarmingly in this city the past couple of years. In 1936, sixteen persons were victims of automobile accidents in Newton. So far this year five persons have been killed. Pedestrians have comprised the majority of victims.

Ever since the former motorcycle squad was abolished, we have incessantly urged its recreation. In fact, we have been accused of being a pest on this subject. Without being egotistical, we believe we are to some degree responsible for the reestablishment of the motorcycle traffic squad, and we are pleased to see the result. When the former motorcycle squad was abolished, we criticized that action. One argument then offered to justify the abolition of the traffic squad was—that some of its members had not been conscientiously performing their duties. Instead of patrolling the streets to a reasonable degree, they were accused of loafing. We hope, and we believe that the members of the new squad, which will start patrolling this Saturday, cannot have a similar charge made against them.

Motorcycle officers or traffic officers in Newton or any other place are subjected to tremendous temptations. Long ago "fixing" ceased to be a good fellow proposition. Autoists who were apprehended breaking automobile laws or traffic regulations of cities or towns offered bribes to policemen who caught them. Policemen are human like men in other occupations—and professions. Some possess high character and integrity and cannot be bribed. Others yield to the lure of gifts ranging from cartons of cigarettes to good collateral or straight cash. And so, two things are necessary if traffic officers in any city or town are to produce a satisfactory result—efficiency and honesty. We know the men who have been assigned to the new motorcycle squad in Newton. We believe they will be on the job and that from now on Newton's streets will be much safer than they have been the past three or four years.

Judge William F. Bacon for nearly nineteen years served as presiding justice of the Newton district court.

Some Things About Newton

Newton has never aspired to be a convention city and has seldom gone in for large gatherings of delegates under commercial, political, fraternal or other auspices. It was no surprise to me, therefore, to learn that it was not among the cities to bid for the National Democratic Convention.

The election of the first woman member of the Boston City Council has aroused greater interest than ever in that more or less august assembly. Shows what we may expect when and where Newton chooses its first woman member of the Board of Aldermen.

Brookline residents have hinted at times that Newton was envious of its reputation—but not lately.

How is Your Spelling?

There are persons who do not mean to upset us but who do so at times, thoughtlessly and effectively. They are those who take us unawares when they suddenly ask, "How do you spell meteorological?" or whatever word it may be. Almost invariably we are thrown into a small-sized panic. That is, many of us who are not too sure of our orthography. Even a good speller can become awestricken if the query is hurled at him. Personally I do not pretend to know any too much about the formation of words and yet, if given a reasonable amount of time, can do a fair job of guessing. But when the request is made unexpectedly I begin to perspire and my nerves rattle. I don't know why, do not like to have of themselves that they invite examination either through crossword puzzles or some kind of game in which they emerge as winner of the spelling championship. Not to disparage their skill, for I admire it. And even these people, do not like to have a question sprung upon them. This, however, is addressed to those who ask for information about spelling. All I can say is I wish they would select expert spellers and not pick on those of us who are less confident of our knowledge.

Garnishing the Gardeners

It is all very well for municipal authorities to appeal to our civic pride in urging appropriate and individual observance of "paint up and clean up" week but my sincere belief with ability and honor. He won a high reputation for fairness and impartial administration of his office. He was lenient when leniency was warranted. He did not strain the quality of mercy when by so doing the rights of the public were subordinated to undue consideration for offenders who showed lack of consideration for others. He set a high mark to which his successor may well aspire.

Last Thursday we thought of Adeline Patti. For the benefit of our younger readers, Adeline Patti was a wonderful soprano who starred in opera in the Gay 90's. She achieved more fame and popularity than Tetrazzini, Galli-Curci and Rosa Ponselle, combined. Years passed and Patti grew rather old for operatic roles. Then, she made annual tours of the U. S. A. in concert recitals. Eventually Patti announced that the tour would be her last to this country. But she kept coming for some years after, each year announcing that particular tour to be the final one. So the expression—"a Patti farewell"—came into use. Harry Lauder also became noted for such farewells.

We thought of Patti and her farewells on last Thursday when we read in newspapers of a declaration made in the State Senate by Senator Arthur W. Hollis of Newton while he was opposing a bill which seeks to prevent advertising practices which have been used by certain dental corporations, some of which operate chain offices in Boston and other cities. Most of the members of the dental profession in this State favor the bill. Most of the members of the Senate favored it. But Senator Hollis opposed it. In his speech against the bill Mr. Hollis read a telegram which he had received advising him that if he runs aground for the Senate he will need the support of dentists and their friends. The newspapers quoted Hollis as declaring that he would defy the dentists, that he will run again, and that he defied them to put up the best dentist in the district as his opponent. Whoever sent such a provocative telegram to Mr. Hollis erred. But what amused us was Hollis' statement that he will again run for the Senate.

When Mr. Hollis was elected to the Senate in 1928, following two terms in the lower branch of the Legislature, it was with the understanding that the Senator from the 1st Middlesex District would serve for two terms, and that the office would be filled alternately by a Senator from the Western part of the district and the Eastern section. Mr. Hollis' predecessor was from the Western part of the district. When Mr. Hollis' second term was coming to a close he asked for a third term on the contention that he desired to work in the interest of certain legislation which was pending. Republicans in the Framingham end of the district deferred; Mr. Hollis again received the nomination and was elected. Again, when Mr. Hollis was completing his third term, he asked the voters of the district to retain him. But the Republicans of the Western section of the district yielded their prerogative. Last year.

is that a more direct method of arousing enthusiasm is available. If only it could be made one of the fashionable things to do there is little doubt but every front lawn and back yard, not to mention intervening space, would be filled with earnest workers.

The way to bring about this happy situation would be to have an expert designer prepare model clothes to be worn on such occasions. We all know how fetching sport togs can be even when there wasn't much use for them the past winter. Now, in doing garden work and similar chores it seems to be the custom for men and women to wear the sloppiest garments in their wardrobe. Why not supplant these with dashing raiment? The ladies, say, in jodhpurs, with a woolen blouse and Windsor necktie and men in cadoury, with a light-colored shirt and no necktie and both going in for gay colors. Well, there you would have a picturesque setting and a brighter and cleaner city.

Instead of one ambition in every neighborhood there would be two. Not only would people strive to display the neatest and best garden and lawn but also to assemble the smartest and most brilliant society crowd to rake leaves and burn brush.

Tripping Feet

At times we all of us have passed down the aisle of a train or trolley, or even a theatre or crowded room, only to find it partly blocked by some one's leg—usually that of a man but not always—and have encountered the risk of breaking one's neck or some less important member. The taking of such a hurdle suggests the peril of a steeple chase except that the latter seems less hazardous. The other day there sat a complacent and apparently prosperous and well-fed man, as only such men can sit, in a trolley on which I happened to be a passenger. His legs were crossed and one foot swung well out into the middle of the aisle. Several of those who passed him jeopardized their bodily safety but managed not to disturb his posture. Only a man of advanced years appeared to have any courage. This brave gentleman stopped as he approached the belligerent one and looking at the latter's leg said, "Will you please remove your leg or are you trying to see how high I can jump?" The path was immediately cleared.

for the third time, Mr. Hollis asked that he be continued for another term in the Senate—which would be his fifth. His argument was—that he wanted to assist in cleaning house after the Democratic regime. For the third time the Republicans up Framingham way were generous. Now, early in his fifth term, Mr. Hollis announces that he will be a candidate for a sixth term, using the controversy on the dentist's bill as a means of breaking the news. He may not have a dentist as an opponent, but it is reasonably certain that he will have some opponent from the Western part of the district, if not from the Eastern section. A large percentage of voters do not approve of a man hogging an office. Not alone because it prevents others from participating in governmental activities, but, because experience has taught that most men when they remain in elective offices over a long period of years, are apt to become less idealistic. They evolve into practical politicians.

Bigelow Junior H. S. Day Jr. High School

An unusual and entertaining assembly program was provided by the Commercial Department of the Bigelow Junior High School under the direction of Miss Virginia F. Altieri. Included in the cast of the first play, "Yes and No," were Robert Gower, Harry Ramsey, Robert Wilson, and Margaret Foley. Robert Gower substituted at the last minute for Winthrop Forbush and gave an excellent characterization. The play revealed some of the humorous as well as serious aspects of the business world.

Rita Sanguinetti was featured in a gypsy dance. John and Lloyd Howard gave a selection of western songs to the accompaniment of their guitars, and a piano solo was given by Margaret Foley.

The last number of the program was a pantomime presenting the situation of job hunting from a slightly different angle in the light of the fact that finding the correct person to fill a position often presents its difficulties. Ruth Kaufman acted as narrator. Those participating included: Harry Ramsey, Florence Driscoll, Robert Wilson, John Howard, Ferdinand Dorr, Norman Hale, Thomas Whelan, Charles Gorse, and James Powers.

In the Girls' Basketball Play Day yesterday the players were: Lillian Nardone, Shirley Bernstein, Bessie Bacon, Constance Colby, Eleanor Leahy, Florence Driscoll, Patricia Rurchon, Miriam Glassman, Jane Mansfield, Antoinette Madrone, Jean Goodale, Constance Fanning, Katherine McMur-ray. The scorers are Patsey Casey, Sarah Britz, Virginia Carter, Jane Fimmel, Laura Lord. The timers comprise Martha MacDowell, Beatrice Mandelstam, Jane Merrill, Virginia Robinson, Annette Yanco.

This evening, April 30, the First Annual Junior High School Vocal and Instrumental Concert will be given at 8:15 in the auditorium of the Newton High School. A chorus of eighty voices has been trained by Miss Enra Van der Groen to participate in the concert. A special feature will be a clarinet ensemble from the Bigelow Junior High School.

The Newton WPA orchestra, under the supervision of Albert H. Webber and the conductorship of Herman C. Sulzen will take part in the event by giving three different concerts on Tuesday, May 4th, at the Stone Institute; on Friday, May 7th, at the Weeks Junior High; and on Saturday, May 8th, at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

Charged With Newton Breaks

Adam Mikalkawich, 20, of 7 Poplar rd., Cambridge, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday for having allegedly committed burglaries in stores at Newton Corner on April 16. He had been arrested in Cambridge by police of that city on the preceding night. On April 16, two stores in the block on Washington st., Newton, near Channing st., were burglarized, after rear doors had been jimmied. From St. Jean's Tailor Shop, 343 Washington st., four suits of clothes were stolen and a pay telephone box ripped off the wall and taken. A cash box was looted at Woodward & Tyler's insurance office, 345 Washington st. An attempt was made to enter the First National Store at 349 Washington st. That night, Patrolman Stone of the Cambridge police halted an automobile in which Mikalkawich and another youth were riding, and questioned them. As the car drove off, a small piece of metal was dropped from it, which Stone retrieved. He turned it in and it was found to be part of a pay telephone box. The telephone company identified it as off the box stolen at St. Jean's Shop in Newton. Patrolman Stone had taken the numbers on the automobile and Mikalkawich's arrest followed. His case was continued until April 30.

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Major Clarence J. Blake, U. S. A., of 1126 Centre st., Newton Centre, was fined $50 by Judge Allen in the Newton court last Friday when he was found guilty of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. On the night of April 7, a car driven by Blake collided at Centre and Walnut st., Newton Highlands, with a car driven by Jacob Goldman of 34 Brentwood ave., Newton Centre. Patrolmen Barr and Stephens of the Newton police were in a cruising car in the yard of a gasoline station next to the intersection when the crash occurred, and witnessed it. They stated that Blake's car was travelling between 40 and 45 miles an hour as it approached the dangerous intersection, and that Goldman's car was in the middle of the intersection when the collision occurred. Goldman's car was turned over three times from the force of the impact. Goldman was knocked unconscious and received injuries which necessitated his removal to the Newton Hospital. Blake, who took an appeal, claimed that Goldman did not stop before entering the intersection from Walnut st. The police and an attendant at the gasoline station testified that Goldman did stop.

Pawned Watch, Gets Jail Term

John Moorhead of 22 Court st., Newtonville, was given a 3 months' sentence in Middlesex County prison last Friday by Judge Weston in the Newton court on a charge of receiving stolen property. Moorhead appealed. On April 28, 1935 a watch was stolen from the Bonnar-Atwood studio at Newtonville. On October 5, 1936, the movement from this stolen watch, in a case other than that in which it had been contained when stolen, was found in a Boston pawnshop by Captain Goode of the Newton police. It had been pawned by a man who gave the name of John Collins. Moorhead was accused by the police as being the man who pawned the watch. Moorhead stated he had bought the watch from a man who had won it by taking a chance on a punchboard in a store.

HOME MODERNIZING & GENERAL BUILDING PAGE

GEORGE P. STUART, Consulting Architect

Perhaps in no other land or time were rough-textured walls and ceilings produced more beautiful and distinctive design than in Spain of the Middle Ages. The palm finishes of the wall and ceiling surfaces in Spanish monasteries, villas, castles and homes then reached such a plane of artistic perfection as to leave every modern decorator forever indebted to those who created them.

The skilled artisans of Spain having been dispersed before the long-continued upheavals to which the country was subject in those times, the monks and retainers themselves performed must undertake the work of building and decorating. They applied the coarse material by hand, and then attempted to pat it into a uniform character of surface. The result is the beautifully irregular and perfectly toned finish we now classify as Spanish.

The same treatment of modern texture finish results in the same broad sweeping, attractive irregularities, and done in this fashion it supplies tapestries, old carved oak, deep leather upholstery and wrought iron fixtures that are as much a part of the Spanish style as the exterior architectural lines themselves. The perfect receptivity of texture plastic materials to color is a further aid to complete merging with the Spanish. The softness of its effects in either neutral tints or vivid and solid colors produces the final illusion of that sincere, unmechanical workmanship, mellowed by the passage of hundreds of years.

This treatment of texture finish is suited to all Spanish-type construction either in new buildings or in the repair and restoration of old walls and ceilings in this effect. It is recommended for hallways, living rooms, dining rooms, etc., of homes on the Spanish order, and for dens, club rooms, entrances and lobbies of other structures in this distinctive style.

Lodges

Questions and Answers

Mr. Stuart will be pleased to answer questions relating to home modernizing and building. Inquiries may be addressed to him c/o Newton Graphic.

The floor of our sun room seems to swell in the summer when there is no heat in the house and in the winter it is springy. What would you suggest doing?

Your sun room undoubtedly has no cellar under it and the dampness from the ground causes the floor to swell. If the floor is getting springy it indicates that the floor framing is beginning to decay and the only thing to do is to put in new timbers. These timbers and the whole under side of floor should be treated with a good wood preservative like Celcure-Sol. Be sure there is an opening from main cellar for ventilation.

What would you suggest doing to top of chimneys so as to prevent mortar from coming out of joints?

The best way to top out a chimney is with a cast stone or cement cap and have it waterproofed. The top should be slightly pitched to shed water and should also project a little to form a drip. Chimneys should be looked after every now and then to avoid serious trouble.

We have a finished room on third floor of a house and would like to install a bathroom. Can you give me some ideas on this?

The first thing to determine is whether the floor framing is strong enough, as it may require reinforcing at that point. Also you may need to build a dormer window for light and air. The location would be better over the second floor bathroom on account of soil pipe etc., but care should be taken not to spoil the appearance of the house with a dormer not properly located. The dormer should be designed first and located as near as possible to plumbing stack. In reinforcing the floor take into account the added weight of a tile floor as you would probably want a sanitary floor of some kind. The heating would want to be extended from a bedroom riser rather than from the bathroom below as it would be better not to interfere with the bathroom radiation.

Beautiful Effects In Etched Glass

Architects and others seeking to create new effects by sandblast treatment on glass, tile, etc., will be interested to know that they no longer need go to New York in order to get service in this particular and highly exacting form of art.

In nearby Quincy, the firm of E. Settimelli and Sons, Inc., is daily producing beautiful effects in etched glass, through the sandblast process. The work covers a wide range and includes ornamental entrances to buildings, building fronts, signs, etc. Prompt service is given in every case. A display is maintained at the Building Arts Exhibit, Edison Building, Boston, and may be viewed at all times.

Planting Hints

NUMBER 6

Flowering Trees and Shrubs

The preparation of soil for shrubs and flowering trees is the same as for evergreens mentioned in article number 2. In planting, dig a hole two or three times the size of the spread of the roots and refill with several inches of loose soil, making a cone-shaped mound, so that when the tree or shrub is placed on top of it, the roots will have a tendency to drop down the side. Then cover the roots with several inches of soil, packing firmly with foot. After hole is two-thirds full of loam fill with water several times, letting it settle each time. Fill the remaining cavity with soil so that the hole is somewhat saucer shaped; water will have a tendency to collect around the shrub instead of running off.

If trees are large and likely to move in wind, they should be braced with guy wires or supported by driving in a stout stake alongside of the stem, and the two tied with hose or rubber to prevent chafing. The tops of deciduous trees and shrubs should be pruned after planting. This means cutting out interfering branches and about one-third of the previous year's growth. Plant about one inch deeper than when in nursery.

In receiving shrubs they should be unpacked promptly and if not possible to plant immediately, lace closely together in a trench and cover over the roots to exclude the air. This "heeling-in" should be done in a cool place out of sun and drying winds. Water thoroughly.

The Vital Element

for the Perfect Roof

When you buy a roof for your new home, or re-roof your present home, three questions will interest you most: Service, Beauty, Cost. And Barber Genasco Asphalt Shingles answer all three.

There's a lifetime of protection built into Barber Genasco Shingles. For they're made with one vital element that man cannot duplicate in uniformity and quality—Nature's own Trinidad Lake Asphalt.

The base of each shingle is select, long-fibered felt, saturated with asphalt. This is then coated with Trinidad Lake Asphalt Cement, and surfaced with a layer of fine mineral granules. Neither rain, snow, sleet nor the parching rays of the sun can penetrate this barrier. And the mineral granules render the shingles "fire-safe."

Barber Genasco Shingles offer a wide range of beautiful, non-fading colors. They offer an initial cost that is low. And they can be easily applied.

TRINIDAD LAKE ASPHALT—
"THE VITAL ELEMENT"

Year-in, year-out, for millions of years, the natural asphalt lake on the southern Caribbean island of Trinidad has felt the fury of tropical tempests, the scorching heat of a year-round summer sun. But even this torturous test has failed to crush the vitality of Trinidad Lake Asphalt. Instead it has been "tempered" to a degree that man-made processes could not achieve.

There's one sure way to have the protection of Trinidad Lake Asphalt on the roof of your house. That is—specify Barber Genasco Roofing Products. They . . . and no others . . . are guaranteed to contain Trinidad—The Vital Element.

The story of Trinidad is fascinating . . . romantic. Mail the coupon above for your FREE copy of the illustrated booklet, "The Wonders of Trinidad."

AND IN INDUSTRY TOO . . . The Barber Company also uses Trinidad Lake Asphalt in a complete line of Barber Genasco Built-up Roofing for factories, stores, hotels and office buildings. The self-healing qualities of Trinidad render these roofings ideal for long service in all climates. Complete specifications are in Barber's Catalog File. Copyright 1937—The Barber Company, Inc.

Annual Meetings;
Other Programs

Newton Federation

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Monday, May 3rd, at the Brae Burn Country Club, luncheon being served at 12:30 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, of Waban, chairman of the Social committee, the members of which committee will assist. The business meeting, including election of officers, and brief reports of committees and officers of achievements of the past year will follow at 2 p. m. Mrs. J. Earle Parker, of Waban, president, whose term of office expires at this time, will preside.

For the afternoon's entertainment, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and her daughter Ann will give the delightful musical program, "Hawaiian Memories", which was one of highlights of the programs for the year of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

A large attendance greeted Mrs. J. Earle Parker at her last executive Board meeting as president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, held at the Newton Library, Monday, April 26th, at 10 a. m.

The treasurer's books showed a balance of $372.89, Miss Elizabeth Bartlett reported.

A letter from Miss Katherine Wilder, chairman of General Practice in the Junior High Schools, expressed appreciation for the Federation's Christmas Seal work, which is assisting education through the schools in tuberculosis prevention.

Annual reports for the May 3rd meeting should be forwarded at once, as follows: Philanthropies, to Mrs. Edgar P. Hay; Associate Organizations, to Mrs. Theron B. Walker; Federation Committees, to Mrs. Gorham W. Harris. Club notices to be given at the Annual Meeting should be presented in writing to Mrs. Ernest F. Drew.

Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, Conservation chairman, outlined plans for ridding Newton of ragweed, considered the plague of hay fever sufferers.

Mrs. William Edgar Birdall, president of the Newton W. C. T. U., announced the efforts of her organization to raise $500 toward a national $1,000,000 for alcohol education. Mrs. Sidney Porter, treasurer, is receiving contributions. The danger of alcoholic drivers is presented Sundays on WHDH at 1:45 o'clock.

Every club was urged to organize work for Co-operation with War Veterans by the Federation chairman, Mrs. David Black. At 10 a. m. on May 6th, the veterans' wing of City Hall will be open for the day, and club members are invited to visit the Memorial and to confer with the Federation committee, which will be there sewing.

A new interest in the Hospital Aid Association was solicited by Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, its president.

A large attendance at the All-Newton Music School's Annual Concert in May would assure Newton people of quality work in music, it was announced.

General discussion followed regarding the Supreme Court problem, a matter which the Legislative chairman will present at the Annual Meeting.

A letter approving any development of the waterfront which would better the health of Newton children received many signatures. This interest grew from the description of a plan of Mr. Frank H. Morton's for a large public development of part of the Charles River bank.

Successful club activities commended by various presidents were: Current Events lectures by Prof. W. L. Sullivan; five-minute talks on current peace problems; supplying people to read aloud to the blind; a bulletin netting a treasury-plum through its advertising; a Christmas party for sixty needy children; a Brides' Pageant, staged by Mrs. Robert Allenham.

Mrs. J. Edgar Hay, a State Federation chairman, suggested that seven State chairmen co-operate in conducting a Public Welfare Conference, if requested to do so by some Newton club.

On May 12th a General committee meeting is called at 10:15 a. m., at the Waban Library, to plan the Sale for the Blind, which will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, May 26th to 28th, inclusive. As England's coronation broadcasts will be heard May 12th at 5:15 a. m. and 2 p. m., the committee meeting at 10:15 will not interfere with listening to the broadcasts.

Announcement of the program for the Annual Meeting on May 3rd was made also. Applause and many expressions of appreciation were extended to Mrs. Parker for her inspiring presidency.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

At their Annual Meeting held last Tuesday, April 27th, the officers elected by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club were: President, Mrs. H. Herbert Hale; first vice-president, Mrs. Preble W. Blake; second vice-president, Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert S. Adams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Allen Camp; treasurer, Mrs. Russell N. Hopkins; auditor, Mrs. J. Irving Wright; directors, Mrs. Robert E. Briggs, Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy, Mrs. H. Augustine Smith, and Mrs. Herbert O. Steeves; directors of the Workshop, Mrs. Raymond B. Anthony, and Mrs. James P. Cooper; and Nominating committee 1938-1939, Mrs. Frederick T. McGill, chairman; and Mrs. George W. Barker, Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe, Mrs. Albert

Newtonville Garden Club

The interest being shown in the restoration of the Governor Christopher Gore estate in Waltham was evidenced by the number of people who, in spite of the storm of last week Thursday, attended the lecture on "The Romance of Gore Place", by Mr. Bradford Williams, the well-known landscape architect.

Mr. Williams spoke of the restoration of the mansion, but more especially of the greater task involved in the restoration of the grounds. He illustrated his talk with lantern slides contrasting pictures of the present condition of the estate with those taken before the land had been cleared of many of its magnificent trees by various owners, one of whom had a small saw-mill on the river; another an aviation landing field, and another a golf course. One could only regret that the estate had not come under the supervision of its present caretakers before such mutilation had been effected.

The slides showing vistas from the mansion and various points about the estate were truly beautiful, and Mr. Williams pointed out how carefully these had been planned in the original design of the grounds. Christopher Gore's eight-year residence in England on a mission for the United States government is no doubt responsible for the choice of informal grouping of trees as was the vogue there at that time. The formal garden, the design of which can be traced easily, is of a much later period than that in which Christopher Gore lived, and it has not been decided whether this garden should or should not be restored. However, the public may be sure that the restoration is being done by persons fully qualified to make the Gore Place a shrine of interest to historians, horticulturists, architects, and all people who appreciate beauty.

The house and grounds which are located on Main street, in Waltham, at the Watertown line, are open to the public, a nominal fee being charged.

The lecture was sponsored by the Newtonville Garden Club and was held in the Club House of the Newtonville Woman's Club.

Clubs Elect Officers

West Newton Community Service Club

On Wednesday, April 21st, the Community Service Club of West Newton brought to a close a very successful year with its Annual Meeting held at the Second Church. Under the direction of Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. The president, Mrs. George S. Fuller, opened the business meeting at 2 o'clock, and the secretary, Mrs. Katherine Esson, gave a summary of the activities of the various committees during the past year. Two outstanding achievements of the Club during Mrs. Fuller's presidency have been the establishment of a Scholarship Fund and a Sinking Fund.

By unanimous vote the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. H. C. Scranton; vice-presidents, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, Mrs. Benjamin G. Rae, Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, Mrs. Albert C. Blum, Jr., Mrs. Walter S. Rallsback, and Mrs. Kenneth C. Tiffin; treasurer, Miss M. Elizabeth Kilburn; recording secretary, Mrs. Katherine Esson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clarence O. Dales; clerk, Mrs. Harry S. Baldwin; auditor, Miss Edith B. Wadsworth; Federation delegates, Miss Ethel Wilberby, Mrs. William L. Hall, and Miss Eleanor P. Hall; Nominating committee, Mrs. Quincy W. Wales, Mrs. A. Dudley Bach, Mrs. Francis W. Doane, Mrs. Edward W. Pride, and Mrs. Kenneth Eldridge.

The new president, Mrs. Scranton, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Alice Howland Macomber, who told in a vivacious manner of her adventures overseas at Bermuda, as she walked over the bed of the ocean, sixty feet under water, wearing a bathing suit and a diver's helmet. Incidentally she described and showed the various conveyances she had used in different quarters of the earth, ranging from the Jinkisha in Japan to the dog-sled in Alaska. The beautifully-colored slides were interpreted by Mrs. Macomber with excellent enunciation in such a vivid way that her audience was made to feel as if they had shared her adventures.

Mrs. Scranton bespoke the co-operation of all members during the coming year in bringing the meeting to a close.

The business men of Newton again have shown their keen interest in community affairs by supporting generously the Annual Glee Club Night. The community spirit and good will extended is evidence that the Glee Club has won many friends by the splendid entertainments it has offered during its five seasons.

This year's May Festival will end the activity of another busy year. It is to be held on Friday evening, May 14th, at the Warren Junior High School. After the program there will be dancing from 8 until 12 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph Albee, Telephone, West Newton 1412, or from Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, West Newton 0137-M.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club held its Annual business Meeting, Luncheon, and election of officers on Friday, April 23rd, at the Brae Burn Country Club, at 1 o'clock. Seated at the attractively-decorated head table were Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, vice-president of the Newton Federation; Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, Mrs. Walter P. Beedle, all past presidents; Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, principal of The Misses Allen School; Mrs. John E. Kimball, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. John Shade Franklin, president; Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, first vice-president; Mrs. D. Webster Anders, second vice-president; Mrs. George H. Jackson, recording secretary; Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent, treasurer; Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, auditor; Miss Elizabeth Campbell, newly-elected, president of the West Newton Juniors; and Mrs. Ella Mason, oldest honorary member.

The afternoon's entertainment by the Beacon Hill Artists was given immediately following the luncheon, in order that the guest of honor, Mrs. Kimball, might enjoy their program before she had to leave to fulfill another engagement. Bert Lumpkin, soloist, sang several pleasing numbers, accompanied by Marjorie Adams, and then he and Miss Adams, assisted by Caroline Smith, presented an amusing one-act play, entitled "His First Love."

Following greetings by Mrs. Kimball from the State Federation, Miss Lucy Allen, another honored guest, whose mother, with Mrs. Electa N. Walton, founded the West Newton Women's Educational Club 57 years ago, spoke briefly, saying that when she retired she hoped the Club would use her school building for a Club House.

Annual reports then were heard from the officers, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. McCrudden, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Dort, and also from Mrs. Percival Waters, Scholarship chairman.

Miss Elizabeth Campbell, president of the Juniors, brought an invitation from her Club to the Seniors to attend any or all of their meetings. Mrs. Franklin responded to her gracious message by extending the same invitation to the Juniors to attend the Senior Club meetings.

Next came reports from the following chairmen of the various Standing and Special committees: Mrs. Louis A. Myers, Fine Arts; Mrs. Herbert C. Mayer, Education; Mrs. Chauncey A. Stimts, American Home; read by Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren; Mrs. Herman R. Place, American Citizenship; Public Welfare, Mrs. June Chipman, who announced an All-day Sewing Bee on May 4th, beginning at 10:30 a. m. (Continued on Page 8)

NEWTON ATHLETES STAR IN NEW ENGLAND RELAYS

Newton High athletes won impressive victories in the special 100-yard dash and the distance medley relay last Saturday at the Harvard Stadium in the first running of the New England Relays. Before a gathering of perhaps two thousand spectators, entries from 13 colleges and 22 high schools inaugurated what may very likely become the most popular spring track gathering in this part of the country. The chill in the air may have slowed down performances a little and kept the crowd small, but the meet program was a refreshing change from the stereotyped track meets of the last few years.

Newton placed three sprinters in the special 100-yard dash final, and Paul Forte nosed out Ed Dugger of Medford in 10.4, keeping his record clean. Frank Hines and Don McKinnon, who had won their trial heats and placed in the semi-finals, placed fourth and fifth in the final, trailing Bob Cravedi of Worcester North.

In the distance medley, Newton won something of a surprise victory in a field of fourteen teams. Joe Gallant ran the three-quarter leg, Jerry Allen the quarter, Bill Kelly the half-mile and Basil Babcock the mile. Gallant was sixth for two laps, then closed in to second place with a strong finish. Jerry Allen ran a very good 440, making up ten yards or more on the leader, a Cranston High runner, and giving Bill Kelly a good start. Kelly overtook Al Pansar of Cranston on the first lap and opened up a tenyard lead in the second. Basil Babcock waded into his mile, increased his lead to fifteen yards at the half and twenty at the three-quarter mark, and staved off the opposition with a fine strong finish. The time was 11m 11s. It was a great personal triumph for Babcock to run a front race all the way, since his confidence had been shaken by several indifferent races during the board track season.

Don Enoch did not enter a shuttle relay team in the meet, and the first running of the event by high school teams hereabouts found Lowell, Worcester North and Medford best in that order, although Lowell was disqualified. Newton's sprint medley relay team was slightly outclassed in the large field, taking fourth behind Medford, English and Worcester Commerce. Elmer Ross was third on the 440 leg, Jerry Allen fourth at 660 yards, and Bud Hines and Paul Forte gained fifteen or twenty yards between them as they divided the last 220, without pulling Newton into the scoring. Taken as a whole, however, the meet was a very encouraging triumph for a Newton team that had little or no running under its belt during the last week, and it looks like a fairly bright outdoor season.

Baseball

Newton High plays two Suburban League games next week, taking on Cambridge Latin Tuesday at Newtonville and Rindge Tech on Friday at Russell Field, Cambridge. Rain cancelled the proposed practice game with Harvard seconds scheduled for last week, and the Newton Independents failed to appear as such on Saturday, although a good practice game was played against a pickup team. Phil Green and Guido Castoldi were opposing pitchers, and each gave only four hits, while the high school infield came through with three double plays.

Tennis

Newton High tennis team defeated Milton Academy 6-3 last Saturday at Milton. Newton won the first three singles matches and swept the doubles. Albert Everts, sophomore No. 1 player, led Newton with a 6-3, 6-1 defeat of Bartlett. Don Manchester won from Field of Milton 7-5, 6-1, and Art Pearson won from MacKenzie 6-2, 6-4. Milton took three singles points when Nolan beat Les Lowery 6-2, 6-2, Bannister beat Mosher 6-3, 6-1, and Jackson beat Robinson 6-1, 5-7, 6-4. Manchester and Lowery paired to win their doubles match from Nolan and Bannister 6-3, 6-1, but both the other doubles went to three sets. Pearson, Lowery outlasted Nolan-Bartlett 6-3, 9-11, 13-11 and Mosher-Robinson defeated Field-Jackson 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Wednesday's suburban league baseball opener between Newton and Arlington at Newtonville was rained out Wednesday and postponed to yesterday. Today Newton has another league game with Waltham, also at Newtonville. Jeff Jones made the final batting order as follows: Clarence Cormier, rf; Clarence Dangelo, 2b; Walter Maguire, cf; Nino Coletti, lf; Stan Gruber, 1b; Shordone, 3b; Bert Marrazzo, ss; Joe Palmeri, c; Guido Castoldi, p. Reserve varsity men are Len LeSourd, 2b; John Fitzgerald, ss; John Martin, c or 3b; Bob McHugh, c; Termino D'Engenio, 1b; and pitchers John "Mayor" Fitzgerald, Ed Paul, Chet Newey, Ernie Colantonio, Harry Bradford and Callahan. The latter, a left-handed thrower, is Jones' most promising sophomore pitcher. Of the first nine, five boys played for the Nonantum Pals, junior champions of the Newton Twp league last summer, and they form an excellent backbone for the team. These are sophomores Dangelo and Coletti, both from F. A. Day junior high, Cormier, Shordone and Palmeri.

Track

Newton High's track team has a better-than-even chance of crashing through with another interscholastic victory in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute's annual games tomorrow. This has always been a good meet for Newton, and they are defending champions again this year. In the 100 and 220-yard dashes, Don Enoch will rely on Paul Forte, state champion, and Bud Hines, adding possibly Jerry Allen and Bob Mather in the longer sprint. In the 440, he has Allen, Mather and Elmer Ross, and in the 880, Mickey Cortell and Bill Kelly. Ross may also run the 880, where his entry, like those of Allen and Mather, will be decided just before the meet. Basil Babcock and Joe Gallant are entered in the mile.

In his first outdoor competition for Newton, Bill "Smitty" Pescosolido will try the broad jump and high jump. Don McKinnon and Paul Forte are broad jump entries, and Mark Messier and John Callahan will support Pesky in the high jump. Fitchet, Evans and Walsh are entered in the discus and shotput.

Don Enoch is not concerned about Newton's chances in the Worcester games, and thinks that the boys will come through. He was very pleased with their showing at Harvard Stadium last week, particularly with the running of Bill Kelly and Basil Babcock in the distance medley relay. Kelly ran a very fast 880-yard leg, and Babcock, who had never before run the mile, judged the distance beautifully and was instrumental in giving Newton a good margin over several fast teams.

Newton Highlights

C. R. "Johnny" Frazier of Newtonville, playing in the Bowdoin field, got three hits in four times at bat in the game with Colby last Saturday, won by Colby 6-3. The tennis courts at Newton High, opened Monday, proved a great disappointment, digging up very quickly at the baselines. They are never as well conditioned as the Burr or Newton Centre playground courts, possibly because they don't drain as readily and have a very low clay content. Warren Huston is starting his last year of college baseball, and we expect to see him in professional baseball before the summer is far gone. Brad Dyer of Auburndale is pitching for the Northeastern University team. Don Enoch predicts the best track meet of the school year for Dickinson Stadium a week from today when Newton engages Lowell, Brockton and Medford in a quadrangular affair. With Watson, Mallory and Montgomery of Brockton, Cal Twomey and Ed Dugger of Medford, Ed Murphy and Carmen Bova of Lowell, Newton will have testing opposition.

The Newton Catholic Club, a new entry in the Suburban Baseball League, will play its first home game next Sunday with the Norwood Town Team at West Newton Common. The Norwood team is managed by Marty Callaghan, the old Cincinnati outfielder. John Shono Collins will coach the Catholic Club.

LEADING THE WORLD IN THE FINE CAR FIELD

AMERICA IS BUYING almost as many Cadillac-Fleetwoods as all other fine cars put together! It is the greatest public approval ever won by a builder in the quality field.

The reason for this is obvious. Cadillac has refused to lower its standards in order to enter a lower-price range. Both its engineering and its manufacturing are still the finest it is possible to attain.

One ride will show you what this means in terms of a better automobile. In performance, in beauty, in comfort, and in its general quality and luxury—Cadillac-Fleetwood stands completely alone. Why not come in today for a demonstration?
